By a few, such unfairness and concern for the interests of a poli-tical friend was expected. After all that has already been said upon the matter it is altogether impro-bable that Allen will at this late date be treated—although justice and fair play more the layed. and fair play none the less de-mand their right of intervention-as he deserves. We do not believe that asking the question

We do not believe that asking the question of the Premier will tend to loosen the arms of Justice and hasten an enquiry, but it may tend, rightly or wrongly, to let the people know Hoa. bill a man's private affairs would not be too closely examined. He thought, how-ever, that what was meant by "isoome" should be clearly defined in the bill. What is meant by "income" under the bill is it a man's not or gross income, all the expenses connected with his income in-cluded, oc only his personal expenses? Another object that should be aimed at in a bill of this kind was to tax the income derived from the big estates, such as the Consolly and Lefurgey estates. Again, there are exposed bodies who have in comes, and there should be a provision in the bill to tax them. Another question is the reacting of a limit. In 1898 the eity of Charlottotown fince an income tax on $400, and under the proposed set it is placed at $600. Now, what is the average income of the farmer and other Classes? A commission of enquiry in the United States shows the average income of $300, and the artisma $300. He thought to farm labore to be $104, of the farmer to farm above to be $104, of the farmer $300 for the limit here should be farmer and other to he minum tax. Perhaps the mess do-ipectionable feature of the bill was the procourse between the the bill and that a anondment, and m fixed at $500 instead Mr. A. He thought the amount realized from the tax would be very small if the minimum limit was left at $000. Mr. Bell's amsedment was then put and lost. It was supported by Mr. Roger and St and St and St and St and St architecture (Alberton) and every member of the Op-position, excepting Gordon and Shav. FRIDAT, April 20. M y
