

SECTION VII—Formulae—questions at ordination of ministers,—for licensing of students,—for ordination of Elders and Deacons,—Formula to be signed by Office-bearers. Pages 19-22.

CHAPTER II.

REFERENCES, APPEALS, COMPLAINTS, PETITIONS, DISSENTS, AND OVERTURES.

SECTION I—References—for advice,—simpliciter,—commissioners to state reference,—for good cause,—dissents,—who may dissent,—reasons,—mere dissentient no right of appearance,—protests and appeals,—dissents and complaints,—extracts to be granted,—when protests and complaints sist procedure,—reasons, when to be lodged,—answers to reasons, members dissenting take no part in preparing,—parties, who, and how heard,—decision,—case dismissed or sustained,—absence of parties,—petitions, by whom,—how transmitted,—overtures, what and how originated,—Barrier Act
Pages 22-27.

CHAPTER III.

ON THE FORMATION OF CONGREGATIONS, THE RIGHTS OF CHURCH MEMBERS, AND MANAGEMENT OF CONGREGATIONAL AFFAIRS.

SECTION I.—Formation of Congregations.—Who may apply,—neighbouring sessions informed,—Presbytery makes inquiry,—constitutes a church,—Elders to be elected and ordained,—Trust Deed or constitution,—new places of worship, Presbytery consulted about ..... Pages 28-29.

SECTION II.—Rights of Members.—Who are members,—how admitted,—qualifications,—rights to ordinances, and to vote at meetings, access to courts of the church,—disjunctions by whom and when granted,—how certificates are to be received,—sessions to consult one another about restoration of members to fellowship.... Pages 29-32.

SECTION III.—Congregational affairs.—Meetings, various kinds of, and how appointed,—president and officers,—precentor, qualifications of, and how chosen,—financial concerns, importance of,—title deeds and trustees,—Deacons' court, duties of,—rules for regulating congregational affairs,—to be sanctioned by the presbytery,—members not to seek redress in civil courts,—may complain if dissatisfied with any proceeding to the presbytery,—stipend of minister,—duty of members to contribute liberally,—stipend not to be reduced without consulting presbytery,—the presbytery may inquire into arrears, and see that stipend is paid..... Pages 32-38.