WHO IS A GENTLEMAN.

A gentleman is not merely a person ac quainted with certain forms and etiquettes of life, easy and self-possessed in society, bale to speak, and act, and move in the world without awkwardness, and free from habits which are vulgar and in bad taste. A gentleman is something much beyond this; that which lies at the root of all his ease, and refinement, and tact, and power of pleasof every Christian virtue. It is the thoughtful desire of doing in every instance to others as he would that others should do unto him. He is constantly thinking, not indeed how he may give pleasure to others for the mere sense of pleasing, but how he car, show respect for others—how, he may avoid hurting their feelings.
