JOE PAGE'S STORY OF FIRST TWO BIG BASEBALL GAMES

Picks Out for Times Readers the Outstanding Features; Backs the Red Sox, Pro-Wyers, cf. 6 Wheat, If. 5 Cutshaw, 2b 5 Mowrey, 3p. 5

Boston, Oct. 5.—With the score 6 to 1 against them Brooklyn, in Saturday's game, went into a ninth inning rally that caused 37,000 fans to forget home, mother and all the rest of the world. After giving one of, if not the worst exhibitions of defensive work that has yet been seen during any previous world series, Brooklyn showed they had the grit to come from behind. With three on and two down, Merkle, who batted for Pfeffer, had the chance of his life to be a baseball hero.

The score at the time was six to three. Imagine the picture, the sacks filled, Merkle at the bat with three and two All Boston groaned when he sent the (By Joe Page)

Merkle at the bat with three and two. All Boston groaned when he sent the next one to the left field bleachers, but a mighty sigh of relief went up when it was declared a foul. Merkle was then passed, forcing a run across. Myers then beat out a slow bounder by a desperate slide. Daubert, who had done nothing with the stick, here stepped into one. It was a wicked drive. Scott, however, got in front of it and by a wonderful accurate and powerful throw, and at that off his balance, nailed Daubert and the first game for his club was won in the series by inches.

Hooper's was the other sensational play. It was in the fourth inning and probably had a great deal to do with saving the game for Boston. With Wheat on third, Cutshaw sent a low line drive. Hooper, in getting it, slipped and fell just as Wheat started for the plate. Quicker than a wink Hooper rolled over and up on to his feet and with a 'perfect throw got Wheat two feet from the plate. It was a wonderful, quick-thinking accurate piece of work on Hooper's part and was easily one of the star plays of any series.

For Brooklyn, Marquard certainly pitched winning ball and with any kind of support should have won his game. Both teams played erratic ball, but man for man, the Red Hose boys undoubtedly look the class over the Brooklynites and on all sides it is predicted four straight for Carrigan and his crew.

MONDAY'S GAME

Inning in using both Gainor and McNal ly to bring the winning run across. It was fine, clean, clever work on his part and will be the tople of conversation for many days to come.

Both teams will leave tonight for many the Red Sox taking the series. I look to see, as I said on the first day, the Red Sox taking the series. I look to see, as I said on the first day, the Red Sox showed still better. It is hard to figure them second field to Brooklyn. I cannot.

The total attendance figures for the two games now stand:

Attendance, 77,390; receipts, $159,115,-50; Players' share, $85,922.87; each club's Red Sox Favored.

MONDAY'S GAME

Boston, Oct. 9.—An open confession they say is good for the soul, and 250 other dope fiends certainly never expected the Robinson Dodgers ever to make the showing they did in the second game of the series. Instead of a misfit aggregation of Saturday last they really loomed up in the world series second contest of fourteen innings as a possible world's championship baseball team. Had they played the ball they showed in the second game, Marquard would have romped in an easy winner on Saturday.

have romped in an easy winner on Saturday.

Let it be understood that the Right
Hon. Mr. Smith is one sweet slam artist.
He pitched a remarkably fine game, as fast a game as none other but his opponent, Ruth, has ever pitched. Since the world's series was first started he fooled the wise ones and the Red Sox also for fourteen innings the longest game by two innings that has yet taken place for world's championship honors.

Cutting out the work of the Brooklyn club outside of the first inning, in which Myers, the first man up lined a hit good for four sacks—the only run they scored during the game—it is quite in order to say each and every man on the team played remarkably clean and fast championship ball.

The bright particular feature if any,

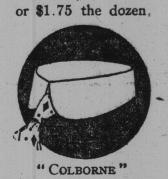

played remarkably clean and fast championship ball.

The bright particular feature if any, was supplied by Myers, not only with his home run, but his wonder-play in the eighth inning, getting Hoblitzel's line fly and getting Janvin, who tried to score from third, by ten feet.

For the Red Sox, the credit for winning the game belongs to the team as a whole. One and all played remarkably fast clean and snappy championship ball. But without criticizing any we certainly must mention Messrs. Ruth, Scott, Lewis, Gainor and Carrigan, the first because of his wonderful pitching curves, control, speed and the fielding of his position; secondly Scott for his wonderful and brilliant work on the defensive besides leading both teams on the offensive in hitting; thirdly Lewis for his work in the outer garden and in sacrificing himself to advance a runner ahead of him. He showed himself a past master at this game. Fourth, honors to Gainor, who replaced Gardiner at the bat with McNally running from second for Hoblitzel. He sent a stinging liner to left field that sent McNally home with the winning run. Lastly, Manager, Bill Carrigan wins honors for having

The stage is now set for the great baseball blue ribbon event of the year, the world series games, in which the Boston Red Sox will carry the banner of the American league and the Brook-lyns will uphold the aspirations of the National League. The betting is largely in favor of the Boston team, a chief reason for which is found in the easy mannance in which Carrigan's nine disposed of the Philadelphia actional leaguers last fall and the fact that the fans consider the Philadelphia actual to Brooklyn and stronger with Alexander pitching. Another reason is found in the fact that the the last six years the stellar homors have gone to the American league with one single exception, and it is likely that the betting men also take into consideration that the Boston teams have been almost uniformly successful in capturing world champlonships when entered.

There is no question but the attendance will be as large as the parks can hold and it is probable that the recepts while each of the losers obtained $2,590.

Although the experts favor Boston to win, there is always a delightful uncertainty about baseball and a steam that could prove its superiority in a season is frequently defeated in a short, series of games. Very slight incidents often turn the scale and picking the winner is a very hazardous venture.
