

GREAT SLAUGHTER IN BATTLE OF LIEGE

Germans Said to Have Lost
Twenty-Five Thousand
Men.

AN ARMISTICE IS ASKED

After Many Buildings Were
Demolished, Last Attack
Failed.

Canadian Press Despatch.
BRUSSELS, August 7.—Germany has already lost 25,000 men in killed and wounded at Liege. The Belgian defence is unweakened and the forts unattacked. It is officially announced that Germany has asked for a 24-hour armistice to bury her dead. This is the startling news to King Albert by the Belgian commander.

When the siege guns had demolished many of the buildings at Liege, another assault in force was attempted. Like the others, it again failed and the German soldiers were driven back completely crushed.

The defenders of the town made a show of evacuating the outer fortifications. The Germans accepted the retirement as genuine and a large force pressed forward. Immediately they entered the circle of the fortifications, however, the Belgians, whose manoeuvre had been an artifice, poured a deadly artillery fire on the invaders.

Caught in a trap the Germans fought fiercely, but almost the entire force was annihilated. The Belgians captured 27 field pieces in the rout of the Germans. The invading forces lost the temporary advantage of position they had gained in two days fighting.

An all night artillery bombardment from the mortar batteries was kept up inflicting much damage to the forts. The entire front is covered with German dead and wounded, but accurate estimates of the German losses are as yet impossible.

Not a single fort has fallen into the hands of the Germans.

Several German howitzers have been placed in position near Huy, and large German forces are lying in wait on the other side of the frontier.

An attack on the village of Cornesse was repulsed by the Belgians. Six Germans, pretending to be English, made their way to the governor's palace. They were killed.

The German army were active today. One of the city and dropped bombs, both in the city itself and on the forts. Three bombs landed in a crowd in the Square d'Arroy, killing seventeen persons and wounding at least that number. Belgian airmen arose from Fort Fleron and went in pursuit, but the aviator reached the German lines in safety.

The German artillery now has the range at Liege, with the result that many have started. The Palace of Justice and the magnificent cathedral of St. Paul are among the structures already badly damaged.

The German shell fire has been deadly and accurate. A good part of Liege, including some historic structures, has been destroyed.

GERMAN STEAMERS READY FOR DASH

Vaterland and Barbarossa Prepared to Make a Rush to Sea.

COAL IS CONTRABAND

U. S. Battleship Florida is Prepared to Stop Departure.

Special to The Toronto World.
NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—With steam up, her officers at their quarters and an enormous supply of coal aboard, the huge Vaterland of the Hamburg-American Line lies at her Hoboken dock apparently ready to make a dash for the sea at any moment. A short distance away also lies the Barbarossa of the North German Lloyd Line in the same state of preparedness, even her staterooms being filled with coal sewn up in canvas sacks.

Both steamers, it is known to the authorities, have been ready to put to sea for the last 24 hours, and the delay in their departure has been caused by the lack of the necessary clearance papers. While the officers admit they have more coal on board than the steamers ordinarily require for the passage across the Atlantic, they claim that it is for their consumption in case either vessel finds it necessary to depart from the regular course in the event of being chased by hostile ships.

Coal, according to the announcement made by Great Britain, is contraband of war, and the United States authorities are aware of the fact that somewhere off Sandy Hook are two German cruisers lying in need of coal and far from their base of supplies. This fact, it is believed, is responsible for the presence in the lower bay of the United States battleship Florida in order to prevent any violation of the neutrality laws of the United States.
