From the vital injury done to both running and trotting racing, it will seriously affect the light horse breeding industry of the country, and par-ticularly will destroy the opportunity of making Canada one of the import-ant cavalry horse breeding units of the empire.

It is of a highly experimental character, and seeks to introduce a principle of distinction which has not attempted elsewhere.

These propositions are advanced, not as declarations of counsel, but as propositions of fact, established by the sworn testimony of numerous wit nesses of unquestioned probity, wel versed in the subject matter of their evidence, and no one of these propo sitions has been controverted in

The Alleged Evils. Of the alleged evils resulting prothe race track, after quoting from the evilence of police and other witnesses to indicate that these have been great-
