THANKFUL TO MRS. PINKHAM

Letters Proving Positively that there is No Medicine for Woman's Ills Equal to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

(ALL LETTERS ARE PUBLISHED BY SPECIAL PERMISSION.)

"I cannot say enough in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound It has done me more good than all the doctors. I have been troubled with female weakness in its worst form for about ten years. I had leucorrhoea female weakness in its worst form for about ten years. I had leucorrhoea and was so weak that I could not do my housework.

I also had falling of the womb and inflammation of the womb and ovaries, and at menstrual periods I suffered terribly. At times my back would ache very hard. I could not lift anything or do any heavy work; was not able to stand on my feet long at a time. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for doctors but they did me no good. My husband's sister wrote what the Vegetable Compound had done for her, and wanted me to try it, but I did not then think it would do me any good. After a time, I concluded to try it, and I can truly say it does all that is claimed for it. Ten bottles of the Vegetable Comand seven packages of Sanative Wash have made a new woman of me, I have had no womb trouble since taking the fifth bottle. I weigh more than I have in years; can do all my own housework, sleep well, have a good appetite, and now feel that life is worth living. I owe all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel that it has saved my life and would not be without it for anything. I am always glad to recommend it to all my sex, for I know if they will follow Mrs. Pinkham's directions, they will be cured."

Gratefully yours, Mrs. Annie Thompson, South Hot Springs, Ark.

CHANGE OF LIFE.

I cannot tell what I suffered with my head. My husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken half of it I began to improve, and to-day I am another woman. "Observer" sends me the following account of one of those all too numerous and always deplorable scenes in which women reveal—their bad breeding in public places: "It is, indeed, unpleasant to be compelled too listen to a man or woman, more particularly a woman, wrangle over a fare in the street car. The other evening I was riding home from the office in a car. It was about 7 o'clock. A dark-complexioned young lady, well dressed and intelligent looking, tendered the conductor a red ticket in payment of her fare, which he, of course, in duty bound, refused to accept, because of the lateness of the hour. The young woman became highly indignant, and attracted the attention of the whole car to herself by her loud remarks. She claimed that she was not aware of the restrictions that she was not aware of the restrictions that the red ticket used labored under, nd when the conductor asked if she was stranger to the mysteries of the differ-nt priced tiekets, or something to that frect, I do not exactly remember the words, she guessed it was none of his unsiness, and also said it was her opinion business, and also said it was her opinion that he had a special interest in the company, being the manager or something, in so interesting himself over a paltry ticket. He explained that such was not the case, however, and that he was merely doing his duty in refusing. The car had traveled a considerable distance by this time, and everybody was thoroly disgusted with this person, who would sooner wrangle herself to the end of her journey than pay the legitimate fare. Many thought and said that the conductor would have been perfectly justified in asking the lady to leave the car. Exhibitions of this kind do not tend to raise the offending person in the opinion of others." the opinion of others."

But when John came back again On a furlough, safe and sound, With a medal for his deeds And without a single wound, While the rest of us hurrahed, Laughed and joked and danced about, Mother kissed him, then she cried— Cried and cried like all git out! -Edwin L. Sabin, in The Century Mag

Nuns' veiling and thin bereges are to be had this year in a variety of new shades of tan, grey and red. These materials are not expensive, are very satisfactory and make exceedingly good summer gowns. They must be tucked or pleated, according to the present style, but there is no necessity for trimming the skirts with anything but the tucks and pleats. The stitched bands have a phenomenal leasesof life, but ne lease is pretty well run out, and mone satin folds are coming in again of the spring and on these thinner materials. Poplin is a material that is introduced this season in such a perfection of coloring and weaves as to inre its popularity. In the light colors is exceedingly beautiful, and the differts shades of white are most unusual. It said that it is to take place of the nooth cloths, and we have had smooth surfaces, so long that undoubtedly there must be some change. But poplin is a material that defaces easily, altho it wears well, and will be used for the time being, at all events, for the smarter afternoon gowns rather than for ordinary street
