ANTS AND THE WEATHER.

"When you go out on a cloudy morning and find the ants busily engaged in clearing out their nests by dragging the sand and bits of earth to the surface, you may be sure that no matter how cloudy it is, there will be no rain that day, and the probabilities are for several days of good weather," says a gardener.

ONLY A SMALL SQUADRON TO WELCOME U. S. FLEET

LONDON, July 7—A special despatch to the Times from Wellington, N. Z., notes the disappointment that is felt there because only three vessels of the Australian squadron will participate in the welcome to the American fleet. It adds that the Commander-in-Chief, Secretary of the Navy League, states that he does not view the visit with pleasure because Great Britain ought to receive the Americans with an equal force of warships; otherwise the comparison will be to Great Britain's disadvantage.

BRITAIN PREFERS THE SHAH'S BOND

Case Where Monarch's Word Does Not Suffice.

Only Terms of Surrender of Persian Refugees Horded in British Legation at Teheran.

LONDON, July 6—In the House of Commons this afternoon Foreign Secretary Grey, replying to a question, said that Great Britain would require a written guarantee of the safety of the Persian refugees now in the British Legation at Teheran before they left the Legation.

In the case of those accused of crime, an assurance that they would have a fair trial, at which the Legation would be represented, will be demanded.

The protest uttered by the British Government has resulted in the withdrawal of the Persian cases, who have been guarding the approaches to the British Legation at Teheran because of the presence in the Legation of Persian refugees.

Advices received at the Foreign Office show that the Persian refugees, British and English interests in Persia are not in danger.

GRIME IN FRANCE STILL EPIDEMIC

Death Penalty, Which Was Virtually Abolished, Likely to be Revived.

PARIS, July 6—The crime wave continues to pass over France, and murders and assaults are the order of the day. One day this week a daily newspaper had twelve of its columns devoted exclusively to details of fourteen murders, or attempted murders, many of which have been committed in the capital. It is little wonder, then, that Parisians are becoming seriously alarmed. The police supervision is inadequate and citizens are at the mercy of any stray cut-throat who cares to take the trouble of entering their houses.

Parliament is busy with the marked growth of lawlessness. The death penalty is still the law, and the President of the republic, bowing to the wishes of certain well-meaning humanitarians, has pardoned every criminal sentenced to death within the last two years. The people are complaining, and while their lives are held in no account by the band of profligate assassins who infest Paris, the authorities always hold sacred the worthless lives of the ruffians who either stab or strangle honest citizens. There has certainly been a marked revival of feeling on the question of doing away with the guillotine, so much so that were the matter to come up for discussion in the chamber at this juncture there would probably be a majority in favor of the retention of the "big knife."

The police at Reuil, a suburb to the west of Paris, yesterday arrested a music hall artist named Nicholas Tschendrieff on the charge of attempted murder. The previous night he had accused, meeting a demi-mondaine, and he had a vacant apartment. He was garbed in a razor, valued at $18.00. He admitted his guilt, and said that he hoped to take him to London, where his wife resides.

HALIFAX, July 7—At a meeting of the steel shipbuilding committee of the Board of Trade yesterday, the question of a duty on repairs made to Canadian vessels was discussed. The matter has already been before the Government and a duty of 25 per cent suggested. It is now proposed that the duty be 50 per cent on repairs made in Canada or other places outside the States, and the committee yesterday took the view that the Canadian duty should be equal to that of the United States. It was pointed out that the Halifax dry dock suffered in competition with the United States docks and shipyards. The minister of Customs will be communicated with.

ENTERTAINMENT FUND FOR OLYMPIC ATHLETES

LONDON, July 7—The efforts of the Daily Mail directed towards raising a fund for the entertainment of the visiting athletes who are to take part in the Olympic games, have met with a large measure of success. $37,400 having already been subscribed, including a donation of $2,500 from A. G. Vanderbilt. The government has undertaken to give a banquet to the official representatives of each foreign group, to which the Ambassadors of the respective countries also will be invited.

EMBASSIES DESTROYED.

DIENOS AYRES, July 7—Despatches received here from Formosa, near the Paraguayan border, states that the United States and Italian legations at Assuncion were badly damaged by the bombardment, and that an intermediary from the American legation was killed by a grenade. The United States and Italian ministers have presented claims for compensation to the new Government.

BONI SECURES CHILDREN.

PARIS, July 6—Under rather sensational circumstances Boni de Castellane has just secured possession of the two boys awarded by the French courts to the mother, Anna Gould, at the time of the divorce. Boni is ready to go to any length to keep the children, and thus prevent them becoming the step-children of his deadly enemy, Prince Sagan, who recently accompanied Madame Gould to London. The children did not go to London with their mother. She left them at an hotel in Versailles under the guard of a tutor and a number of servants. On Tuesday she brought the children from France to London for the projected removal. Boni immediately drove to Versailles in a high powered motor-car. The divorce decree permitted him the right to keep the children a month every year, although the legal date of this right is still remote. It is stated that Boni was so urgent in his demands that the frightened tutor was forced to yield, and within a few minutes the children were hurried to the waiting automobile.

RUSSIAN PAPER ENDS STORMY LIFE

Russ Suspends Owing to Financial Difficulties.

Final Blow Was Accusation That It Was Involved in a Scheme to Blackmail Banks.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 3—The Russ, at one time the leading Liberal newspaper of Russia, has suspended publication on account of financial difficulties.

The Russ was founded in 1904 by Alexis A. Souvorin, son of the well known editor and publisher of the Novoye Vremya. It placed itself at the head of the growing Liberal movement and soon obtained a very large circulation, while its opinions carried much weight. Of late years, however, and especially since the imprisonment of Alexis Souvorin for the publication of the workmen's manifesto, the paper has veered to the radical side and become sensational and often unreliable. The circulation fell off greatly. The business manager of the paper was recently accused of being involved in a project that had for its purpose the blackmailing of banks, and this was a blow to the journal.

The Russ has had a stormy career. During its existence it was suppressed for a total of 107 days and 184 individual numbers were confiscated. Three of its chief editors were imprisoned in the four years of the paper's life.

Boris Souvorin, son of Alexis Souvorin, reported the peace treaty negotiations at Portsmouth for the Russ.

MADAME CAVALIERI SCORES A TRIUMPH

London Audience Pays Tribute to Art and Beauty of Famous Singer

LONDON, July 6—Puccini's "Mann Lescaut," with its moving human story dramatic and impressive music and picturesque scenes, was revived last night at Covent Garden.

The occasion was a memorable one, owing to the first appearance in grand opera of Mme. Cavalleri, who won a triumph by her beauty and art.

Her voice is not strong but sweet and musical and her singing, though at first disappointing, afterward, both in the impassioned moments and in the tender episodes, became dramatic and sympathetic.

The part of Manon suits her temperament and style, and she played it with charming grace, and gave a pleasing picture of the wayward girl and her many amours.

There was no question as to her success. After each act she was recalled many times, her compatriots in amphitheater and gallery being enthusiastic in their applause, and even the sedate occupants of stall and box showed their warm approval.

After the impassioned scene in the second act she recalled no fewer than eight times, and after the third act, and at the close of the last pathetic scene, there was an outburst of applause from all parts of the house.

The house also concluded the committee stage of the old age pensions bill, which had been modified by the adoption of sliding scale, the pensions varying with the amount of the recipients personal income.

SQUABBLE NOT ENDED

LONDON, July 7—The Times this morning publishes a statement to the effect that during the recent manoeuvres of the Channel fleet, Lord Beresford gave the signal for an evolutions, which, if obeyed, would have brought the cruisers Argyle and Good Hope into collision. Sir Percy Scott, however, on board the Good Hope, the statement says, doubted the accuracy of the signal and refrained from obeying it. The story is attributed to by other London newspapers, but it is not verified, and appears to be a part of the campaign against Lord Beresford arising out of his feud with Sir Percy Scott.
