A SAD FATE.

MRS. WILCOX PERHAPS TO DEATH ON THE LONG ISLAND ROAD. She Leaves Town Thursday and Perhaps Will Not Be Seen Again.

Mrs. Wilcox, of Loch Lomond, met with a sad death on the Long Island road on Thursday last. She was passing the city during the day, and early in the afternoon started for her home at Loch Lomond. The storm was at its height when she started and although warned not to go she said she wanted to get home to her husband. About 3:30 after-noon Hugh Daley, a resident of Loch Lomond met Mrs. Wilcox on the road about two miles from her home. Her horse was badly up and Mr. Daley asked her to spend the night at his home as it was too stormy to proceed. But her only desire seemingly was to get home and she refused his offer.

SECOND EDITION. VAN SLOOTEN'S SCHEME.

OF THE ST. JOHN DOCK AND HARBOUR IMPROVEMENT COMPANY. Detailed Description of the Docks and Harbour Improvements Proposed by the Above Company in Their Memorial to the Common Council.

Mr. J. C. Robertson, of the firm of J. Harris & Co., who submitted the memorial of the St. John dock and harbor improvement company to the common council yesterday was seen by a Gazette reporter this morning. Robertson said he was interested in this matter as a business man, who wished to advance the interests of the city. The company he acted for were the first in the field with a dock and harbor improvement scheme, but they had not desired to take the city to grant any aid, to their scheme till they had completed in all details, and had full plans and specifications of the work they proposed for the Atlantic coast. It took time to do this but now they had ready full plans and specifications of all the work embodied in their proposal, and these plans and specifications were open to the closest criticism.
