AMERICAN VOLUNTEERS SERVING IN CANADIAN ARMY PRESENT GRIEVANCES TO SIR WILFRID

An Open Letter to Liberal Chieftain in which British Fair Play Is Asked for Those Who Left Home to Aid Democracy.

An Open Appeal to Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier Through Courtesy of The London Advertiser.

There are thousands of loyal British subjects at present in the Canadian army from the United States. These men, some of them married men with families, nearly all sacrificed good positions for King and country and the cause of democracy. Not being represented by any organization or representative in Canada, a strange country to many, we respectfully present to you, sir, a few of our grievances, with the assurance that with your usual acumen you will see our viewpoint and just complaint.

1. Over 1,200 men enlisted voluntarily in the Canadian army during July from the United States (this has been going on for months) "for the purpose of making democracy safe." And what did we find in Canada? A Government that voted itself into power by an intimidated military vote, intimidated because the ballot was not secret and the voter was in the power of the Government. This, sir, was in direct antithesis to all principles of democracy and free men, the Magna Charta and the British Constitution.

2. Since these volunteers began to come from the United States, naturally those held in Canada would like to see their wives and families occasionally and enjoy the same privileges as a Canadian. But, for some reason, every possible obstacle has been thrown in our way. The latest order is you must not wear the uniform while in the United States. Now, sir, I am proud to say the Canadian uniform in the United States acts as the "open sesame" to many theatres, amusements, clubs, yes, and homes; but one must go home to our friends and neighbors in the garb of slackers, and yet we see American soldiers in Canada in uniform.

Another order-you must have a passport, the same as a civilian. At the railway they tell you, not being in uniform, you must pay full rates. Now, recruits, joining, are told they cannot keep their civilian clothes, and they are either sold or sent home. As there is an embargo on woolens from the Canada or if you can't afford to, being a married man, you don't get home, We maintain, sir, that a Government which brings about such conditions owers by discrimination the morale and saps the loyalty of those discriminated against. Therefore, in the last analysis, it is helping the enemy by just as much per cent as that morale has been lowered.

3. The Government which spends so much in advertising and keeping up offices to encourage immigration is discouraging it in Canada, and that Government is doing the country an injury, for it stands to reason, that no matter where these men may go after the war, they will advertise their treatment in Canada to the world, and give this beautiful country a black eye for years to come in many lands. I am perfectly sure, sir, the Canadian people who give us the right hand of fellowship do not know these conditions, and we cannot criticize in public. But the dissatisfaction is there. The reasons are there, and like a snowball rolling downhill gathers momentum and snow, so the increasing numbers coming from the United States will increase dissatisfaction. After all, sir, it's pretty shabby treatment, after voting us in batches in weak constituencies to keep themselves in power, and all we pray for is another We respectfully place our cause in the hands of a Canadian patriot and A FEW VOLUNTEERS FROM THE STATES.

BLACK KNIGHTS OF IRELAND FROM LONDON AND DISTRICT CELEBRATE DERRY'S RELIEF

More than 2,000 Black Knights of Ireland from all over Western Ontario held a monster picnic at Springbank Park Monday afternoon in commemoration of the anniversary of the elief of the siege of Derry.
The celebration was under the auspices of the County Chapter of East Middlesex. Knights were present from Stratford, St. Thomas, St. Marys, Ing-

> Referring to the appointment of sen-ators to fill the places of deceased members, the speaker voiced his opin-ions in no uncertain tones. "When a Catholic senator died another was appointed from the same church. Was the same courtesy accorded to the Orangemen. No, but when two senator members of our order died, their senatorships were held up as rewards for two members of parliament who vacated their seats to make a safe constituency for two men who were cowardly enough to relinquish their principles. They were traitors to the cause. I throw this back in the teeth of Sir Robert Borden and the Rev. G. W. Latimer of St. Matthew's Church, related the story of the siege and the relief of Londonderry. He referred to the dispatches from China.

No Borrowing Needed. Calling attention to the three crosses that are combined in the Union Jack that was draped from the platform, Mr. Essery, after eulogizing the sterling qualities of the three races represented, English, Irish and Scotch, said that while the flag may not be much to those who, in the months to come, will be doing their share in the great fight for humanity in France and Flanders. The speaker extended the sympathy of the order to the relatives of those who have "gone west" during the past four years.

Rev. G. W. Latimer at the evening service in his church, touched briefly on the same subject.

"We must stand for our religion at sented, English, Irish and Scotch, said that while the flag may not be much to look at, it is a "ripper to go." We do not have to borrow a flag to lead our forces on to victory, and that cripple-handed son of Satan' they call the kaiser will find this out before long."
