AUDITORS' REPORT TO SHAREHOLDERS

We have compared the above Balance Sheet with the books and accounts of the Dominion Bank, and the certified returns received from the Branches, and after checking the cash and verifying the securities of the Bank, and after a careful examination of the principal Branches on December 31st, 1919, we certify that, in our opinion, such Balance Sheet exhibits a true and correct view of the state of the Bank's affairs, according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the Bank.

In addition to the examinations mentioned, the cash and securities at the Chief Office and certain of the principal Branches were checked and verified by us at another time during the year and found to be in accord with the books of the Bank.

All information and explanations required have been given to us and all transactions of the Bank which have come under our notice have, in our opinion, been within the powers of the Bank.

TELL THE WORLD THIS WOMAN SAYS

That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made Me a Well Woman.

Los Angeles, Cal.—"I suffered with female troubles for years, was sick most of the time, was not able to do my own housework, and I could not get help from doctors. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers, and took six bottles, and am a well woman. You can use my name to tell the world the good your medicine has done me as I shall praise it always."—Mrs. A. L. Devine, 647 St. Paul Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.

Women who suffer from any form of weakness, as indicated by displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, backache, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," should do as Mrs. Devine did, and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a thorough trial. For over forty years this famous remedy, which contains the curative, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, has been correcting just such ailments. If you have mysterious complications write for advice to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

NEVER HAVE SEEN A DOG OR A CAT

Children in War-Scarred Europe Never Even Hear the Birds Sing.

When you grinned at the six-year-old son of the house romping in the yard with his dog, or watched his small sister carefully dividing her attention between ribbon bows for the house "lady" and the robin on the lawn, did it ever occur to you that somewhere in the world there are little folks of the same age who have never seen a dog nor a cat nor heard a bird sing. Yet there are some hundreds of thousands of youngsters in war-scarred Europe to-day who are ignorant of the existence of the furred and feathered creatures which help to make a Canadian kiddie's day worth while.

Jewish relief workers who have returned from the Eastern and Central European countries cite the absence of domestic animals and birds to illustrate the desolate bareness of the countries that were swept again and again by the warring armies for nearly five years. Jacob Basheva, who had charge of a unit for the Joint Distribution Committee, an agency disbursing relief funds raised by the Canadian Jewish Relief Committee, the Central Committee for Relief and the Jewish People's Relief Committee, has described the conditions there.

"In that bare stretch of country where there are scarcely any trees, no habitations other than the miserable dug-outs in which returned refugees exist—the 'no man's land' of Poland—we did not see a single cat or dog, and in all the time we were there we never heard a bird sing. Armies have swept bare the country and trampled the ground to the consistency of rock, while shell fire has blasted the countryside. No animal, even domestic animals, was left there. So there are children to-day of five or six years of age who have never seen a dog nor a cat and have never heard the singing of a bird."

DESTITUTE JEWS HAVE NO HOUSES

Six Million Unfortunates Compelled to Use Packing Cases, Cans and Sacks.

Patterning on the block houses that children build, the destitute Jewish refugees of Eastern Europe, whose homes have been destroyed during the war, are trying to solve their housing problem with the packing boxes in which relief supplies have been sent to them. Reports received by the Canadian Jewish War Relief Committee from relief workers abroad.

Not only is every particle of food and clothing used to the utmost advantage in these stricken lands where 6,000,000 Jews are at the point of starvation, but the cans and sacks and wrapping cases in which the food and clothing come are made to do duty as well. There is neither lumber or nails in most of the countries of eastern Europe at present, and the packing boxes are handled as if they were the finest mahogany, when the shipments arrive. Not a nail is allowed to go to waste, when the boxes are taken carefully apart.

All over eastern Europe at present men, women, and children, many of them sick with typhus, are living in cellars, in devastated houses, in old freight cars, on roofless platforms, open to the wind, or in fields, unprotected from the elements. The clothing of these destitute Jews, consisting for the most part of the rags that they have worn for the five years of the war, afford them little warmth.

For this reason, the packing boxes, which might not be considered particularly luxurious homes at another time, are welcomed as life-savers just now. Boards from them are used to rebuild broken houses, and the boxes make lean-to shelters where no building stood before. Some of the smaller boxes are piled one above the other, like children's blocks, and nailed together, to serve as temporary houses.

MOTHERS PRAY THAT BABIES MIGHT DIE

Suffering Among Jews is So Bad That Death Alone Gives Relief.

Mothers begging for death to relieve their children's suffering, was the most tragic thing seen by Leo Wolfson, New York attorney and journalist, in seven weeks spent in Roumania, Galicia, Bessarabia and Bukovina. Mr. Wolfson, who has just returned to New York, made the trip in order to study political conditions in these countries.

"There are one and one-half millions Jews in this section of Eastern Europe who are in immediate want," declared Mr. Wolfson. "In every town I visited, I saw starving, naked Jews stretching out their hands to passers-by for a piece of bread."

"They hardly look like human beings. All one sees are living skeletons, covered with yellow skin. The children are small, worn-out, frightened, little creatures, who just drag themselves aimlessly around."

"How they will live through the winter, no one knows. No one can begin to describe this picture of misery and want. But one can get a faint idea of it knowing that mothers are actually praying that death take their children, to relieve their terrible suffering."

The freedom of the City of Nottingham was presented to Sir John McCraith while lying dangerously ill in bed.

WHAT CORNELIA SEES

The taffeta blouses in bright plaids are to be feature in spring blouses.

That a woman never "sees" anything in "the man her sister marries."

That beige is favorite color for afternoon dresses in crepe chiffon.

That in California, flying is becoming such a fad that women are buying and flying their airships.

That the vogue for broadtail, not only as a trimming, but for entire suits is signified by Fifth Avenue womenfolk.

That little Japanese boys are sent out in the streets, carrying placards and singing songs urging the people to conserve rice and other foods.

That a wealth of embroidery detail distinguishes the new lingerie frocks and even net dresses embroidered in angora of soft blue or dull red tones appear among the new models.

That manufacturers say fall prices of silk must advance from 25 to 50 per cent., and they see no relief at present price of raw silk.

That a dramatization of Daisy Ashford's much discussed story, "The Young Visitors," will be produced at the Court Theatre next week in London.

That grey and café au lait suede shoes with cut steel buckles and worn with hose of same shade will be Palm Beach's smartest footwear this season, and most women appear to find the short vamp French shoe too unbecoming.

That the many light gray duvetyn and peachbloom suits worn on Fifth Avenue by smartly dressed women during the past week, bring up the question as to whether this color as a fall vogue will last throughout the spring season, replacing perhaps the tan and twine shades.
