

TO-DAY'S Messages.

10.45 A.M.

A PROUD BOAST.

BERLIN, To-day.
An official to-night says that in the month of June, 67 enemy merchantmen, measuring about 101,000 tons, were sunk by German and Austrian submarines or by mines.

AUSTRALIANS' PRACTICAL STEPS.

LONDON, To-day.
The Government of the Commonwealth of Australia has decided to appoint a commission to go to the United States to investigate methods of manufacture and production and conditions of employment, says a Reuter despatch from Melbourne. To make Australia independent of outside sources for cables, metal and ropes, the despatch adds, it is proposed to establish a Government cable works.

RUSSIANS TAKE TURKISH TOWN.

PETROGRAD, To-day.
Russian troops have captured the town of Mamakhatum, fifty miles west of Erzerum on the Tuzlu River by assault, says an official statement given out by the War Office to-night. The retreating Turks set fire to the town.

STEAMER IN DISTRESS.

NEW YORK, To-day.
Distress signals from the steamer Ramos, reporting her engines disabled and that she was striking 310 miles northwest of Walling Island, were picked up at 8.20 a.m. to-day by the steamer Van Hogendorp and relayed to the Marconi Wireless station at Miami in Florida. The Ramos is a New York-Porto Rico vessel of 518 tons net. The Van Hogendorp reported at 5 p.m. to-day that she had arrived at the last position given by the Ramos, but was unable to locate the ship, but was continuing the search in thick weather. The Ramos carries a crew of 15; no passengers.

A DESERVED DISTINCTION.

LONDON, To-day.
Lieut. Col. Arthur Hamilton Lee, Secretary to the Minister of Munitions, has been created a Knight Commander of the Bath in recognition of his efforts in connection with the supply of war munitions. Lee was appointed Secretary to David Lloyd George, then Minister of Munitions, last October.

GROSS BREACH OF NEUTRALITY.

WASHINGTON, To-day.
Diplomats of the Allied countries received information during the day indicating that the German submarine Deutschland conveyed from Bremen almost to Chesapeake Capes by a neutral merchantman, presumably a Norwegian, Swedish or Dutch, which aided in shielding her from detection by enemy warships and also acted as tender. Information may be communicated later to the State Department and an investigation is requested. Allied warships are said now to be searching for the convoy ship. Various rumors indicating that the submarine might have had a convoy, reached the State Department, but none of them ever was given credence. One was that a British steamer which put into Madeira Islands sighted on June 23 in the Atlantic a large submarine hound eastward in company of a steamer. The State Department already begun consideration of questions involving the departure of the Deutschland to prevent violation of neutrality by forwarding military information from this country regarding the Deutschland's movements. Officials are considering whether the Government should prevent dissemination of the news of her sailing.

BRITISH HOLD MANETZ WOOD.

LONDON, To-day.
The British have re-taken the ground lost last night to the Germans, according to an official statement issued to-night, and now holds all Mametz Wood. Two German attacks against Contalmaison were repulsed. The text reads: The day was marked by sharp local fighting in certain areas of Mametz Wood. We recaptured all the ground lost last night and now hold the whole wood. We also made some progress in Trones Wood. The very large number of German dead in this vicinity show the costliness of their attack last night.

STEADY PROGRESS OF THE OFFENSIVE.

LONDON, To-day.
The Anglo-French offensive is maintaining itself as vigorously as ever against the most determined attacks which the Germans are now delivering against their front in Northern France. The Germans have thrown reinforcements into the breach, having had ample time to recover from the first shock and unexpected strength of the British and French attacks. There is no doubt that the Germans have supposed the French to be feeble greatly south of the Somme, because of the number of troops needed for the defence of Verdun against the forces of the German Crown Prince. The fact that the Allies are progressing so methodically even against the German attacks gives the people of the British and French nations great satisfaction. No events of a sensational character on the front in Northern France are announced to-day, but General Haig in a brief bulletin to-night recounts the recovery for the British of all the lost ground in Mametz Wood. The British Commander tells also of the repulse of two heavy German attacks against Contalmaison, and steady progress by his forces in Trones Wood, the scene of much heavy and desperate fighting during the past few days. Incidentally General Haig comments on the heavy casualties sustained by the Germans in their attacks against the British forces north of the Somme. From General Haig's bulletin it is seen that the British are driving steadily towards the crest of the ridge commanding the wide Bapaume Plateau. According to French military experts there are now less than 60,000 German bayonets opposing the advance of General Haig's force. A Reuter correspondent from the British front reports that German field guns bearing date 1874 have been captured by the British. The correspondent asks whether, without attaching undue importance to the incident, these guns do not indicate the straits to which the Germans are beginning to be reduced in order to find sufficient arms. On the Russian front the battle continues along the Stokod River with the same determination to win, against the opposing forces. The Germans are reported to be bringing up all possible reinforcements and guns in an endeavor to save Kovol against which the Russians are advancing along two railway lines.

1.00 P. M.

COMPARATIVE QUIET ON SOMME.

PARIS, To-day.
There was no infantry fighting of importance last night on the Verdun front or over the portion of the Somme section in the vicinity of Souville, Chenois and La Lauffe. Before Verdun a heavy bombardment was maintained by the Germans. In Champagne the French penetrated a salient of the German front and took prisoners. Two German raids in the Argonne were stopped by the French fire.

BANK RATE RAISED.

LONDON, To-day.
It is stated that the discount rate of Bank of England was raised from 5 to 6 per cent. to-day.

BARBAROUS IE TRIFE.

LONDON, To-day.
British soldiers on the fighting line and those wounded on the Somme, say they found German machine gunners and their work to prevent them from retreating.

HALDANE AND HIS CRITICS.

LONDON, To-day.
The Daily News Parliamentary correspondent says: Lord Haldane's great speech on Education opened with a dignified reply to a dual insult and ended with cheering such as is seldom heard.

McMurdo's Store News

THURSDAY, July 13, 1916.
Corns are perhaps specially annoying in summer time and a quick and easy method of cure will commend itself to many people. This may usually be found in Acme Corn Silk the value of which can hardly be overestimated in such cases. Acme Corn Silk is very easy of application, requires no bandages or strapping plaster and does its work quickly and thoroughly. Price 10c. a pkg.
Massassa Talcum Powder is the kind we recommend in all cases where a perfumed Talcum is called for, having long realized its value. Field Violets is the same powder with a different odor, and is almost equally popular. Price 25c. a box.

Incandescent Gas Lighting.

The remarkable economy of the incandescent gas lamp is by no means either its chief or even an important claim for popularity. It meets better than any other source of artificial light the requirements of ideal light.
In the color of the light produced it is far superior to any other illuminant in general and universal use. The investigations of acknowledged authorities indicate that for the approximation of artificial daylight the gas mantle has at least one and one-half times the value of the carbon filament electric lamp.
This quality is highly desirable, indeed absolutely essential where the approximation of daylight color values is important. For lighting shops, displaying haberdashery, suitings, gowns, millinery, etc., the incandescent gas lamp is not even remotely approached by any other incandescent lamp.
Of all the manifold advantages of gas light, perhaps the most important is its favourable effect upon the eyes. The development of the incandescent electric lamp with its intense brilliant and glaring filament has been accompanied by hitherto unheard of prevalence of eye troubles and diseases which are forcing themselves upon the attention of the medical fraternity. This is resulting in a greater appreciation of the soft mellow quality of gas light and is rapidly enlarging in field of use.—July 13, 1916

CHAFE-BENNETT.

The wedding of Miss Hazel Bennett, youngest daughter of Mrs. E. W. Bennett, and Mr. Walter C. Chafe, of the Royal Stores, Ltd., son of L. G. Chafe, Esq., took place at St. Mary's Church, Southside, on Tuesday, 11th, at 2.30 p.m. The ceremony was performed by the Rector, Rev. H. Uphill, assisted by his curate, Rev. H. L. Pike. As the bride entered the church leaning on the arm of her uncle, the Hon. J. R. Bennett, Colonial Secretary and Acting Premier, the wedding march was played by the organist, Mr. G. E. Lloyd. The bride's dress was exceedingly attractive, being made of ivory satin and lace, and her veil of Irish limerick lace was certainly one to win admiration. She wore a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white carnations, sweet peas and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaids were Miss Elsie Bennett, sister of the bride, and Miss Ina Chafe, sister of the groom. Both were dressed in pale blue and pink silk veil, with large hats of chiffon and leghorn to match, and also carried a bouquet of pink carnations and ferns. The groom was supported by Mr. L. Bartlett, brother-in-law of the groom. Following the ceremony, the beautiful hymn was sung, "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden." The reception was held at "Westray," Leslie Street, the residence of the bride's mother, where congratulations were showered upon the happy couple. The toasts usual on such occasions were gone through, including Our Boys of the Army and Navy, and The King, which was responded to by the singing of the National Anthem. The party drove around Bowring Park, leaving the bride and groom at Waterford Bridge from which they proceeded by motor to "Sea View," Bay Bulls, where the honeymoon will be spent. The presents were numerous and costly, showing the esteem in which the young couple are held. A message of congratulation was received from L.C. Eric Chafe, brother of the groom, who is now at Edinburgh. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold pendant, and to the bridesmaids gold signet rings. The Telegram joins with the numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Chafe in extending felicitations.

Who Won The Kodak Competition?

The competition at Tooton's Kodak Store closed yesterday, and when Mr. J. C. Parsons, our popular photographer, who kindly consented to look after the counting, etc., made his announcement it was found that the three parties who guessed nearest the correct number were:

M. F. WADDEN, Rexall Drug Store 3344
MR. SPRY, Monkston Road 3250
MRS. (REV.) UPHILL, South Side 3200

The right number was 3310, and it represents a portion of the amount of Kodak Films we have sold and developed during the year. Whilst congratulating the lucky winners, we also wish to sincerely thank all our friends who took such active interest in this, our first competition, and helped to make it such a grand success. It is our intention to run some other competitions of a different nature in the near future, and our wish is that all may have "better luck next time." Watch for the next Kodak announcement.
