

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH, ST. JOHN, N. B., APRIL 22.

OUR COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE.

FREDERICTON.

Fredericton, April 17.—(Special).—James Campbell, one of the boys accused of stealing $300 at Millville, arrived here this evening in charge of a constable, and was lodged in jail. He will likely be tried before Judge Wilson, under the speedy trial act. It is understood that he acknowledged the offence.

Argument in the case of Emmerson vs. Maddison, which has been going on before the supreme court since yesterday, was finished this afternoon and judgment reserved.

James Shearer and V. O. McLeod, W. D. Earle, K. C. supports demurrer to the replication and shows cause against objection to first plea, Wilson, K. C., contra; Court considers.

Over 200 steam drivers went up river this morning. They were met here by Messrs. Welch, Lench and Donald Fraser & Sons. The latter firm expect to have 1,000 men working on their drive by the end of the week—half on the Tobique and the other half in Quebec province. The prospects for driving are good and the average wage this year higher than usual, $2 being paid to good men.

A colored man named C. A. Sampson was fined $10 and 30 days in jail by Judge Marsi this morning for cruelly leaving his horse exposed to the cold all last night and Sunday without a blanket. The fine was allowed to stand on him promising to use the animal better in future.

Dr. Lunan, of Campbellton, the government expert on smallpox, arrived in the city this afternoon and in company with Dr. Mullin and Gibson and examined the case which had been quarantined by Dr. Mullin a few days ago. Dr. Lunan, after a careful diagnosis, pronounced the case undoubtedly smallpox. He then proceeded to Marysville and in company with Dr. Fisher will examine a suspect there.

Fredericton, N. B., April 19.—(Special).—Premier Treadwell will deliver his budget speech Tuesday evening.

The firemen were called out at 12 o'clock last night for a blaze in a barn on King street, owned by Alderman D. J. Stockford. Fortunately the flames were discovered early and were extinguished before much damage had resulted. There was also a slight blaze in the same building at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. The loss is slight.

Mr. Dunphy, a well known young farmer of Kingsclear, died at that place yesterday afternoon, after fortnight's illness from typhoid fever. He was 30 years of age and unmarried. Deceased was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters.

The weather, which has been quite cold of late, is now moderating and the river has risen a few inches today.

A number of members of the legislature left for home last evening to spend Sunday. George W. Allen, M. P., accompanied the others, and will be associated with him in the argument of the redistribution case before the Supreme Court of Canada.

Alderman Macdonald also a passenger to Ottawa last evening.

Argument in the case of Curtis vs. St. John Street Railway Company, which was heard in the Supreme Court last evening and judgment reserved. The court will resume tomorrow morning.

The accidental omission of a line in a broadcast item in Saturday's Telegraph, brought C. A. Sampson, one of our prominent citizens, before the public in a new role. He was represented as being a colored man who had been fined for ill-treating a horse. Mr. Sampson is local agent for the S. P. C. A. and should have been mentioned as complainant in the case.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Murray Glaser took place from the residence of Parker Glaser, M. P., at Lincoln yesterday afternoon and was one of the largest funerals ever seen in this locality. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, including a number from friends in this city.

An impressive funeral service was conducted at the house by Rev. Dr. McLeod, of this city.

Among those who went down to attend the funeral from this city were J. D. Hazen, W. O. H. Grimmer, and J. Kidd Fleming, M. P.; Lewis Blum, H. B. Bainford, J. C. Allen, F. H. Peters, W. P. Taylor and others.

Professor Robertson is expected here on Tuesday next when he will attend before the government on relevant matters pertaining to the manual training in the schools and also in regard to the establishment of a department of agriculture in the University. Professor Robertson will be accompanied by Mr. Hamilton, proceeded to Kingston to look over the site of the central school and make further arrangements.

James Campbell, of Millville, charged with stealing $300 from Mr. Egan of that place, pleaded guilty before Judge Wilson yesterday and was remanded for sentence.

The death of Henry D. McKell, a well known farmer of Lower Haines, occurred Friday. A widow survives.

Fredericton, April 20.—(Special).—A delegation composed of Mayor Byles, Rev. George D. Ireland and Doctor Savage, of Woodstock, arrived here this evening to promote a bill incorporating the Woodstock Hospital, which is to be taken up by the corporation's committee tomorrow morning.

A counter delegation composed of Doctors Barker, Kierstead and Prescott will oppose a feature of the bill which will provide that three doctors shall be members of the trustees board. They will ask that the medical men of the town be placed on the same footing as regards the hospital.

The flags on the parliament buildings and other public buildings are at half-mast today out of respect to the memory of the late Sir Oliver Mowat.

Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture T. A. Peters, W. W. Hubbard and others interested, accompanied Mr. Adams today, and visited the department of agriculture, to Pembury's orchard at Nahawakina this afternoon to witness the practical illustration of spraying and pruning fruit trees. The illustration was conducted by Mr. Neill and proved highly instructive. These meetings have been arranged by the department of agriculture.

A large number of spruce and hemlock logs were landed at Scotch Hill today, and sought for St. John mill owners. The first raft of logs in tow of the tug Hero. It contained 21 joints of spruce logs for Randolph & Baker.

The public accounts committee was in session this morning and examined about 50 pages of the auditor general's report. Jesse Fleming died at his home at Scotch Hill last evening. He was highly respected. He is survived by his wife and one son, Mrs. Margaret Fleming, widow of John Fleming, died Saturday evening, at the home of Alex. Catter Street, of Nahawakina. Mrs. Read, wife of Rev. Dr. Read, of St. George's, and Mrs. Macdonald, of this city, are his daughters.

Harvey McKay has bought the horse Anjou from Mr. Jewett, of this city. Mr. McKay will be leaving for the equity school of Fairbairn, N. B., today.

ST. GEORGE.

St. George, N. B., April 17.—(Special).—Although the weather was very disagreeable, there was a large attendance this afternoon at the funeral of the late Senator Gilmore, which took place from his late residence. The Rev. M. E. Fletcher conducted the services. The pall-bearers were old friends of the deceased senator.

Hon. L. P. Farris was present representing the provincial government. Others present were Hon. George P. Bull, St. Stephen, ex-Governor Macdonald, George J. Clarke, M. P., P. D. W. McCormick and D. C. Clinch, of St. John, and R. E. Armstrong, of St. Andrews.

Work was suspended in all the factories in town, and flags hoisted half-mast, out of respect for deceased. Owing to the inability to secure a special train a delegation from St. Stephen were unable to attend.

WHITE'S COVE.

White's Cove, Queens Co., April 16.—The weather still continues cold and backward and the chances are there will be very little farming done for some time yet.

Wm. Howes is preparing to build a modern residence on Main street next to the residence of Dr. E. H. Langstaff, nearly opposite Trinity church.

Joseph Wallace is building an addition to his dwelling house on Main street and putting a stone foundation on it.

KINGSTON.

Kingston, Kings Co., April 18.—The people of Kingston were very much delighted on Friday morning when the steamer Springfield had landed her first freight at Kingston Creek, for never before had the bow of any steamer touched the point of the public landing formerly known as Simpson's Point. This landing is about one-half or three-quarters of a mile from the village of Kingston, where it is the proposed site of the Sir William Macdonald school.

It is confidently expected that when we get a wharf, of which we have the promise, and the school gets in full operation, that this will be the most profitable landing on the whole route between St. John and the head of Bellisle. We have formerly been obliged to haul our freight three miles from Reed's Point, but now we have it landed almost at our very door.

It is expected that Professor Robertson will be in Kingston next week, probably on Thursday, in connection with the Sir William Macdonald school.

A meeting of the ratepayers of Clifton point was held last Wednesday to consider the advantages of consolidating with Kingston and a committee was appointed to wait on Professor Robertson when he arrives and have some points of view explained which they do not quite understand and see whether it will be possible for them to enter into the plan of consolidation.

SALISBURY.

Salisbury, April 16.—Mrs. H. O. Barnes, Mrs. D. Baird, Mrs. V. E. Gowland and Miss Titus returned from St. John this week, where they had spent the Easter holidays.

BRISTOL.

Bristol, Car. Co., April 19.—George Stickey, a well-known resident, is seriously ill of pneumonia.

A crew of about 200 men came up on Friday last and proceeded at once to the Miramichi to start the drives for Mr. Welch. The weather is cold and backward, and it will be some time before the driving actually begins, unless heavy rains come.

Charles Lockhart will send a crew on the Shikellawak stream on Monday to start his lumber.

J. H. Atkinson has returned to Carleton. Miss May Bryner, Boston, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Bryner, of this city.

Thomas Parke has moved his family on the Duncan Rogers farm. Duncan Rogers is intending to open a lively stable in the village.

Charles Gibson has sold his valuable farm on the Glassville road to George Caldwell.

The Fred Phillips store is closed for the present, and stock is being taken.

Charles Dyer took a trip to Woodstock on Friday.

The Dyer and Miss Laura Green were married on Sunday last at Bridgewater. They will reside in Bristol. Mr. Dyer has bought Josiah Gibson Jr.'s house.

M. A. Tompkins has returned from a business trip to Grand Falls and other points on the upper St. John.

The first raft of the season passed here today.

CHIPMAN.

Chipman, April 20.—Several million feet of lumber arrived at the boom at Bridge's Corner on the Salmon River.

A large quantity of logs are jammed at the Forks along the bank of the river, stream promisingly four and five tier deep, which will require a small fleet to float them off the shores. The rest of the drives on Salmon River and Coal Creek are all on their way down.

Sayre and Holly's mill is expected to commence sawing next Wednesday.

Rev. W. E. McIntyre preached his farewell sermon yesterday at Bridge's Corner hall. Mr. McIntyre, who has been in charge of the Baptist churches in and around Chipman for the last 12 years, has resigned the pastorate and as he has accepted the position of superintendent of home missions, will remove with his family to St. John the day after tomorrow.

On the eve of his departure from this place, where he has labored long and faithfully, some of the members of the first Chipman Baptist church presented the reverend gentleman with a solid

Blood Bitters
CURED THEM.

It is well-known to all that bad blood is the direct cause of all skin diseases and it is necessary for the blood to be cleansed before the eruptions will disappear. For this purpose there is nothing so equal as Burdock Blood Bitters, the thousands of testimonials we have to hand will testify.

Willard Thompson, of Fall's Mills, P. E. writes us as follows: "I wish to state to you that I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for some time ago my boils got out of order and many boils appeared on my neck, legs and arms. They were so painful that I could not sleep at night. After having tried many different remedies without success, I finally decided, on the advice of a friend, to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I had quite used two bottles the boils had completely disappeared, and I wish to emphasize the fact that I think Burdock Blood Bitters the best blood purifier on the market to-day."

leather suit case and free will offering of $48, as a token of their regard, and Mrs. McIntyre was the recipient of a handsome piece of table silverware. Mr. McIntyre, who is greatly esteemed by people of all denominations here, will meet with game music and refreshments.

Rev. H. H. Jewett, Methodist, returned home from Fredericton last Saturday after an absence of two weeks.

Robertson, of the emergency hospital expires today, when in all probability the eight suspects will be liberated. Three cases of smallpox are yet confined in the pest house.

HOPEWELL HILL.

Hopewell Hill, April 19.—On Thursday evening Miss Alma Robinson, assisted by a few of her friends, entertained a large number of the young people of the village at her home here. An enjoyable time was spent with games, music and refreshments.

The several teachers who spent Easter at their homes here have returned to their schools.

Levi T. Stevens, who has been very ill with pleurisy, is improved.

W. Henry West has resigned his situation as teacher at Hopewell Hill and left yesterday for St. John, to take a position in the wholesale department of Manchester.

The village has another hotel, the Revere House, Chas. N. O'Regan, proprietor. Mr. O'Regan enlarged and greatly improved the building, and has made it now a very pleasant and commodious house.

McClellan's steam saw mill is being moved to Lower Cape, having finished work here.

DIGBY.

Digby, April 18.—James Haynes, son of Stephen Haynes, lost his left hand and a portion of his right hand in a gunning accident yesterday near his home at Digby. He was crawling along the rocks endeavoring to get a shot at a wild duck when he fell, the gun striking a rock. The charge passed through both hands.

Four early physicians were summoned. The patient is resting easy this morning.

A disagreeable snow storm prevailed last night and early this morning.

Digby, April 19.—H. R. Smeltzer, of May, has resigned. N. W. Hogg, of Hogg & Cousins, Shelburne, will succeed him.

Repairs are being made to the Shore road at the head of the Racquette.

Post Master Robinson's property near the government pier.

Thomas Adams, 20.—Capt. Jones Morehouse, of the firm of Morehouse & Son, general merchants, Brighton, fell from the upper wharf at the head of St. Mary's Bay this morning, receiving serious injuries.

The tide was down and he was struck the rocks below. Mr. Morehouse is over 70 years of age.

Capt. Thomas Adams, master of the schooner Lizzie Dyer, is also at his home in Brighton suffering with injuries received from a fall while his vessel was in the dish water.

Mr. Adams will be confined to his house for several weeks.

Coming Back to Canada.

There's a battle on the border, there's a shuffling of feet.

Where the greatest of Republics and the big Dominion meet.

For the sons of the Dominion who have wandered far away.

Are coming back to Canada, today.

True, their children sing "America" and "Hands Across the Sea,"

And they themselves have learned to love the land of liberty.

But their feet across the border, now, with them the other way.

They are coming back to Canada, today.

Yes, they're coming back to Canada, although there's nothing wrong with the water here, but they've been away so long.

And some of them are graying, and some of them are gray.

But they're coming back to Canada, today.

GREATER ST. JOHN.

inal facilities at this port and apolo concerning revenues from the upper stories of berths, providing those built were two stories high.

He emphasized the need of superior fire protection at the west side wharves and spoke in favor of a lighterage system. The plan he had outlined was duly considered, but no definite steps taken, for to have an improvement of such magnitude would demand serious thought and large financial outlay. No figures were quoted.

A Man from the West.

Mr. Brock, who has been a resident of Winnipeg since 1878, and who is in a position to tell western stories, spoke briefly but with infectious enthusiasm of recent development, and of the attitude of westerners respecting some national port for the output of the Northwest's increasingly enormous crops.

When the question of assisting in the extension of the Grand Trunk Railway came up recently in Winnipeg it was pointed out to the railway that this assistance would be given providing the railway agreed to make its winter port in the city a most interesting statistical way, Mr. Brock told of western growth, of what had already been accomplished and what, under present conditions, must surely come to pass inside of the next 15 or 25 years.

He did not believe that St. John had commenced any too early to prepare for the coming winter port in the west. Yearly the volume of business was increasing, and last year it had been clearly shown the railway facilities were unequal to the work of handling to the full extent.

"There is this I wish to impress upon you," said Mr. Brock, "we must have Canadian ports of export, recall the disgrace to Canada to have any of our output passing through United States ports, when, if we choose, we can have what we send out of the country passing through our own territory. If we rely on the United States it will be a most serious matter for Canada. I do not hesitate to say it would result in the Americans despising us."

President Wm. Jarvis introduced a resolution having to do with an extension of the winter port facilities.

That was not carried, and later, was read in amended form, but was withdrawn.

100,000 Population.

Mayor White, in speaking of the C. P. R. plans, said the proposed works were of a stupendous nature, but very worthy, and that it was regrettable that on the C. P. R. line at Ottawa he was not more thoroughly acquainted with them.

The plans meant accommodation for 30 steamers and, if realized, would be a reason for believing that the city would shortly have a population of 100,000.

There was trouble through, through the fact that the plan was to build a harbor at the mouth of the river, which was 100 feet down the harbor bar, this land being granted a long time ago. The C. P. R. practically owned the whole front of the city, and the harbor improvements would be an excellent thing.

Let the matter of harbor facilities be put in the hands of the harbor commission. Now such a proposition meant the commission would buy up the harbor wharves and other accommodations, paying for the same whatever the market value was at the time. In the event of this the commission would have on its hands certain properties without much value, and not earning a dollar. The object to be aimed at, though, lay in confining the commission's property to that which was of value, such as the Sand Point facilities, which would be a good live business.

The commission could say to the dominion government that in the winter its harbor would be run on similar lines to that carried out in summer in the harbors of Montreal and Quebec. The trust would ask that the port of St. John be made free of all charge if it was to enter into competition with the United States.

In Montreal and Quebec this trust would have precedents in the matter of borrowing from the dominion government for harbor improvements, and, since then, could afford to waive its interest. Above all it was important that the board should know just what it wanted in the way of harbor improvements and at once decided, then all concerned should not relinquish interest or aggressiveness until the object was accomplished.

J. A. Laidlaw said according to his recollections, the C. P. R. had received the Sand Point land grant on the grounds that facilities would be given adapted to the needs of the Bay of Fundy and the harbor of St. John.

Whereas it is desirable that Canadian exports and imports should be handled through Canadian ports and facilities.

Whereas it has been demonstrated that the port of St. John is a most important factor in the development of the Dominion.

Whereas the City of St. John, aided by the Dominion government, has made a very great extent relieved the dominion of early business and has made a connection with the establishment of such traffic, and has made a good business of it.

Whereas the present port, especially for the winter export and import trade, and the harbor of St. John, has been taxed beyond their capacity during the past two winters, steamships having had on several occasions to remain for days in the harbor waiting for berths.

Whereas only a small part of the products of Canada are present exports through Canadian ports and it is necessary to at once provide additional facilities for the increasing traffic.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this meeting it is necessary that plans and docks should be forthwith constructed to the south of the present Sand Point dock, and that the Dominion government be requested to provide the necessary funds and docks in connection with such increased facilities with as little delay as possible.

The resolution was seconded by W. S. Fisher, but was withdrawn.

Mr. Brock, in further discussing the west and crop estimates, believed it probable that the delegation from the Winnipeg Board of Trade and Grain Exchange might come to St. John to examine into the port facilities.

ENOS BOOMER, OF BROOKFIELD, N. S., DEAD.

THURSDAY, N. S., April 19.—(Special).—Enos Boomer, a prominent member of Brookfield, died suddenly during the night after a week's illness. He leaves a widow and 10 children.

THE TELEGRAPH'S PULPIT.

"Seek and Ye Shall Find," the Text of Rev. B. N. Noble's Sermon to Telegraph Readers—The Discoveries of Jesus.

Mat. vii.—"Seek and ye shall find." The world owes more than can be told to the discoveries of men through exploration and scientific research. What enrichment in material resources has come through the discovery of new continents and islands with their abundant wealth of forest, mine and soil! What infinite and varied blessings have become the heritage of the sons of men because of the discoveries of students of medical science, physical science, economic science, theology, archeology, physiology and history! Verily the world is under eternal obligations to discoverers of truth in these and other realms. Men at large, however, are not discoverers in these spheres, but they do make discoveries nevertheless, of infinite significance and moment for themselves in view of the life that now is and of that which is to come.

The child grows by the day and the year. First it is in touch with the members of the family and household, later it beholds the flowers and trees, the sun and clouds. Then he begins to pour his questions concerning these things into mother's ear. The child has discovered for himself the visible universe. His questions tell us so. True, his discoveries are exceedingly limited, for creation with its infinite mysteries lies beyond him as ocean beyond harbor, nevertheless the child has discovered the visible universe. He has touched a point on its measureless borders. He has planted a foot upon its vast expanses. He has caught a glimpse of the border of its outer garment. He has taken a sip from its
