

WATERLOO NEWS RECORD

CAR TURNED A DOUBLE SOMERSAULT

Occupants Escaped Unhurt.

Traveling at an excessive rate of speed the road between Conestoga and St. Jacobs an automobile in which were four men turned turtle the men escaping miraculously with their lives. The mishap occurred between 1.30 and 2 o'clock and eyewitnesses who saw the accident, rushed to the scene and were dumfounded when they saw the men extricate themselves apparently none the worse for their adventure. When the car left the road it turned two complete somersaults landing in an adjacent field on its side. So terrific was the impact that when it hit the fence rails were scattered a distance of from 15 to 20 feet. The car, while considerably damaged, was taken to a barn nearby and mechanics called to put the car again in shape.

Who the parties were or where the car came from was not learned but the experience is one they will not wish to go through again.

LUTHERAN BOARDS HELD INTERESTING MEETING YESTERDAY

A very interesting meeting of Lutheran pastors, Members of Church Boards and other Laymen was held in St. Johns Lutheran Church yesterday afternoon.

The purpose of this meeting was mainly to discuss ways and means as to how we can make Church work more effective and so help to extend our Seminary work and aid Lutheran Church work in general. The following addresses were delivered.

SIX NAMES

cult the people on big questions there would have been better legislation. There was also proportional representation. This was desirable. If a government had smaller majorities, there would be better legislation.

Independent Labor Candidate.

Mr. George C. Haeckel referred to the statement made by one of the candidates at a recent meeting regarding nominees at the Independent Labor meeting. It had been said that out of four nominees, two were a doctor and a business man, who withdrew. The fact was that fourteen gentlemen were nominated, among whom these were only two.

Referring to the platform of the Independent Labor party he mentioned the recall as a plank. The eight hour day was another. He said in the matter of the eight-hour day there is no warranted conflicting with the farmers' party. The L. L. P. did not aim at the farmers in its eight-hour day plank, they did not include them. It was to be applied only industrially so that the workers who have to toil at industrial work under stress and pressure could get the eight-hour day.

Workers should have more representation in parliament, especially those in industrial circles.

Touching further on the party's platform he mentioned the democratic control of industry. Direct legislation through the initiative, referendum and recall, pensions for mothers with dependent children, old age pensions, government control of cold storages.

These were only a few of the planks. He urged all to study the whole platform carefully, which was very brief. We believe that performance is better than promise, and we rest our claim for the support of the workers on the general declaration that we stand for the industrial freedom of those who toil and the political liberation of those who for so long have been denied justice," Mr. Haeckel concluded.

Mr. Charles Mills, M.P.P.

Mr. Mills, the present member, remarked that a prominent statesman had said: "A platform is a good thing to get in on but it is no good to stand on."

Replying to Mr. Amussen's speech I must point out that while a representative should try to represent all the people, which I have tried to do, I was elected to represent the Conservative party. I feel that I had good excuses for always supporting the party in its measures for they were all good measures.

Referring to Mr. Amussen's charge of extravagance by the Ontario Government in expending $100,000 on the government house, he remarked that Mr. Amussen had not told the meeting the history of this expenditure. The Dominion government in buying the former site had stipulated that should this site ever be sold the proceeds must be used in the erection of a new government house. The former site was sold to the C. P. R. Mr. Amussen did not deduct this $800,000, secured from the purchasers, which he should have subtracted from the gross amount of the expenditure on the new building.

He was surprised at Mr. Amussen's statement about the Hydro deal for he had been told that the Ontario Government was the largest supporter of the hydro power movement. "The fact is that the power plant he referred to, is not scrapped, but is supplying you with power today. We are using the power generated by it," he said.

Touching on the timber limits, Mr. Mills said that in every case had tenders been called for by the government in selling timber. Tenders had been offered as much as $14 a thousand feet. Their competition in bidding had boosted the price of lumber for the builder.

Regarding Ontario having $100,000 debt as alleged by Mr. Barbour, Mr. Mills said that the former had not deducted $50,000,000 debentures on the hydro power project of the municipalities. There then was the T. and N. O. Railway, which if sold to-day would bring in far more than the original price.

He was surprised at Mr. Barbour's statement when he objected to the alleged extravagance of the government in expenditures on the University. He had thought the U. F. O. claimed that not enough is being expended in this direction.

In regard to the referendum Mr. Mills said all knew where he stood in this matter. Personally he would support any legislation authorizing the sale of beer of 5.51 per cent. proof, of it all was Jane and Catherine Lee and the sale of stronger liquors in shops under government regulation.

Concluding he said this is the third time he is appealing to the people of North Waterloo and he hoped that he would again get their support. He would continue to try to serve the electors to the best of his ability.

Mr. James M. Reid.

Mr. James M. Reid of Toronto, the Socialist candidate in North Waterloo began his address thus: "Fellow-workers and wage-slaves, for it is you only whom I am going to confine my remarks." The speaker limited his address to the Socialist platform which he said was the only one that would help the workers. "I arrived here late and heard only some of the remarks of the last speaker. Some one said to me: 'you're late and have missed some of the points.' I did not miss anything. That 'stuff' that all the other candidates got off is the same old stuff and don't interest you. It doesn't give you a living wage. It has been computed that a woman with a family must have a $1500 income a year to live. I will, therefore, ask all of you who draw $1500 in wages a year to stand up. There are none. I knew there would not be. You heard something about a government house and its cost. Now that 'stuff' don't interest you. It's your own home that you're concerned about. You want a home for yourself. You heard something about the Hydro electric having saved the people $50,000,000. Well, how much better off are you to-day than you were when you paid a higher rate to private companies? It is said the people own it. Nothing of the kind, the bondholders own it. It is still the old system under disguise."

"The other day as I was going down the street in Guelph I noticed a rumour being made. Well, I saw rumourers who had nothing for their kiddies, looking about for a coat or something else because they could not afford to buy anything new. But I didn't see the wife of Hon. Hugh Guthrie there among the buyers."

"The present system, of the power and control of the plutocrats must go. You must send men to parliament

HOLIDAY CROWDS AT LOCAL THEATERS

That Twin City Citizens are movie fans was evidenced by the crowds that attended the three local theatres yesterday. The management had provided extra good attractions and there was not a dissenting voice from the thousands who took in one of the performances.

Virtuous Men at Imperial.

Capacity crowds attended the Imperial theatre yesterday at all performances on the occasion of the great photoplay "Virtuous Men" which more than delighted the large crowds and grownups as well. The cause of it all was Jane and Catherine Lee, the two American Buds red for pure wholesome child comedy it proved the best film yet produced in which these talented children are being trained.

The Star as usual played to the S.R.O. sign at all performances yesterday and if one dabbled for a minute that the show yesterday was not a winner they would only have had to stand anywhere near the theatre and hear the peals of laughter of the children and grownups as well. The cause of it all was Jane and Catherine Lee, the two American Buds red for pure wholesome child comedy it proved the best film yet produced in which these talented children are being trained.

At the Allen.

Madge Kennedy in "Through the Wrong Door" the feature film at the Allen and which will be shown at this popular theatre for the last time to-night enjoyed immense patronage yesterday at both afternoon and evening performances. All movie stars have their nost of followers and judging by the enthusiastic reception given Madge Kennedy her friends in this movie centre are legion. It was a great film and the large audiences were immensely pleased. Perils of Thunder Mountain No. 12 is gripping while the Pathe Comedy "Pistols for Breakfast" makes up a bill past excellence.

PASTOR C. ROBERTS ADDRESS AUDIENCE

ON CHRIST'S SECOND COMING

End of Men's Long Work Week

A very interesting address on the subject of Christ's Second coming was given Sunday afternoon in the Star theatre, by Pastor C. Roberts, of the B.B.S.A. Winnipeg, Man. Mr. Roberts pointed out that all Christian people, of whatever denomination they might be, believed in Christ's second coming. He thought that it would be admitted also, that they all believed in the establishment of God's Kingdom on earth, as evidenced by the general acceptance of the Lord's Prayer. Part of which reads, "Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth, as it is done in Heaven." Mr. Roberts points out that as we look back over the past 19 centuries, we see no evidence that during that time God's will has been done on earth as it is done in Heaven. Therefore, he said that time must yet be future, and he pointed out that there are strong reasons for believing it would be in the very near future.

"But," he said, "someone may say 'what is the basis for your expectation that the kingdom is near?' To us it seems that, judging from the unrest and trouble in the world today, it will be a long time before a satisfactory conditional affairs is reached."

In answer to this question, Mr. Roberts pointed out that this very condition of unrest and trouble in which the world is today was foretold by the Great Master, namely, war, famine, pestilence, etc. (Matt. 24:7) and was referred to as being some of the evidences that His Kingdom was near at hand. To His disciples, Jesus said, "when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads, for your redemption draweth nigh." (Luke 21:28)

Mr. Roberts points out that this reasoning on the part of Christians was not selfish in its character, because with the redemption of the people of God would come the establishment of the Kingdom of God, and then speedily would follow its long promised "blessings" upon all the families of the earth.

The speaker then referred to Daniel's prophecy of "The Time of the End." Daniel 12:4, and showed that the "Time of the End" did not mean the end of time, but rather the end of man's long work-week of 6,000 years, and the period of preparation for the "rest" of Messiah's Kingdom. He believes that the time of the end began in 1799 A.D. The prophet Daniel says that in the time of the end (1) "Many shall run to and fro," (2) and "knowledge shall be increased." Both of these statements have been fulfilled in the past 120 years. In the rapid travelling of our day, the wonderful increase of knowledge, further, Daniel says that (3) "there shall be a time of trouble such as never was since there was a nation." This we have also witnessed during the past few years, and we are still witnessing it. Now in order, according to the prophet Daniel, will come the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom and its blessings of peace and righteousness to mankind. (Dan. 12:1-3; Isa. 2: 2-4)

ROUSING MEETING

People Turned Away at St. Clements

Mr. Amussen's meeting at St. Clements on Saturday evening was next to the historic meeting during the 1917 campaign the largest political gathering ever held there. The spacious hall was filled to capacity and the stairway outside was crowded with thousands of people who were unable to gain admittance in order to hear the speakers. There were more than 250 people in attendance, among them Mr. H. B. Dyer, Mayor of Waterloo, Mr. W.D. Euler, M.P., and the candidate, Mr. Amussen. The temper of the people was unmistakable. The speaker, Mr. Amussen, was determined to remember the necessity of freeing the Province from the domination of the Hearst Government. St. Clements will without fail roll up as good a majority for Amussen as it did in 1917 for the anti-Union candidate.

All the speeches were clear-cut and to the point. Mr. Amussen was particularly successful in his explanation of the restrictive legislation of Hearst on the temperance issue, and he called the referendum a complicated and unfair measure. In a speech of the Ontario Government and expressed his adherence to advanced Labor legislation. In a debate between Hearst and Dewar he is a supporter of Dewar, without however, being bound to absolutely to any party.

Mr. Amussen, the last speaker, was received with great favor. After thanking the electors for their assistance in his fight for their rights in the referendum, he dwelt on the autocratic methods of Hearst and his associates, in their procedure with regard to prohibition, as well as the extension of the legal life of the legislature. The large number of candidates for the Opposition in North Waterloo makes it impossible for the electors to get together and support the leading one, otherwise they merely throw their vote away. The leading man without a doubt is Mr. Amussen, for he is a straight opponent of Hearst on all counts and he is moreover a capable and sincere representative of Labor.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur

Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyle's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

LEADER KING MAY GET ACCLAMATION

AND TAKE SEAT IN HOUSE BEFORE PROPRORATION

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—There is a possibility that Hon. W. L. McKenzie King, leader of the Opposition, will make his appearance in the House before prorogation. From present indications Mr. King will not be opposed in Prince and should not be, then his election by acclamation will be assured on Oct. 20th, the day of the nomination. Thereafter it is only necessary for the returning officer to notify the clerk of the crown in chancery of the election and no period of time is necessary for the filing of protests or for applications for recounts as would be the case in an election at the polls.

It is quite possible that prorogation may not come until the end of the present month. In such case the new leader of the Opposition would be at least enabled to make an appearance.

YOUNG BOYS TOOK JOY RIDE

Two young boys, who have just reached the teen age decided to take a jaunt in one of the boys father's cars. They however forgot to see that they had enough gasoline and when a few miles out in the country the car stopped and they were stranded. A passing autoist kindly helped them out and sorry to say he got into the same fix before reaching town. When the boys first learned of their predicament they phoned to the parent who wishing to teach them a lesson told them to get back to town as best they could. No doubt the boys will not take another little jaunt without first making sure they have the wherewithal to get back home again.

CANDIDATES WERE ENDORSED EARLY

There was no excitement of any kind yesterday at the nomination meeting everything passing off most quietly. The endorsement papers of the different candidates were filed early with the returning officer Mr. C. H. Froelich. The papers of candidate Barbour, Reid and Snider were the first to be handed in and shortly before 12 o'clock none those of Mr. Mills and Mr. Amussen were filed. The papers of Mr. Geo. C. Haeckel, the labor candidate were filed about one o'clock this completing the six who will contest the election.

The different candidates had a great deal more signatures than the 100 required the figures running all the way from 120 to 230. By this it will be seen that nearly 1000 electors had signed the endorsement papers or approximately one twentieth of the electors of the riding. Included in the signatures were the names of a great many ladies showing that they are taking an interest even in the preliminary stage.
