INTRODUCTION.

As in the past, every precaution has been taken by us to make our Toronto City Directory for 1893 as complete and reliable as possible; and, while we know there are errors and omissions, we think, when it is taken into consideration, the amount of detail we have to go through in so short a time, it should be considered very correct. We are well aware of the fact that we will be accused of making errors when such is not the case. The number of changes during printing this year has been more than usual, hence the names of the same parties will be found to have different addresses, also different occupations, in the different parts of our Directory.

While we are very anxious to have errors or omissions pointed out to us, and will feel very thankful for such, we trust the parties will be very careful to ascertain, before wasting our time or endeavoring to injure our reputation, that it is not their own want of knowledge of the spelling of the name, or from some of the many other causes they imagine that we are in error.

Our book has reached the size that it is not necessary to use heavy paper, large type or any other scheme to make it bulky; our efforts are now to keep it as small as possible without detracting from its usefulness.

You will notice that the names of the Churches, Public and Separate Schools, Halls, Chambers and Public Buildings are not inserted among the alphabetical list of names as formerly, but will be readily found in the Miscellaneous portion at the end of the book by referring to the index on page 44.

This is done for the purpose of avoiding what we consider a useless repetition, and they will be found there all together in their regular order.

We have not had time to make a correct calculation as to the increase of names this year over last, but sufficient to know that it is not so much as it was last year, and we are pleased to notice that the number of vacant houses is less than in 1892.

Wishing all our patrons the compliments of the season.

Yours truly,
MIGHT'S DIRECTORY CO.

J. M. MIGHT, General Manager.
