

DON'T STOP to ask your neighbors. Lift the load yourself with THE BURR SELF-LOCKING TACKLE BLOCK.

Can be used in any position and lock securely. The heavier the load, the tighter it locks. Never destroys the rope in locking. For butchering, stretching wire fences, lifting wagon-boxes, sick or injured animals, etc., it is indispensable to farmers. Saves labor of two or three men. 500 to 5000 pounds capacity. YOU WANT a hatcher that does not require watching; a hatcher in which the heat is perfectly, automatically regulated.

THE MODEL

contains the most perfect heat controller in the world—strong, yet active, sensitive, yet positive—perfect in action.

The Patent Office has decided in my favor in the interference suit on this perfect-acting regulator The Model Corrugated Leaf Compound Thermostat.

This Thermostat has three corrugations in each leaf, is exceedingly strong and rigid; is not easily damaged, and is so positive in action that the entire movement given off by the different co-efficient of expansion between the two metals of which it is made is transmitted to the controlling device without any loss of movement.

The Model Incubator gives a perfect heat control, which stimulates and holds the germ development uniformly constant and normal, as under a hen.
This wonderful hatcher has almost a perfect balance in ventilation and humidity, and supplies all the vitalizing principles found under the incubating hen. The Model Incubators and Brooders are used on the biggest money-making commercial poultry plants in the world. The Model Double Indoor Brooder is just what you want for winter work. Broiler men pronounce it the most successful rearing yet produced. At the Model Farm, where we raised over 80,000 birds the past season, the Model Double Indoor Brooder did the best winter work. Buy your incubators and brooders of the man who knows how to hatch and raise poultry, who is doing it successfully on a commercial basis, and who can help you to be successful. Your success is my success. Write for my printed matter.

GOSSIP.

A correspondent of an English exchange reports that a ewe in his flock, on March 1st, gave birth to a strong, healthy lamb, and on March 16th produced another. The first lamb is perfectly white, while the second has black head and legs.
A Shropshire ram had been running with the flock, while the mother of the lambs was a small, horned ewe.

Mr. George Bruce, formerly tenant of Heatherwick, in Aberdeenshire, died recently in his 80th year. He was a contemporary and personal friend of the late Amos Cruickshank. The Heatherwick cattle were always popular, and it was only a year ago that Mr. Duthie, at Perth, paid 1,000 guineas for Achilles, from the herd. Two or three years ago, Mr.
Bruce retired from farming, and was succeeded by his son, Mr. Robert Bruce, who is promising to maintain to the full the traditions of the farm as a center of Shorthorn interest.

Mr. Neil Smith, Brampton, Ont., recently bought from Mr. James Picken, Torr, Kirkcudbright, three powerful, well-ribbed, thick Clydesdale stallions, got respectively by the big, grand horse, Imperialist, the Cawdor-cup champion, Revelant, and Mr. Kerr's great premium horse, Lothian Again (11804). These horses are out of mares of superior breeding, one being Lady Afton (16890), by the prize horse, Le Beau, and the second a grandly-bred mare, by Darnley's Hero (5697). Mr. Smith has for several years past got solid big horses from Mr.
Picken, which have proved highly profitable in Canada. These are likely to sustain the reputation so formed.

To those not brought directly in contact with the practice of breeders, by their connection with the herd and flock books of the various breeds of improved live stock, it may seem a little singular that there should be any necessity for urging upon those who grow pedigreed stock the importance of keeping full and complete private herdbooks. It would appear that if a man were sufficiently interested in a breed to handle, mate and manage it as it should be managed, he would find a pleasure in a well-kept herd-book containing the fullest details in regard to his flock or herd. Nevertheless, it is a fact that many breeders are careless in this respect and rely on loose memoranda for some things, and on memory alone for others that should always find a place in a carefully and systematically-kept private herdbook.

There are a great many breeders who do this, and who are as careful and as prompt in keeping up the private herd-book as is the merchant who holds himself prepared at all times to go into court, if necessary, and swear to his books of original entry; but there are a great many who do not.

No breeder should rely on either memory or loose memoranda. Every breeder should keep a service-book that should be written, as books of original entry in trade are required to be written —“at the time the transaction takes place.” He should keep, besides a herd-book that will contain every material fact in the life-history of every member of the herd, and it would be well if it contained every interesting fact as well as those that are at the time deemed matterial. These details should be written up as the facts occur, while they are perfectly fresh in the mind. They should be kept in permanent form so that they may all be susceptible of proof, even after the lapse of many years, if need be. An accurate, well-kept herdbook saves the breeder lots of trouble when he comes to record, and is a source of satisfaction in every way.

All breeders, young or old, should keep carefully and systematically, private herd-books that will record, immediately and permanently, all the facts that are matterial to the accuracy and validity of the pedigrees they propose to sell along with the animals they offer for sale.

DELATED THE MEALS.

A weary guest at a small and not very clean country inn was repeatedly called, the morning after his arrival, by the colored man-of-all-work.

"See here," he finally burst forth, "how many times have I told you I don't want to be called? I want to sleep!"

"I know, suh, but day've got to hab
