

COMMERCIAL

NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS
Chicago Market Report and New York
Cotton Market
(Furnished by D. C. Clinch, Banker and Broker.)

St. John, N. B., June 8, 1908.
St. John, N. B., June 8, 1908.
Mon. Tues.
Ct. Op. No. Noon.

Amalg. Copper	67 1/2	67 1/2	66 1/2
Anaconda	42 1/2	42 1/2	42 1/2
Am. Sug. Ref.	127 1/2	127 1/2	127 1/2
Am. Smelt. Ref.	75 1/2	75 1/2	75 1/2
Am. Car. Foundry	34 1/2	34 1/2	34 1/2
Am. Lumber	81 1/2	81 1/2	81 1/2
Am. Lumber	81 1/2	81 1/2	81 1/2
Brook. Prod. Trst.	49 1/2	49 1/2	49 1/2
Balt. and Ohio	39 1/2	39 1/2	39 1/2
Ches. and Ohio	45 1/2	45 1/2	45 1/2
Can. Pac.	160 1/2	160 1/2	160 1/2
Ch. and G. West.	7 1/2	7 1/2	7 1/2
Colo. F. and Inv.	12 1/2	12 1/2	12 1/2
Consolidated Gas	125 1/2	125 1/2	125 1/2
Gr. Northern Pfd.	131 1/2	131 1/2	131 1/2
Erle	22 1/2	22 1/2	22 1/2
Erle, 1st Pfd.	41 1/2	41 1/2	41 1/2
Erle, 2nd Pfd.	28 1/2	28 1/2	28 1/2
Kan. and Texas	27 1/2	27 1/2	27 1/2
Louis. and Nash.	106 1/2	106 1/2	106 1/2
Missouri Pac.	47 1/2	47 1/2	46 1/2
Nor. and Western	69 1/2	70 1/2	70 1/2
N. Y. Central	144 1/2	144 1/2	144 1/2
Ont. and West.	40 1/2	40 1/2	40 1/2
Reading	114 1/2	114 1/2	113 1/2
Republic Steel	15 1/2	15 1/2	15 1/2
Penn.	121 1/2	121 1/2	121 1/2
Rock Island	18 1/2	18 1/2	18 1/2
St. Paul	134 1/2	134 1/2	134 1/2
Southern Ry.	15 1/2	15 1/2	15 1/2
So.	112 1/2	112 1/2	112 1/2
Southern Pac.	87 1/2	87 1/2	87 1/2
Union Pac.	138 1/2	138 1/2	138 1/2
Nat. Lead	67 1/2	67 1/2	67 1/2
Texas Pac.	23 1/2	23 1/2	23 1/2
Union Pac.	148 1/2	148 1/2	148 1/2
U. S. Rubber	25 1/2	25 1/2	25 1/2
U. S. Steel	38 1/2	38 1/2	37 1/2
U. S. R. and Refg.	102 1/2	102 1/2	102 1/2
Wabash Pfd.	24 1/2	24 1/2	24 1/2
Western Union	55 1/2	55 1/2	55 1/2
Total sales in New York yesterday.	21,890 shares.

CHICAGO MARKET REPORT.

Mon. Tues.
Ct. Op. No. Noon.

July Corn	65 1/2	67 1/2	68
Wheat	88 1/2	87 1/2	87 1/2
Oats	45 1/2	45 1/2	45 1/2
Pork	8 1/2	13 1/2	13 1/2
Sept. Corn	65 1/2	66 1/2	66 1/2
Wheat	88 1/2	87 1/2	87 1/2
Oats	45 1/2	45 1/2	45 1/2
Pork	13 1/2	13 1/2	13 1/2

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

Mon. Tues.
Ct. Op. No. Noon.

July	10 1/2	10 1/2	10 1/2
October	9 1/2	9 1/2	9 1/2
December	9 1/2	9 1/2	9 1/2
January	9 1/2	9 1/2	9 1/2

MONTREAL SALES—MORNING

JUNE 8.

C. P. R.—250,000	20,151	20,151
100,000	20,151	20,151
100,000	20,151	20,151
100,000	20,151	20,151

After the service the procession returned and proceeded to the rooms of Marlborough Lodge, where it broke up. After playing the members of the lodge into the hall the band played "God Save the King."

The line of march was crowded with spectators, and favorable comments on the appearance of the lodges were numerous. A large congregation was present in Queen square church to listen to Rev. Mr. May's address.

National Lead sales are now very little below those in corresponding period last year.

Western Union directors met tomorrow and will probably declare a cash dividend. Rogers Brown and Company say marked activity in several directions and the week shows a good tone of iron booked.

London settlement begins on Wednesday.

Final instalment on Atchison convertibles due on Wednesday.

30,000 lbs. cars on May 21, against 40,000 on May 12th.

22 roads fourth week May show average gross decrease 27.42 per cent.

Outward gold statement checked.

Union Pacific bond sales first instance of permanent financing under old accepted order of things constituting a new bond on new mortgage and not the utilization of underlying credit.

Character of issue and strength of insuring houses both in New York and London assure success of offering.

Herald's forecast of democratic situation gives W. J. Bryan 712 votes at Denver convention, or more than enough to nominate.

Canadian Iron Corporation, Limited, of Montreal, formed capital $8,000,000 with extensive powers for exploration of mining, lumbering and land holdings.

Chicago special advises to New York News Bureau report merchants admitting a trade revival. A record breaking business expected, crop turn out right. Jobbers, retailers and manufacturers are exceedingly optimistic over the outlook for last half of year.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The Soo road has increased its working force by 100 men and will rush extension work to Duluth.

NEW YORK, Morning Letter. Last week apparently witnessed the passing of the Union Pacific financing as a factor in the stock market and the substitution of more normal influences on speculative operations. As a result the market materially narrowed and became largely a creature of the whims of the floor traders. No news of vital

MANY PERSONS KILLED BY TORNADO IN NEBRASKA

OMAHA, Neb., June 6.—A tornado which passed over Southern Nebraska and portions of Northern Kansas yesterday evening was the most destructive and covered the most territory of any similar storm which has visited that region in many years. At least 21 persons were killed, five were fatally injured and a score of others hurt. Several persons were killed at Byron, Neb., and Phillipsburg and Copeland, Kansas, which towns have been cut off from communication.

Jearing has developed over the week end to change this situation and the market appears to be in a state of transition between the governing factors of last month and the development of other considerations based on the business and political situations. There is now less uncertainty as to the outcome of the political situation than there was a week ago and the favorable process of the cereal crops has augmented the confidence beginning to be felt in a gradual improvement in business conditions.

MONTREAL—Sao Paulo quarterly dividend 24 payable July 1, books close June 23.

BATTLEFIELDS ASSOC. WANT AID FROM ST. JOHN

A letter has been received by Mayor Bullock for Dr. Danes asking for his co-operation in raising funds for the Quebec Battlefields Association. A central dominion committee has been organized at Ottawa, and the members of parliament have been asked to arrange for representative citizens in their constituencies to organize for the purpose of furthering the ends of the association.

Dr. Daniel attached a list of representative citizens whom he thought would assist in the work. It is intended to note that of the eleven names he submitted of the most prominent citizens ten were Conservatives.

A meeting of these gentlemen will probably be called soon to consider the matter.

SONS OF ENGLAND WENT TO CHURCH

The annual church parade of the local lodges of the Sons of England, which was postponed from last Sunday on account of rain, took place yesterday morning. The service was held in Queen square Methodist church.

The two lodges that took part in the parade were Marlborough and Portland. Headed by the band of the 2nd Fusiliers the procession marched from the hall of Portland Lodge on Simonds street to the church by way of Simonds, Main, Mill and Dock streets.

After the service the procession returned and proceeded to the rooms of Marlborough Lodge, where it broke up. After playing the members of the lodge into the hall the band played "God Save the King."

The line of march was crowded with spectators, and favorable comments on the appearance of the lodges were numerous. A large congregation was present in Queen square church to listen to Rev. Mr. May's address.

National Lead sales are now very little below those in corresponding period last year.

Western Union directors met tomorrow and will probably declare a cash dividend. Rogers Brown and Company say marked activity in several directions and the week shows a good tone of iron booked.

London settlement begins on Wednesday.

Final instalment on Atchison convertibles due on Wednesday.

30,000 lbs. cars on May 21, against 40,000 on May 12th.

22 roads fourth week May show average gross decrease 27.42 per cent.

Outward gold statement checked.

Union Pacific bond sales first instance of permanent financing under old accepted order of things constituting a new bond on new mortgage and not the utilization of underlying credit.

Character of issue and strength of insuring houses both in New York and London assure success of offering.

Herald's forecast of democratic situation gives W. J. Bryan 712 votes at Denver convention, or more than enough to nominate.

Canadian Iron Corporation, Limited, of Montreal, formed capital $8,000,000 with extensive powers for exploration of mining, lumbering and land holdings.

Chicago special advises to New York News Bureau report merchants admitting a trade revival. A record breaking business expected, crop turn out right. Jobbers, retailers and manufacturers are exceedingly optimistic over the outlook for last half of year.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The Soo road has increased its working force by 100 men and will rush extension work to Duluth.

NEW YORK, Morning Letter. Last week apparently witnessed the passing of the Union Pacific financing as a factor in the stock market and the substitution of more normal influences on speculative operations. As a result the market materially narrowed and became largely a creature of the whims of the floor traders. No news of vital

SUFFRAGISTS BAIT

JOHN BURNS

Battersea Meeting Punctuated by Interruptions—Fifteen Ejected

(Lloyd's News).

Mr. John Burns was picked out for the attention of the Suffragists on Tuesday at Battersea Town Hall, but he proved more than a match for them.

The meeting was in favor of the Licensing Bill, but the President of the Local Government Board had not been speaking more than a few moments when the familiar cry of "Votes for Women" came from the gallery. "Sit down, please, and look this way," said Mr. Burns. "Leave these women to the stewards. We have men on the list and they never will be missed."

The woman who had caused the commotion was soon shown to the door, and two or three others quickly followed her.

The next disturber was a man who called Mr. Burns a liar, and he was hustled out amid cheers. The potman has gone to join the barmaid," was Mr. Burns's next remark. "Have her then," he cried out, and was duly shown out. "You're getting on—quick. That's it. Now, stewards, you've got your work; do not want to stand about mutually congratulating each other. It seems to me you're looking after those ladies with longing eyes."

Soon after another woman cried out, "Votes for women," and left rapidly before she could be put out. Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

Mr. Burns said: "There's no more to be said at the rack when she's put out to sea." While another female interrupter was being taken to the door, Mr. Burns said: "These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause."

These vulgar and unseemly interruptions, which are the mark of a bad cause, are the mark of a bad cause.

LOVE TRAGEDY

AT FRENCH FAIR

Girl Disguised in Male Attire Kills False Sweetheart—Scenes at the Trial

(Lloyd's News).

"If you order your tressoussau you can't marry the other Angel."

Our Cakes and Pastry are always good, better in fact than you can bake at home, and besides saves all trouble and worry. Our Milk Bread is beautiful. Try it once and you will take no other.

The fitted woman proved to be as good as her word. Partiot did not live to marry the other Angel.

The girl went to a local fair, in male attire and wearing a wig, false beard, and a pair of blue goggles. She had heard that Partiot and his disreputable sweetheart would be present. Her disguise permitted of her approaching close to the unsuspecting pair.

Partiot was standing at the entrance to one of the booths, arm-in-arm with the French Angel, when the discarded Angel struck him a blow on the side of the head, knocking off his hat. She followed this up by drawing a revolver and shooting him in the chest. Partiot lingered three days.

Angèle Garnier, charged with murder was concluded on Saturday in the little town of Nevers, a hundred miles to the south of Paris. Dressed in the costume of a peasant girl, this slim, pale-faced girl, facing that crowded court, "I loved him, that is why I killed him," she explained between sobs to the president of the tribunal.

"I felt I should be happier to see him dead than living and the husband of another woman." Facing the prisoner on the bench reserved for witnesses, she told the other Angel, dressed also in the costume of a peasant girl, that she was in love with him, and weeping for the lover so rudely torn from her side.

Angèle Garnier is, like the second Angel, of peasant origin. She was, however, brought up and educated in Paris. She was trained as a governess and the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

This, the mother had in view another matrimonial alliance which would bring her son a larger dot. Her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.

Partiot's family opposed the projected union. Mme. Partiot objected to the fine manners of her prospective daughter-in-law, and she held that she was much too elegant for the simple life of a peasant girl.