

extended to many large Volumes by loose Printing, &c. and published by mercenary Persons, (though ill executed in the Letter-Press particularly) would cost a Purchaser the enormous Sum of upwards of Twenty Guineas; so that many Thousands of Persons who would wish to peruse the valuable Discoveries so partially communicated to the World, and view the astonishing fine Copper-Plates, have hitherto been excluded from gratifying their eager Curiosity; but THIS EDITION is published in only Eighty Numbers at 6d. each, making when completed either One or Two Large Handsome Volumes in Folio: to effect which very desirable End, Recourse will be had to large new Types, constructed on Purpose to comprise much Matter in a little Compass; so that by this Means, and by our adhering to a close though elegant Mode of Printing, we shall be enabled to present to the Public at an easy Rate, and in a small but sufficient Compass, more than what others have (to enrich private Individuals) extended and spun out by loose Printing, blank Paper, and other sinister Artifices, to the Bulk of many large Volumes, originally fixed at a very high Rate, and by the selfish Manœuvres of Monopolizers now advanced to a most extravagant Price; whereby the original Intention of Government, (that the Improvements and Discoveries in these celebrated Voyages might be communicated to the Public, (at whose Expence they were not only performed, but also printed and published) has been hitherto in a great Measure defeated. However, by the Publication of this Genuine and COMPLETE COLLECTION of the Whole of Captain COOK'S VOYAGES, &c. in LARGE FOLIO, all Ranks of Persons whatever may be accommodated, and the Public Curiosity, so naturally excited by the Report of such EXTRAORDINARY VOYAGES and DISCOVERIES, will be immediately and cheaply gratified.—The Poor as well as the Rich will thus become familiarly acquainted with these extraordinary and important Voyages and Discoveries, in the Performance and Prosecution of which such vast Sums of the Public Money have been expended. So that as the Price of THIS WORK is rendered so very moderate and easy, the Whole of Captain Cook's Voyages will be more universally read, and the obvious Intention of the King and Government that the Improvements and Discoveries in these celebrated Voyages might be communicated to the whole World will of course be more fully answered.

To the Whole Discoveries and Voyages of CAPTAIN COOK, we mean to add complete and genuine Narratives of other Voyages of Discovery round the World, &c. undertaken, performed, and written by English Circumnavigators, &c. under the Sanction of Government; viz. those of Lord Byron, Capt. Wallis, Capt. Carteret, Lord Mulgrave, Lord Anson, Mr. Parkinson, Capt. Lutwidge, Mess. Ives, Middleton, Smith, Moore, &c. &c. Including likewise, a faithful Relation of the Substance of all the most remarkable and important Travels and Journeys, which have been undertaken at various Times to the different Quarters of the World, particularly those of Hanway, Hamilton, Herbert, Drummond, Pocock, Shaw, Stuart, Kalm, Carver, Dalrymple, Burnet, Addison, Barretti, Keyller, Thicknes, Twiss, Brydone, Chandler, Johnson, Smollet, Moore, Wraxall, &c. It has of late become a Mode too common to other periodical Publications into the World with a good Appearance at first; and, in the Course of their Execution, to fall off from their original Perfection; so that, when concluded, they cannot, properly speaking, for want of Uniformity, be deemed finished. That such Defects will not be the Case in THIS WORK, the Publisher assures the Public, that the latter Numbers will be equal in Goodness with the former; and that the Whole shall be finished in so regular, complete, uniform, and elegant a Manner, as to answer the Wishes both of the Publisher and Readers, by doing Credit to the one, and giving Satisfaction to the other.
