Meddling With Canada's Affairs

[The Toronto Saturday Night] The National Publishers' Association of the U. S. A. is all "hot up" over the oft repeated suggestion in this country that something should be done to either cut off or slow down the export of our pulpwood to the United States. In a word, conserve Canada's natural resources for the use of Canadians, or Americans who wish to take advantage of their opportunities by operating in Canada.

A brief was presented the other day on behalf of the National Publishers' Association to Senator Borah, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee. The document is interesting. Among other things it accuses us of bad faith. "Under a mask of forest conservation," says the document, "Canadian manufacturers are trying to force the Dominion Government to stop the exportation of pulpwood." Further on the brief states: "They are trying to force the American operators to move their mills into Canada, where the wood would be transformed into pulp for the paper mills here. That accomplished, the next step would be to embargo pulp, thus forcing Americans to make their paper in Dominion territory under the domination of the Canadian paper industry."

Well, supposing we do all that. A million cords of pulpwood exported brings Canada some $10,000,000. Made into newsprint this amount of pulpwood is worth approximately $70,000,000. Is that worth while?

In their brief the National Publishers' Association admit their dependence upon Canadian pulp, and they further state that without Canadian pulp being freely admitted to the United States the employment of some 120,000 workers would be jeopardized. That can be readily adjusted, for they may work up here.

Any objection to our looking out for our own interests comes with bad grace from a people who have done everything possible to keep Canadian products out of the United States market. And as they apparently have a great dislike to that word embargo, let us drop it and substitute the word duty—a duty which will preserve our pulpwood for our own people in the same manner as the United States farmer and stockraiser and dairyman are preserving their own market for their own produce by placing an insurmountable duty against Canada.

Of course this is not the first time we have heard of the National Publishers' Association. If we are not mistaken these are the same gentlemen, or was it their conferees, the members of the American Pulp and Paper Association who employed expensive lawyers to trap around with the Royal Commission re the pulpwood situation a couple of years ago, feeding the members of the Commission such evidence as best suited their purposes, in their attempt to defeat the objects for which the Commission was appointed.

As the Toronto "Mail and Empire" will put it: "The pulpwood produced in this country is subject to the laws that are made in this country, with which our neighbors have nothing to do."

The farmers of the Fordney tariff did not consult us previous to cutting out from under Canadian producers practically our entire United States market in certain lines, and it is indeed a poor rule that will not work both ways.

MARYSVILLE FELT EARTHQUAKE SHOCK

People Made for Streets Fearing Buildings Were About to Fall.

[Special to The Daily Gleaner.] Marysville, N. B., March 2.—The advent of March was heralded by an earthquake shock which caused buildings to rock, porcelains, dishes to rattle and brics-and-bracs and other articles in the homes to fall from their resting places was experienced here Saturday evening about 10.30 o'clock. During the duration of the quake a weird whirring wind pervaded the air which ceased when the shock subsided. Many persons became much alarmed and rushed from their homes into the open air where they remained until everything was quiet again.

The scholars of grades VII and VIII, Principal Miss Zula V. Hall's room of the public schools, held their annual school garden sports and supper Saturday afternoon and evening. Coasting and skating were enjoyed for a time, after which games and amusements were carried out in the school room. At 5.30 supper was served, the girls of grade VIII, serving. Following the supper an impromptu programme of vocal music, readings, etc., was carried out.

The Mission Band of Main street Baptist church held a very enjoyable and successful entertainment in Odd Fellows' Hall Friday evening. Dr. MacNeill acted as chairman and a fine programme of vocal and instrumental music, readings, etc., was rendered. Home made candy was sold during the evening. The proceeds in all amounted to $38.

Mrs. Isabel Collins, who has been critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph E. Casper, for some time, is now in a very precarious condition and all hopes of her recovery have been abandoned. Her two sons, John Collins, of Moncton, and Joseph Collins, of Carter's Point, and her daughter, Miss Annabelle Collins, of Providence, R. I., are at the bedside of their mother.

Norman C. Cochran, president of the York County Sunday School Association, addressed the Main street Baptist Sunday school yesterday afternoon. His remarks were both interesting and instructive.

Miss Eva Stewart sang a solo in excellent form at the Sunday evening service of Main street Baptist church. Mrs. T. A. Peterson is still confined to her room with illness, although she is improving.

Indoor baseball and bowling are the order of the day at the Dawson Club.

CHANGE LIQUOR LAW IN ALBERTA

No Additional Club Licenses to Be Granted After April 30.

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 28.—There are several proposed amendments to the Alberta Liquor Act which are to be submitted to the Legislature for consideration in the near future. One of the most important changes is that "No club license shall be issued to any club after the 30th day of April, 1925, other than the issuing of renewal licenses to any clubs which were holders of licenses on the 13th day of April, 1925."

Another change of importance is that any licensee who is convicted for infraction of the Act, becomes under the law a public place for a year, and liquor may not be consumed on the premises.

Liquor may not be kept in the rear of stores merely by installing a bed and calling it a place of residence, under another provision of the proposed amendments. Liquor may not be purchased from other than the Government liquor stores or a drug store. To keep liquor purchased from any other source will be considered as an offence, according to another proposed change.

It was expected that some amendments would be made for excluding women from drinking halls, but no such provision is being made.

BRITISH RUM SHIP DRIVEN TO HARBOR

Forced to Seek Shelter From Gale and Seized by U. S. Officials.

BRITISH RUM SHIP. . . Providence, R. I., Feb. 28.—The coast guard liquor patrol to-day seized the British schooner Pesaguad, which was driven by a gale from her anchorage off the Rhode Island coast last night and was obliged to take shelter in the lee of the old harbor at Block Island.

The Pesaguad, according to the coastguard men, has 3,500 cases of liquor aboard. Her skipper, it is understood, will protest the seizure on the grounds that it was illegal because his ship was disabled and was seeking shelter. He made no effort to dispose of any of the liquor while at Block Island.
