NOT SATISFIED WITH VIEWS FROM THE TOP

(Canadian Press Despatch.) Ottawa, May 9.—Members of the parliament and others who have been taking advantage of the absence of workmen to explore the "upper regions" of the new parliament buildings, are in several instances complaining that the most magnificent view of the Laurentian Hills, and the territory across the Ottawa, to be obtained from the entire building, has been cut off from the use of the public and reserved for workers in the parliamentary restaurant.

Not many but all Good

O VOUS qui n'avez pas la paix, Venez, Jesus la donnez; Pure, profonde et pour jamais; Venez, Jesus pardonnez.

WE have not many Soldiers in Quebec, but they are all good ones. It would warm your heart to see the fire, and sincerity and devotion with which French-Canadian comrades carry on their spiritual and social activities.

CARDINAL Gibbons said: "The Salvation Army helps all without question of color, creed, or nation."

TWO ideas govern its service—God and humanity. The Salvation Army—308 Citadels and Institutions in this Territory.—use them!

VICTIM OF PROFITEERING TELLS OF WOES IN VERSE

New York, May 10.—Complaints against alleged profiteers continue to flood the federal profiteer hunters. One of the complainants, who signs himself "The Bard of Hard Luck" burst into verse, as follows: "I go into a restaurant and eat some ham and eggs. And when I go to pay the check there's tremors in my legs. I go into a haberdasher's to buy a pair of socks. And after I have paid the bill I've coughed up all my rox. I go into a hardware store to buy a keg of nails. And when that merchant names the price, the heart within me quails. I go into my tailor's and get a suit of clothes. And how I'm going to pay him only goodness knows. I've put myself in lock to pay a grasping landlord's rent. And when I pay my grocer's bill it doesn't leave a cent. I've traded off my house and lot to get a pair of shoes. And now I think it's time you gave the profiteer his dues."

TEN TINTS IN SHOES AND NEW DRESS COLORS COMING

New York, May 10.—Ten tints in shoes are to be fashionable this season. There is a wide range in the brown shades dedicated to footwear, but although brown may be brown to the casual shopper there is a vast difference to the fastidious mind between chestnut, Arizona, moccasin, Morocco, Chippendale and camel, which are a few of the fashionable foot tints for summer wear. For the rest of her attire the summer girl may run to the most vivid shades for evening, with more subdued wear for street appearance. Egypt and Cairo are two of the new bright blue shades, and in the purple family the novelties have been called huckleberry, bramble and perilla. Parakeet is the season's brightest green, and Capt is its equivalent in blue. Acro, hydro and radio, tints of Copenhagen, are of a less startling brightness, and will be rivals of the copper tones.

TREES THAT ARE ACTUAL LIGHTING SUPPLY PLANTS

The candle-tree is to be found in the Pacific Islands. The nut which it yields produces a large quantity of oil, and the kernels of this candle-nut are strung together on a stick and lighted as a candle! The fruit of the candle-tree is usually about forty-two inches long, and about an inch in diameter. Of a yellowish tinge, hanging from the tree, it looks exactly like a collection of wax candles. Not only have these wonderful trees been discovered in the Pacific Islands, but it is recorded that some have been known to thrive in the Isle of Wight. Then there is the Japanese wax-tree, the fruit of which is mostly pure wax. This is used for making wax candles. The "wax fruit" which this remarkable tree bears, grows in bunches, just like grapes.
