There was no important news on Spanish merican situation to-day; but opinions of ading Washington legislators are more igubrious that at any time since the present strained relations with Spain have isted. Conservative senators who have rectofore believed and so expressed themwes that war could and would be avert by diplomacy now say they see no back or through which either country can rest with honor. This fact has further rected investment as well as speculative chases to-day and at the same time led coluntary liquidation by houses which clung to bull side all along on the that there would be no war. The pressof this liquidation was apparent to-and it continued in evidence up to the and resulted in feverish and weak et and caused general declines all We do not think operations to-day thened the market.

Wall-street Stocks Take Another Startling Slump way Earnings-Market Quotations and Friday Evening, March 25.

Those who thought that Wall-street had touched bottom prices were disappointed to-day, when on advices from Washington regarding the Spanish difficulty active stocks took a further decided slump. Some of the day's declines were startling in extent, amounting to over 5 per cent, in Metropolitan Street Railway and Consolidated Gas, about 4 per cent, in Sugar and Manhattan and over 1 per cent, in People's Gas, New York Central and Pennsylvania. The President and Cabinet had the Maine report under consideration and it is understood on rising sabled the court's finding to U.S. Minister Woodford at Madrid. The reports as to the results of the Cabinet session are conflicting. One is to the effect that McKinley will intervene and another says that an endeavor will be unade to bring the Spanish and American findings as to the Maine disaster into accord. Meantime France is said to have sent a message to the United States Government protesting against interference. Official announcements are anxiously awaited.

* American securities were somewhat weaker in London to-day.

As for the Canadam Exchanges both showed marked weakness in the morning, recovering somewhat before the close. Commercian Gable, Canadian Pacifics and Street Railways were the chief sufferers.

Now and then one would strail, endeavor to rise, then sin the wet, hard ice, with a dying a groan of agony. No pen can naving sufferings of those on the face of the lee, while scious men were lying around and those still able to move willing to keep life in their bodies. The Greenland was not long the drifting ice and hurried to Then the sad work of picking u and half-dead victims begantask that occupied several beventually all the bodies of the the scarcely animate bodies of were picked of the ice. The stern labets of the ice. The stern labets of the ice, and harded the scarcely animate bodies of were picked of the ice. The stern labets of the ice. The latest reports state that no today.

The latest reports state that no today their lives, while 70 me sailors are terribly injured by the exposure. The limbs of number of these have been so frozen that amputation of scorand arms will be necessary. So men were frozen in all parts of and in the face, seas. Walter Baine Grive, own Greenland, gives the following concerning the disaster:

"My opinion is that the Gree with the misfortune on Monday day night a heavy gale raged all atlantic seaboard of the island, a the northern latitude where the was craising Monday forenos frozen solidly in the floe, she sen out on the ice, perhaps 10 or 28 search of seals. The crews a divided into three watches or Her whole crew being 210, she 60 men in each watch, 30 remain the officers, engineers, stewards hands. Each watch carries a band a kettle for boiling tea.

"When the storm arose the tered over the floe in parties three, probably tried to make flay beilef is that the first w started worked farthest away frand is the watch which lost the Only the master of the watch a compass. The crew was unallim any more than the shipt drifts blinding their sight durin and feared to move about bees step might send them through the ice into the ocean, probabl them, The men, fearing to me meath the shelter of fee humm many were overcome by intens perished. Others were smother beneath snowdrifts, being unal tain sufficient vital energy to life.
