If You Are 45 Years Old

you need glasses of one kind or another. This is a generally recognized optical fact, based upon observation in thousands of cases.

With advancing age the muscles of the eye gradually lose the power of accommodation for far and near sight, with the result that we become unable to see as distinctly as in our younger days. This condition comes about so gradually that many people do not realize that their vision is not so good as formerly.

Those entering upon middle age almost invariably need glasses, and in many cases are subjecting their eyes to positive injury by going without them. Better have your eyes properly examined before it is too late.

Sgt. Mott Writes Home

Sergt. J. E. Mott, formerly of Robert's Dray Store, but who joined the 5th Field Ambulance of the Second Contingent, just about a year ago, writes home from France to his mother, Mrs. W. W. Mott, Mount Vernon:

Camp in France, Sept. 19th, 1915. Dear Mother,—Well, mother we are here at last and I am now resting in a barn a few miles behind the firing line waiting to take over our position which will be in a few hours.

I wrote you a line when we left England; at least, just a note, to inform you that we were on our way. It was very tiresome for we worked whenever needed and slept whenever possible. I think everyone enjoyed the trip. We loaded everything on the train and then loaded it on the boat, and then transferred it from the boat to the train in France. We arrived at the end of our train journey about 2.30 p.m. on Saturday, and had to walk twenty miles to our camp here. We were all very tired but had a good night's rest, and I feel as though I could walk another twenty miles to-day.

We have two sky pilots with our unit now; or perhaps I had better explain a little better—two ministers. I think they are principally for hospital work.

We have lots of fun trying to talk to the French people. Some of the boys speak French rather fluently, so they talk to us. The French people seem quite backward as regards farming, but just in this neighborhood it is a lot better than some other places we have seen.

We travelled from the seaport by train and to cap it all we rode in horse cars. It was great fun. When tired one would lie down on the floor and it was none too clean, but we are getting used to the rough life. We see aeroplanes every day and near the guns very plainly, but the boys speak of it as a joke and make light of it. The old people who are left to do the work go on just the same and one would not think anything unusual was going on.

Well, mother, I have to be rather careful what I put in my letters so you will excuse this short letter. I am well and doing fine. With love, J. E. Mott.
