HAVE PURCHASED BUSINESS.

Meas. Schaefer and Reuel who have conducted the City meat market since the past few years have disposed of the same, the purchasers being Mr. Herman Fischer and Mr. Peter Berdus Jr., who will take possession next Monday. The new firm who are two of Waterloo's progressive young men need no introduction to the public they being well and favorably known. Mr. Fischer has had considerable experience in the butcher business having been engaged with his father Mr. B. Fischer, who for many years conducted the leading meat market, over ten years, later going to Toronto where he spent 3 years with the Wm. Davis Co. then returning to town and for several years was employed with his brother Ed. J. Dumais Ltd. Kitchener, who while sorry to see him leave, wish every success in his new venture. His company partner, Mr. Berdus, comes from a well known family, he has spent years in the wholesale butcher business, his father being an extensive buyer and raiser of cattle, sheep and pigs, he being proprietor of a large sheep ranch on his farm near Bloomingdale.

Both young men are obliging and courteous and their experience in the business will stand them in good stead and we bespeak for them a fair share of patronage from our citizens.

NEW POSITIVE TREATMENT TO REMOVE HAIR OR FUZZ

Women are fast learning the value of the use of depilatory for removing hair or fuzz from face, neck or arms. A paste is made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on the hairy surface. In 2 or 3 minutes it is rubbed off, the skin washes and every bit of hair has disappeared. No pain will result if you are careful to buy genuine delatone.

GOES ON RECORD AGAINST WAR-TIME PROHIBITION ENACTMENT.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., June 11.—Organized labor today went on record against war-time prohibition and in favor of the exemption of 2 1/2 per cent. beer from both the War-Time Prohibition amendment and a resolution adopted by the American Federation of Labor.

The resolution was carried by an overwhelming majority. It provided that a strong protest embodying its essential points be sent to President Wilson and Congress.

Nearly all, if not the entire body of delegates attending the reconstruction convention will go to Washington on Saturday by special train to participate in the great labor demonstration there in protest against further enactments of war-time prohibition.

Virtually every delegate on entering the convention hall to-day signed a card handed him by a representative of the central labor union at Washington signifying his intention of going to the capital.

THE 34th ANNUAL W.C.T.U. MEETING

Proceedings at Galt Session Reviewed.

The 34th annual convention of the Waterloo County Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at Ainslie St. Methodist Church, Galt, on Tuesday. There was a large attendance of delegates and visitors, representatives being present from Kitchener, Waterloo, Hepler, Preston, New Hamburg and Ayr. The convention was ably presided over by the County president, Mrs. W.E. Liesemer of Waterloo, and the program carried out during the three sessions was interesting and helpful.

Mrs. Cavers, of Galt, in her address of welcome mentioned the fact that just thirty three years ago (June 10th, 1886) the first convention was held, at Berlin, Ont.

The morning and afternoon sessions were devoted largely to business. The reports from the different departments showed splendid work done by the local unions during the year, worthy of special mention are the reports of the Flower Mission, Missionary, Militia and Red Cross.

Mr. Pugsley, vice president of the provincial union, and Miss Kathryn Morton, also a Provincial worker, both of Toronto, were present, and their helpful words of advice and encouragement throughout the day were much appreciated.

In the evening, Mrs. Morton addressed the convention on "Women's Privilege and Responsibility in Citizenship." Her earnest and inspiring address was listened to by a large gathering.

The prize banner, presented for securing the largest number of new members during the year went to Kitchener, who having added fifty-two Mrs. Shire, of Kitchener, Union receives a "Story of Honor" pin, having secured ten members for that Union during the year.

The presence and the kind and encouraging words of the pastor of the convention church, Rev. G. Bradshaw, who presided during the evening meeting, the splendid music given by Mrs. Kennedy and the soloists and choir of the church, and the hospitality of the ladies who provided and served refreshments to the delegates and visitors, contributed largely to the success of the convention, and the guests expressed their appreciation by a hearty vote of thanks.

The following officers were elected: Honorary Pres.—Mrs. C.S. Boehmer, Kitchener. President.—Mrs. W.E. Liesemer, Waterloo. Vice Pres.—Mrs. P.W. Gardiner, Galt. Corresponding Sec.—Mrs. W.H. Umbach, New Hamburg. Recording Sec.—Miss Sarah Wegman, Waterloo. Treasurer.—Mrs. M. Learn, Kitchener. Y and L.T.L. Sec.—Miss J. Rutherford, Galt.

Special Constable

say, it is understood that three arrests have already been made.

Four hours afterwards, the man, who started the whole affair, had not been arrested but his name, also his whereabouts, were known and it was expected he soon would be in custody. This man had been severely clubbed and went into drug store on opposite corner, bleeding very freely. There his wounds were dressed and a police ambulance drove up but he refused to enter the ambulance and foreigners in crowd were so sympathetic it was thought best to let him go free. He then marched away, according to seemingly reliable information, exhibiting his wounds proudly on the way.

As stated, most of the mob were foreigners but one special was hard pressed by a tall Englishman, armed with heavy pinchers, who said he was going to kill him. Knowing that many foreigners would be encountered on his beat, Morson said to his comrades as he started out: "Well boys, make it carnations and not lilies," referring to his funeral. At this time his condition is not thought to be serious.

The incident emphasizes the fact that foreigners have little respect for police when not in uniform and that the surrender of the authorities to the mob on Monday has to be followed up by more determined measures. Nothing could be more unfair, under existing conditions than to send specials, most of whom are returned men, out in pairs or fours, armed only with clubs, unless strong reinforcements, well-armed, are within easy reach. Monday's affair and last night's both bore indications of pre-arrangement.

At a meeting in Victoria Park at noon yesterday, speakers said it was up to them to get a labor city council and a labor government. Then R.E. Bray, semi-seriously suggested Fred Dixon, Labor M.P.P., as "our next premier," which was loudly applauded.

While deploring the wounding of Sgt. Coppins, V.C., Dixon said: "He apparently got what he was looking for when he signed up with the mounted police."

Bad badges, the replicas of those issued to the special constables, are being manufactured without authority from the city by a main street tinsmith, according to an official of one of the veterans' associations. Unauthorized persons are wearing false insignias and posing as police, he declared.

Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor, reached Winnipeg last night. He has been away ten days.

Graingrowers' Plan Would Cause Destruction

TARIFF REDUCTION, DECLARES REPORT TO C.M.A., WOULD CAUSE WIDESPREAD DEPRESSION.

TORONTO, June 11.—At the Canadian Manufacturers' Association meeting this afternoon the tariff committee, in their report expressed the great concern with which they had viewed the recent active propaganda of Western grain growers for the complete removal of certain customs duties and for sweeping reductions in others, coupled with proposals that the revenues lost by tariff reductions should be recovered through new taxation measures of a highly experimental nature.

"If these demands were granted," said the report, "widespread depression would result and all classes in the country would suffer. Our committee is convinced that the movement to secure these tariff reductions in view, step by step, ultimate free trade between Canada and the United States. Thus it follows that our fiscal policy would be determined not in Canada, but in Washington."

"It is fundamental that the maintenance of our separate British nationality depends upon the retention of our freedom to shape our protective customs laws to serve our own needs."

What it meant in our national development to import commodities from the United States, which should be made or produced in Canada's importations last year of 13,641 free tractors valued at $13,058,013. If these had been made in Canada the work would have given constant employment for one year to over 6,000 skilled mechanics.

"Free trade with the United States would sweep away all protection which Canadian jobbers and wholesalers enjoy in their direct dealing in European, Asiatic and South American commodities. On account of the vast United States' shipping and their convenient ports, free trade between the two countries would develop United States' importing jobbing houses, United States' ports, United States' railways, United States' financial institutions, and the United States' public revenues at the expense of Canada's wholesale merchants, ports, railways, financial institutions and revenues."

Those who would encourage greater imports of finished products from the United States did not seem to sufficiently comprehend the effect which their policy would have on the rate of exchange. The balance of Canada's trade with the United States was heavily against Canada, and placed Canadian money at a discount in the United States and the money of that country at a premium in Canada. Thus, a Canadian manufacturer, buying raw materials in the United States at the present rate of exchange, was obliged to pay about three per cent more than a United States manufacturer buying his raw material in Canada was able to pay, about three per cent more than the Canadian manufacturer could pay.

"Destructive Result." The fiscal policy counseled by the grain growers seems to offer nothing but destructive results, and is completely at variance with the tariff policies of other industrial countries, in which there is a noticeable tendency towards higher duties and restrictions.

For many years the association had consistently urged and supported a policy of reciprocal preferential tariffs for empire goods. "The carrying out of the preferential tariff principle throughout the empire would leave each British Empire into line with the policies followed on by other countries possessing overseas dominions. Your committee believes that the adoption of substantial tariff reductions among British countries, corresponding to the preferences provided in the tariff of Canada, will eventually strengthen and develop not merely the empire as a whole, but each constituent part thereof."

The committee acknowledged its debt of gratitude to the Canada war trade board, to the Canadian mission in London for their efforts in securing relief from such war-time trade restrictions were operating to the detriment of the Canadian mission in London for their efforts in bringing to Canada substantial orders.

The report also alluded to the absolute necessity for increasing the exports of Canada in order to meet the war debt interest.

Lloyd Harris, Canadian trade commissioner, spoke on export trade at this afternoon's session.

"The importance of export trade to Canada at the present time cannot be overstated," he said.

Mr. Harris said that during the war Canada changed from an agricultural to a manufacturing country.

"We concentrated during the war on manufacturing in Canada, and economically as any country. Our costs were lower than Great Britain's and agreed deal lower than the United States."
