City Laborers' Wages. Ald. Birds' proposal that the minimum wage of city laborers be increased from 20 cents an hour to 25 cents was passed on to the board of control.

Ald. Bird contends that the wage the city laborers receive at present is not sufficient for them to live on, and give their children educations.

Controller Alian called the attention of the committee to the lack of heat. Controller Alian called the attention of the committee to the lack of heating and lighting facilities in the board of works' workshop. The place was built with the original intention of having it heated with steam, but the matter has been neglected from year to year, and the place, is now, according to the controller, being heated with seven small stoves, while one workman has to depend on a bucket of burning coke for heat to work by. The deficiency will be remedied.
