OPIUM CASE IN THE COURT

Considerable Evidence Heard Yesterday in Case Against Hop Lee.

In the Police Court yesterday afternoon the case against Hop Lee, who is charged with being the proprietor of a place on Mill street in which opium was found, was resumed. Daniel Mullin, K. C. was present for the defendant, while H. O. McInerney conducted the case for the prosecution.

M. V. Paddock continued his testimony. Witness said that he, since the last session of court, had tested scrapings from the pipes found in Hop Lee's place. In the first test he found morphine, and in the second an acid. The first time he scraped the bowl of the pipes with a knife blade, while in the second test he obtained other contents of the bowl by the use of a knitting needle. From the appearance it looked as if the pellets had been melted and run into the pipe bowls, and the scrapings looked like the pellets found in the can by Patrick Killen the night of the raid. There is some resemblance between burned opium and tobacco.

To Mr. McInerney witness said that both pipe bowls contained morphine and an acid and he concluded that they were both opium.

This closed the case for the prosecution and Mr. Mullin submitted that a case had not been made out. The information laid was to the effect that Hop Lee had opium in his possession, while the law says that it must be crude, powdered, and opium prepared for smoking and there was no evidence such as the acid calls for. The only evidence given was that some scrapings were found of opium in the pellets and pipes. There was no evidence that Hop Lee had opium in his possession, it must be found on him, simply because he is the proprietor of the premises in which there was found opium does not convict, it might have been left there by some other person. He submitted that the criminal act means actual possession, and there was no evidence to that effect.

Mr. McInerney said there had been evidence that opium was not only found on the premises and being prepared for smoking but was being smoked. Hop Lee was in his house at the time and men were seen smoking there. There was not only a small jar of opium found but also a small can of opium and the latter would not have been thrown into a stove unless the police were coming to search.

The magistrate refused to dismiss the case and the defence called Hum Ging as the first witness. Hum is the proprietor of a laundry on Paradise Row and another on Mill street, adjoining the store kept by Hop Lee. He testified that on the night of March 13th he had a headache and went to bed in Hop Lee's about six o'clock in the evening. He was sleeping all through the evening and did not awaken until he heard a shot from a revolver. He then attempted to get up from the bunk but was not allowed to do so by Policeman Jeffrey who pointed the revolver at him. Witness said he had not been smoking and had not been sitting at a table smoking as had been stated by Jeffrey. After Jeffrey pointed the revolver at him Policeman Jones entered the place and then witness got a chance to put on his clothes and made his escape from the place by the back door. Witness declared he did not run at Jeffrey. The pipes seized in Hop Lee's were produced and witness said they were not used for smoking opium but for smoking Chinese tobacco, and that he had purchased the pipes in China five years ago.

Mr. Mullin asked witness to fill one of the pipes with Chinese tobacco and give a demonstration of smoking it. Mr. McInerney objected to the pipe being used for such a purpose as the pipes were part of the evidence of the prosecution. The objection was sustained. Witness, continuing, said that the tobacco was imported from Ganton, China, and the pipes exhibited could not be used for smoking opium.

To Mr. McInerney witness said he only smoked opium on two occasions and that was five years ago when he visited his home in China, then he only tried it to see what it was like. Witness said he first came to St. John seventeen years ago.

The case was adjourned at five o'clock and will be resumed at eleven o'clock Friday morning.

FRENCH AERIAL EXPERT, SO OFTEN VICTORIOUS ALOFT, CAUGHT AT LAST

The report on the progress of hostilities given by German Headquarters relates that Lieutenant Roland G. Garros, the famous French aviator, has been made a prisoner by the Germans at Ingelmunster, in Belgium, seven miles north of Courtrai. Of the daring French military aviators who have been performing deeds of valor since the war began few have been as picturesque as Lieutenant Garros. His exploits have been watched with especially keen interest in this country, as he has flown here, taking chances which many aviators shunned. Flying here, in South America and in Mexico he had many falls from considerable heights, but never was seriously injured. Twice this month accounts have reached here of daring encounters with German aviators in the air which ended in the Frenchman bringing his adversaries to earth.

COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing. As this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

AUSTRIA MUST GIVE UP THE ADRIATIC

If She is to keep Italy neutral—Must yield Province of Trent.

Rome, April 25, via Paris.—The press, politicians and public are discussing with the most lively interest the project for an Austro-Italian agreement reported to have been presented by the German Ambassador, Prince von Buelow, in the original negotiations on this subject. This project, as set forth recently by the Avanti, organ of the socialists who favor neutrality, provided among other things for recognition of the reciprocal interests of Italy and Austria in preserving the Triple Alliance and for territorial concessions to Austria.

Criticism of any such agreement is widespread, on the ground that the precise concessions which Italy would receive were not set forth with sufficient clearness. The opinion is expressed that so long as Austria retains her present territory on the eastern coast of the Adriatic, with Pola, Cattaro and six hundred Dalmatian islands—which some naval experts have compared to six hundred dreadnoughts—it will be impossible to reach a settlement. This view is expressed by one well known commentator in this manner:

"Such a settlement would leave in the hands of Austria all the points which constitute a grave menace strategically to Italy. If Austria is really willing to cede the territories inhabited principally by Italians she must yield not only the Province of Trent, but Pola, Fiume and the greater part of Dalmatia. This evidently is not Austria's intention, as the negotiations would not drag on so long if it were. Austria obviously is having recourse to petty expedients in order to gain time, hoping that unforeseen events will make possible a solution more satisfactory than one based upon concession of the Italian demands in their entirety."

The Corriere della Sera says that the Austro-Italian problem cannot be solved by resorting to trivial expedients, but demands a solution which would effect an expansion of Italian territory along racial lines, and would guarantee to Italy the means of satisfactory maritime defence.

This newspaper says that Italy's relations with the Slavs and other questions arising from the new situation in the Mediterranean should be left to future settlement by international agreement.

A faction of the socialists which is vigorously opposed to participation by Italy in the war is scheming to bring about in case of mobilization of the army is ordered a general strike throughout Italy. The great majority of the socialists, however, are not in sympathy with such a project, and it is believed that the effort would fail.

Railway employees, on whom the organizers of the strike movement would rely chiefly, declare that none of them would desert their post.

W. A. CONTINUES SESSION HERE

Interesting reports presented—Address on Mission Work in Japan—Much business transacted.

The sessions of the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Fredericton were continued yesterday. The principal business in the morning was the presentation of reports, all of which were heard with interest. A proposal to limit the number of delegates to the annual meetings was opposed by the Bishop. His Lordship expressed the view that any decrease would be undesirable. The first hour was taken up with devotional exercises, Rev. Ralph Sherman officiating. The minutes of Tuesday's session were read by Mrs. W. B. Howard and approved.

The report of the convener of literature was submitted by Mrs. John McAvity and the report of the secretary-treasurer of that department was presented by Mrs. Fred Scovill. They gave evidence of the good work that has been accomplished throughout the year.

Mrs. Charles D. Schofield, organizing secretary, presented a statement of the progress of the entire organization during the last year and since its inception. She reported that there were at present eighty-three branches of the W. A. in this diocese, eleven of which were organized under her personal instruction and through her efforts.

Mrs. Hammond Evans submitted her report for the Babies' Branch, which contained much of interest.

Following there was balloting on the disposition of the Babies' Branch fund, which amounted to $140. The majority was in favor of awarding it to Miss Trent to assist her missionary work in Japan.

There was balloting also on the nomination of officers and the election will take place tomorrow afternoon. Reports from the various branches were read and were received with much appreciation.

The report of the Dorcas secretary, Mrs. J. M. Hay, showed that good work had been done during the past year in all branches. A new departure was present when, in charge of Miss Edith Skinner, Miss Ethel Jarvis and Miss Muriel Fairweather, the different phases of girls' work were exemplified. Papers were read from girls of the various branches. The War Hymn, by Mrs. Plumptre, was sung by Miss Louise Knight. Miss Eleanor Robinson then read a paper entitled "The Arresting of the Kingdom." This paper is one of a series of four papers on "The War and the Kingdom of God," read by different members of the Women's Auxiliary at the mission study class in St. John during Lent.

A conference of the superintendents of the juniors was held at 4:30.

In the evening a public missionary meeting was held, the Bishop presiding. In a few appropriate words His Lordship introduced Miss Trent, a missionary from Japan, as a capable and sympathetic exponent of the methods and worth of missionary effort amongst the Japanese people. Miss Trent spoke entertainingly, and in humorous vein betimes, of the way in which a missionary has to go in order to secure the undivided interest of the Japanese people in the true Christian faith. During the address Miss Trent explained the customs of those with whom she had lived, and in a missionary in Japan, explained clearly that it is necessary to adapt oneself to a country where success is the objective, whether in missionary work or anything else. Miss Trent explained the significance of the dress worn by Japanese ladies; social gatherings, sporting excursions, business peoples, all were in proper classification. The speaker urged all to increase their interest in missionary effort, for notwithstanding the intelligence and cleverness of the people of Japan, she said, they were still bowing to images, most of which were very ugly. Miss Trent, in conclusion, made a stirring plea to the Women's Auxiliary to help in the aftermath of the war by Christian help wherever it could be given.

Bishop Richardson in the course of a short address, at the conclusion of the day's proceedings, remarked that from what had transpired during the sessions it was evident that the work of the Women's Auxiliary had been shown to be not only of domestic value but an influence for good throughout the world.

Tomorrow will conclude the sessions of the Auxiliary, the proceedings beginning at 10:30 with devotional exercises. Several reports will be read and a report on Chinese work will be made by Mrs. A. Woodman. During the luncheon hour balloting will take place for the election of officers for the ensuing year and designations of life membership fees. Announcement of the result of the election will be made before five o'clock. There will be five o'clock tea for the members and delegates this afternoon.

Washington, April 27.—The State Department late today made representations to the Turkish government regarding the reported massacre of Armenians in Turkey, urging that steps be taken for the prevention of further outrages. Secretary Bryan acted upon the request of the Russian government, submitted through Mr. Bakme-teff.
