KENT POLICE CHASE AND MOTOR LAUNCH RUM RUNNERS IN AUTO

Smuggler's Boat Proves the Speediest and They Escape Arrest.

CHATHAM, July 17.—In a chase in which automobiles and motor launches took part, eighteen cases of Old Crow and Bourbon whiskey and four cases of alcohol were seized by county police Friday morning. Elmer Rowe of Mount Clemens, Mich., was arrested as he was loading some of the "booze" onto a wagon, which he admitted later on, was to have been transferred to a high-powered motor launch.

The booze was consigned to this city in the fictitious name of Roy Henderson and T. Ellison. High Constable Peters of the county police trailed Rowe and arrested him and then proceeded to get acquainted with the "Roy" and "T. Ellison" in the launch which was anchored in the Thames. The "two," however, saw the police at first and immediately "up anchor" and made a break for the lake.

CHASE MOTOR LAUNCH.

The county police followed in an automobile along the river bank, but were unable to head off the launch, which raced down the river at a speed of about 45 miles per hour. At the mouth of the river the police encountered a short delay in securing a launch, which proved less speedy than the fugitive and the "rum-runners" got away.

In a statement to the police Rowe gave the name of the owner of the launch as Verner, but did not know the name of the other man. He alleged that the booze was purchased by Verner.

SAGACITY OF HORSES SAVES CHILD'S LIFE

Saw Little One Hidden in Cardboard Carton and Avoided Striking It.

ST. THOMAS, July 18.—The almost human intelligence of a team of horses owned by the Grand Trunk carting agency in this city is being much commented upon, even to the suggestion that the horses should be honored by the Humane Society's medal.

The story of the horses' sagacity, the team's known as the "gray team," is to the effect that in play the little daughter of Arthur Bailey had hidden herself in a large cardboard carton while on a crossing near the delivery stables, when the team, drawing a heavy load of merchandise, came along. The horses saw what the driver apparently failed to notice, the danger of the little one crouched all unaware of any threatened harm in the cardboard shelter and stepped aside, in spite of the driver's pull back to a straight course, with the result that instead of the box and its inmate being crushed under the wheels of the lorry, it was merely pushed aside, and the little one escaped with only a slight bruise.

Raney, over the long distance phone, although it was intimated that an appointment would be made in the near future. The position is being temporarily held by M. W. McEwen, and the appointment is said to rest between Mr. McEwen and W. M. Charlton.

WALL STREET.

New York, July 19.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—The stock market was distinctly downward at the sluggish opening of today's stock market. Developments over the week-end, particularly the railroad industrial situation, were not of a hopeful character and the shorts promptly renewed their recent selling tactics. Steels, equipment and oils were especially vulnerable, losses in those shares extending from large fractions to 2 points. Motors and their accessories recorded nominal gains and rails were irregular.

Noon.—Rails began to sag when reports from Chicago indicated the dissatisfaction of the employees with the proposed award of the United States labor board. Active transportations averaged 1 point declines, and Canadian Pacific lost 2 points. Reactions among oils became more pronounced at this time, Pan-American falling 2¾ points and Mexican Petroleum 4¼. Steels and equipments also made further recessions, especially Bethlehem, Republic and Vanadium, while motors and tobacco, as well as shipping issues, were changed considerably more. Foreign exchange was firm early. Call money opened at 9 per cent.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

HAY IS SCARCE AND IN ACTIVE DEMAND AT $33 TO $36

New Crop Sold Today at From $25 To $28 a Ton.

Threatening weather was responsible again today for a small attendance on the local market. The few farmers who came in nearly all brought fowl for sale. Spring chickens and ducks were the feature. Ducks were a little easier, prices ranging from $1.90 to $1.60. Spring ducks are quoted at $1.25 to $1.60 each. Chickens ranged from 40c a pound, retail, and 30c a pound, wholesale. Ducks brought from 30c to 35c a pound. The maximum price is a little firmer. Old fowl sold from 23c to 25c a pound. The price for fowl for some time have been from 28c to 30c a pound.

Hay is very scarce, and several buyers for first-class grades were paying from $33 to $36 per ton. In some sections the hay crop is spoiled by too much rain, and not enough sunshine. New hay continues to sell from $25 to $28 per ton.

Several bags of wheat were offered today. The price paid was $2 per bushel. This has been the ruling quotation for some time.

No fruit was offered, although the demand is very active. Cherries are beginning to slacken off. They will be finished this week. It is thought that the season will be almost over. No strawberries are expected this week, and if any are offered, they will probably be of the inferior grades.

Butter and eggs remain firm, and are unchanged from Saturday. The demand is active.

Live hogs and fat sows are firm and in good demand. The price for fat sows is $15.25 a cwt. Live hogs bring $19.25 a cwt.

No changes in the prices of hides were recorded.
