PREPARING FOR A HOT TIME.
Electric Fans Are Being Placed in the Legislative Chamber Ready for Next Week.

Preparation is being made at the Parli-ment Buildings for the coming session.
The walls are receiving extra dustings and every pane of glass presents a gleaming appearance. The alterations in the chamber will be concluded in four or five days.

Evidently the opinion is general that the coming session will be a warm one, for eight electric fans will be so placed in the chamber as to afford the best results.
There will be two placed in the press gallery behind Mr. Speaker's throne, which will start a draught, and the rest will be so placed as to make the draught continuously circulating. A fan is also being placed in the huge ventilator, and ice water will be fed.

KING STREET, OPP. THE POSTOFFICE

THE SIEGE OF HAVANA.

Resume of Military History—The Conditions Now as Compared With Those in 1902.

N.Y. Commercial Advertiser.
Although the capture of Havana has been left for the last, no doubt an American army will have to besiege the capital of Cuba before the war is over. The wisdom of leaving it till the last, and occupying the time until the rainy season is past, in reducing Porto Rico, is not doubted by any one. But a striking confirmation of the wisdom is afforded by the experience of the English army that took Havana in 1902.

An interesting resume of the military history of the expedition is contributed by Col. John A. Dyer, of the British Army, to The Nineteenth Century, from which we learn that there were several curious coincidences between that expedition and the present war in Cuba.

Reorganizing all allowances for the modern improvements which distinguish the fortifications of Havana to-day from those of 1902, it is, nevertheless, interesting to see how similar they are in their general outline. Morro Castle was then, as now, the main defence of the city. It was then, as now, inaccessible from the sea.
It was strongly secured on the land side and the siege, which lasted from June 4 to July 20, was practically occupied entirely with the reduction of Morro Castle.

The expedition, which was under the command of Admiral Sir George Boscawen and General the Earl of Albemarle, comprised an army of 10,000 men and 20 sail of the line, with an equal number of smaller warships. Arriving off Havana in June, 1902, the fleet found a Spanish fleet within Havana Harbor, where it stayed like Admiral Cervera in Santiago, and, unlike Ser-vera, never attempted to come out. Not only did the Spanish fleet not come out of the harbor, but the Spaniards sank three ships within a boom at the mouth of the harbor entrance, differing from Ho-bson's sinking of the Merrimack in its purpose.
These ships sank to keep the enemy from getting in, instead of to keep the be-liegemed fleet from getting out.

Lord Albemarle recognized the need of energy, as the rainy season was about beginning, and began disembarking before he had been near Havana 24 hours. He landed his main body a few miles to the eastward of Morro Castle, at a place where the Spaniards had recently erected earthworks and mounted cannon as if to guard against a similar landing. When the whole army was safely on shore at this point, heights were seized, from which Morro Castle could be commanded. Then the siege began in earnest, and a protracted, arduous siege it was, attended by fever, cold and suffering. The ground was so rocky and the soil so scanty that the army was put to great straits for the means of making roads and raising earthworks. The batteries were constructed slowly, and with great difficulty, and it was a long and tedious task to drag the guns and at one time 3000 sailors and 400 soldiers were prostrated. The fleet was anchored in an exposed spot off a rocky coast, daily exposed to the hurricane season to break up the Spanish fleet, and the Spaniards made it. The Spaniards made a bold defence and occasionally took the offensive with success. The ships took part in the campaign against Morro, but without those at Santiago, the batteries being too high to afford the ships a good plunging and the ships, exactly as Admiral Samp-son's fleet did at Santiago, the Spaniards apprehended his ships after the fashion of the Spanish fleet.

Finally, however, and some of them defeating the English had drawn down those at Morro's frowning ramparts. The English began to bombard the city, and as to admit only one man at a time, the English swarmed through it, and, after a murderous hand-to-hand combat, captured the city. Its capture determined the fate of the city. When the guns of the fort were turned upon the town it fell, after three days' bombardment. The British lost 4700 men from sickness. As the anti-forts of the country around Havana were not as strong as in 1902, were now probably worse than in 1902, this fact alone is significant as to the perils to be avoided in besieging Havana.

BLAZE AT PUGWASH.
Fought the Fire Hand-to-Hand
With Buckets.

Halifax, July 25.—The Amherst fire engine, in charge of a large force of men, has gone to Pugwash by special train. The fire has started in Brown's brick warehouse. This, with Brown's store, the American Hotel, Baptist Church and the American Hotel, are in ashes. James Elliott's, H. T. Elliott's, Joseph Clarke's, Mrs. Clark's, Mr. W. L. Lorne's, Rufus Clark's, Lewis Brown's, Mrs. Power's, the Railway Station. No effort is being made to save the station. There is no fire protection, and the fire is a hand to hand fight with buckets.

At 4 p.m. the fire was reported to be under control. The telephone and telegraph offices at Pugwash are not working.
Some money was paid for the insurance rates at Pugwash were advanced considerably, resulting in many policies there being cancelled.

POLITICAL POINTS.
No Election Trial Can Take Place
While the House is in Session.

Some interesting points have come up in the political arena. The latest is that the House is in session. The House is in session.
The House is in session. The House is in session.

Hence Mr. Hartley introduced a bill to legalize the trial of election petitions during the long adjournment.

The Government is bent upon securing an adjournment rather than a prorogation, and will pass a law to have the election trials pulled off no matter how long the adjournment may last.

The members are coming to the session on August 3, intent upon getting the session all allowance of 8000 apiece.

This fact may result in a longer session than Premier Haultain has mentioned in his latest speech to the public.

MRS. TRATO ARRESTED
Because She Went and Kicked Up a Row With a Berlin Woman.

Berlin, Ont., July 25.—Another chapter in the Trato affair was heard before the Police Magistrate this morning. On arrival from Chicago, Mrs. Trato went to the house of Mrs. Tefft, where she learnt her husband was stopping, and it is learned that while there the two women had quite a war of words, even if nothing more serious, resulting in Mrs. Tefft having Mrs.
Trato arrested for trespass and using insulting language. The magistrate found the woman guilty and imposed a fine of $1 and costs. Mrs. Trato has earned considerable sympathy, and seems to be quite a respectable person.

Remedy for Sore Throat.
This is just where Griffith's Menthol Lincture is so very valuable. Apply it to the throat and chest when going to bed, and the soreness and inflammation will be come immediately relieved. No other lin-cture has ever given such universal satisfaction as this remedy. Sold by all druggists 25c.

Election Protest Dropped.
The protest against Dr. John Barr, Conservative member-elect for Dufferin, has been withdrawn because the petitioner was unable to procure evidence to sustain his petition. Dr. Barr's opponent, J. D. Barr, William Dwyer also fails.

July Activity. July is the money-losing month of the year. Don't misunderstand us. Not everything is sold at a loss to us, but vast quantities of merchandise are turned into money, and into less money than it will take to replace the goods.

The pruned tree is a smaller tree, but a better one. So with pruned stocks. And the healthy store—helpful to itself and to you—is the store that does not shrink from money losing at the right times. Nothing vanishes—the money that we lose is found by you. I you would get your share of it please note carefully what we offer for ten hours—from eight to six on Wednesday.

Black Dress Goods
You cannot blame us for taking a pride in our Black Dress Goods section. Conditions justify it.
Like other departments price is a big lever this week:

LAST DAYS AT BISLEY.
First Place in All-Comers' Agreement and The Barlow Secured

Bisley Camp, July 25.—(Telegram Cable) Sergeant Boardman, 5th Batt., shooting Saturday for the All-Comers' Aggregate, succeeded in carrying off the first prize.
The prizes in this match are awarded to the competitors whose respective scores in the Daily Graphic make up the highest aggregate. First prize, Challenge Cup, value £20 and £20, one of £10, eight of £5, total of £85, eighty of £2.

Sergeant Simpson, 10th Batt., secured first place in the Barlow, awarded to the competitor making the highest aggregate score in the Alexander Martin, Armourers and Turnbourn. The prize is the G.P.R. truck, B.A.A. won 100 shillings, Capt. Hutchison, 4th Batt., 60 shillings, and Sergeant Am-strong, 10th Batt., 40 shillings. Col-Sergeant Bair, 5th Batt., and Lieut. Ross, 13th Batt., each won 20 shillings.

DEATH WAS INSTANTANEOUS.
Struck by Grand Trunk Express and Thrown Against a Fence.

Thamesville, Ont., July 25.—A terrible fatality occurred at 3.20 this morning, by which a young man by the name of Hurt, living about four miles from this place, was instantly killed. He was standing calmly waiting for the G.T.E. train, apparently watching a west-bound freight, when the G.T.E. express, running at a high rate of speed, came down upon him. He must not have been aware of its approach, as he never moved. The first coach struck him on the left side of his face, tearing his head in two and scattering his brains on the fence and ground. His body was thrown from the fence and death was instantaneous.
The coroner has ordered an inquest to be held and has notified his parents.

The People Eat Preserves.
The Galt Reporter has been hunting up information in regard to fruit preserving, and has given out the following estimates for that year: "Some 20,000 glass sealers arrive every year. Distributed among 1800 houses gives an average of 11 to each house. Taking into consideration the stock each household has on hand, besides this, and the figures run up to 20,000. If all these jars were placed close together and hung on the trolley wire, it would take the length of the entire road from the termini at Galt and Hespler, to contain them all, while, if they were laid end to end, they would reach from Galt, along the Stone Road, to Berlin." When that many jars are used in Galt, one can imagine what will be required for the householders of the Queen City.

Farmer Commits Suicide.
Tottenham, Ont., July 25.—James Agnew, an unmarried man, aged 26 years, who recently bought a fine farm in Allion Township, committed suicide on Saturday. Deceased went about trying to get some one to help him cut his grain. On his way back he called at his mother's and she made him a cup of tea.
He started for home. A few hours afterwards a younger brother found him hanging in an outbuilding dead.

Notes From Winnipeg.
Winnipeg, July 25.—Hon. Clifford Sifton says he has no advice as to the probable solid output of the Yukon. He expects Mr.
Ogilvie here before the 30th inst.
D. C. Fraser, M. P., is at Hat Perage.
The presumption is that he is seeing Clifford Sifton, who left this morning for the eastern tour.

Mr. Frost, M.P., of Smith's Falls, is in the city; he will remain here for a week.

Well-Dressed Robber.
Stittville, Ont., July 25.—Another robbery occurred here early on Sunday morning. Mac O'Brien, night operator at the C.P.R. station, was held up by two masked men, who demanded the safe to be opened. O'Brien did not know the combination, and the robbers secured very little for their trouble. One kept O'Brien covered with his revolver all the time while the other went through his pockets and the office desk. They were both stylishly dressed.

Got $5000 From G. T. R.
R. F. Becknell, Nanaimo, a cattle dealer, was injured in a Grand Trunk Railway smash-up about a year ago. He sued for $200,000. He has just got judgment for $5000 and costs. Mr. Becknell was seen by The World the other day, and though able to pursue his accustomed vocation, yet will never again be a sound man physically.

Railroad Struck by Lightning.
Victoria, Ont., July 25.—Samuel Pickett, agent for the G.T.R. and G.N.Y. at this place, was struck by lightning and seriously injured here this morning.
