Mrs. M.'s patience was much tried by a servant who had a habit of standing around with her mouth open. One day, as the maid waited on the table, her mouth was open as usual, and her mistress, giving her a severe look, said :

"Mary, your mouth is open." "Yessum." replied Mary, "I opened it."-[Everybody's Magazine. Mi3436 Lineo1-15 15

At the International Sunday-school Convention, at Louisville, Ky., in answer to the roll-call of States, reports were verbally given by the various State chairman. When the Lone Star State was chilled, a brawny specimen of Southern manhood stepped out into the aisle, and with strident voice exclaimed : "We represent the great State of Texas. The first white woman born in Texas is still living the now has a population of over three millions."

There was a pause of bewilderment for a moment, and then a voice from the galleries rang out clear and distinct :

we need her ! "-- Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree," in Everybody's Magazine for May.

TACT 1

A Canadian newspaper man, possessed of a swarthy complexion, tells this joke on himself :

Early this spring I was out in the woods one day, and towards evening went into a country station to wait for a train A couple of ladies were there with their young hopefuls, one a boy about five years old. After talking a while to the youngster, there was a lull in the conversation, during which he eyed me curiously. Finally, he said: "Your face is black; there must be some nigger in you," which, under the circumstandas, was, perhaps, excusable in the child, but the cap sheaf was placed when his mother, to patch up the break, re-marked: "That boy always says what he thinks."

GOOD ADVICE.

Sydney Fisher cut the following from a newspaper and preserved it for himself : "When you rise in the morning, form a resolution to make the day a happy one to a fellow-creature. It is easily done. A left-off garment to the man who needs it, a kind word to the sorrowful, an encouraging expression to the striving-trifles in themselves as light as air-will do at least for the twenty-four hours. And if you are young, depend upon it, it will tell when you are old; and if you are old, rest assured it will send you gently and happily down the stream of time to eternity. By the most simple arithmetical sum look at the result. If you send one person, only one, happily through each day, that is three hundred and sixty-five in the course of the year. And suppose you live forty years only give others a chance to enjoy it in a way they can afford. I've got a good thing. I'm proving that every day. I want every weak, puny man, every man with a pain or an ache, to get the benefit of my invention. Some men have doctored a good deal-some have used other ways of applying electricity - without getting cured, and they are chary about paying money now until they know what they are paying for.

if you are that kind of a man, this Belt is yours without a cent of cost to you until you are ready to say to me, "Doctor, you have earned your price, and here it is."

That's trusting you a good deal and it is showing a good deal of confidence in my Belt. But] know that most men are honest, especially when they have been cured of a serious ailment, and very few will impose on me.

As to what my Belt will do, I know that it will cure wherever there is a possible chance, and there is a good chance in nine cases out of ten.

So you can afford to let me try anyway, and I'll take the chances. If you are not sick, don't t'fle with me, but if you are, you owe it to yourself and to me, when I make an offer like this, to give me a fair trial.

I want you to know what I have done for others. Dr. McLaughlin:

Dear Sir,—I must a pologize for being so long in answering your letter, and, at the same time, I must say that I was sur-prised to receive same, asking for results by the use of your Electric Belt. It must be fully two years ago that I wrote you to the effect that the Belt did the work O.K. I wore it then for some time, and gradually, but surely, both rheumatism and weakness disappeared, until I laid the Belt aside, and have proclaimed it a real cure. Yes, the Belt cures.

I wrenched my back last fall, and immediately applied the Belt, and an again well. I repeat it.—I believe the Belt is a wonderful appliance for the relief of suffering humanity. I have recommended your treatment to a young lady, who has a very severe case of rheumatism. I hope that through the use of your Belt you may be enabled to give her the required cure. Yours truly

January Sist, 1906. G. DUVAL, Grand Mere, Que. CURED OF RHEUMATISM 3 YEARS AGO AND NEVER HAD A RETURN OF IT.

Dr. McLaughlin: Collingwood, Ont., Dec. 16, 1905. Dear Sir,-I must say that your Belt has done me a lot of good since wearing it. I have never been troubled with rheumatism. I find the Belt just the thing to do as you say. I have lent it to others, and they speak well of it. Wishing you every success, I remain, yours truly,

If you would believe the thousands of men whom I have already treated, my Belt is worth its weight in gold.

But some men don't believe anything until they see it. That's why I make this effer. I want to let you see it, and feel it, and know it by your ewh experience before I get a cent. If I don't cure you my Belt comes back to me and we quit friends. You are out the time you spend en it—wearing it while you sleep—nothing more. But I expect to cure you if I take your case. If I think I can't cure you I'll tell you so, and not waste your time. Anyway, try me, at my expense. Call To-Day and let me show

OUR HARDWOOD SUPPLIES NEARLY EXHAUSTED.

Editor "The Farmer's Advocate":

We consume from 7 to 10 million feet of lumber per annum. We purchase in Canadian market all the suitable tunber we can obtain, but we are miliged to import a large amount of hardwood lumber and its substitutes from the United States. The supply of hardwood lumber, and some of the softwood grades, such as basswood, is fast becoming very scarce and difficult to obtain at any price in the Canadian market.

We are not in a position to contrast the present prices for lumber with those prevailing ten, twelve or thirty years ago in Canada, but from what we can learn, it would appear to us that the prices of some kinds of hardwood lumber has more than doubled during the past twenty or twenty-five years.

We trust that your efforts to have some action taken to preserve the forests and reforest the timber lands in Canada may meet with success. INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CO. OF
