Editorial

WE REGRET that, owing to the illness of our Editor-in-Chief, Mr. J. V. McKenzie, this issue has been somewhat delayed in going to press. We also trust that our readers, bearing in mind the difficulties attending its publication, will be lenient in their criticisms of the number, and especially of its editorial pages. They will, doubtless, be greatly relieved to learn that Mr. McKenzie's illness is of no more serious a nature than an attack of that puerile malady commonly known as "measles," and that he will in all probability be "on the job" in ample time to supervise the getting out of the Christmas ACTA.

Professor De Witt, B.A., Ph.D.

Among the recent appointments upon which the college is to be congratulated is that of N. W. DeWitt, B.A., Ph.D., to the Chair of Latin and Ancient History. Professor DeWitt thus succeeds Dr. Bain, who retired last summer after fifty years of splendid service to his alma mater.

N. W. DeWitt came to Victoria from the Hamilton Collegiate Institute, with the Prince of Wales Scholarship, in 1895. At the close of what was throughout a very successful course, he graduated in '99 with first-class honors in classics, winning the Edward Wilson gold medal. During his undergraduate career
