LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—Alack and also for the Lenten girl at present she's feeling sad:
For a time she's out of fashion's whirl,
And she cannot pursue a fad.

But a joy still lights the sonnet hours And chimes the melody of love:
Tis the bonnet, a mass of ribbons and flowers,
To be worn on Easter day.

The Bishop of Huron continues to improve daily.

The evangelistic services in Wesley Hall will be continued this week.

Mr. Elliott, student of Huron College, is about to take charge of the English churches at Rodney, Dutton and West Lorne.

Dr. McLellan, who has been at his home in Delaware for the past few weeks on account of ill health, has again resumed his practice.

Peter McNeven, Neil McGill, D. A. Mc-Pherson, John McCall and Mr. McInnes, of Glasgow, left Friday evening for Portland, Ore., via C. P. R.

No sales of the Fisher property were effected Friday. Auctioneer Cooper received a bid of $1,700 for two of the William street lots, but held them on a reserve bid.

The new boat, Joe Milton, which has been found floating around in the east end Friday night and was removed to the police station. Her friends took her away shortly afterwards.

The regular meeting of the Entomological Society was held in the rooms Friday evening, and a large number of ladies were present to view the curious specimens and be otherwise edified.

Messrs. H. P. Macklin and James S.
Hanson, of this city, were among those passing the recent examinations at the Detroit College of Medicine and securing thereby the degree of D.M.

Mr. Charles A. Herald, who for the past fifteen years has been organist of James Street Baptist Church, Hamilton, was the other night made the recipient of a very handsome address from the members of the choir. Mr. Herald has many friends in London.

—Rev. W. J. Smith has been called to assist Rev. V. Smith, late of this city, in the pastorate of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Toronto.

—The New York Journalist of March 7 has a fine portrait of Mr. Andrew Patullo, editor of the Woodstock Sentinel-Review and president of the Canadian Press Association. A sketch of Mr. Patullo's career is given.

—Speaking of the illness of the Bishop of Huron, the Evangelical Churchman says:
"The work in the diocese of Huron is very great and can ill afford to lose even for that we trust may be a very short time, the labors of its faithful diocesan."

—The Bishop of Huron will (health permitting) convene the laity and clergy of the diocese in this city on Thursday, April 23, for the purpose of considering the question of lay help and to endeavor to secure an organization of the laity.

—Mr. James War, of Beamsville, a well-known fruit raiser, was in the city last Saturday, says the St. Catharines News, and said that so far this season the peach buds are safe, and that if an unfavourable event took place there would be a large crop of peaches this year.

—In the case of Fraser vs. Hodgins at Toronto, C. Elliott, for the plaintiff, moved for judgment on the ground of claim in default of defense in a partnership action.
No one for the defendant. Judgment granted. Reference to master at London.
Further directions and costs reserved.

—Copeland's horse ran away again in East London Friday. A short time ago it played havoc with the fences on Queen's avenue, and it was feared that it would break away at the same spot, but took the other side of the thoroughfare. Headmaster Eckert's boulevard fence was smashed and the horse, which the animal was attached to a similar fate.
Mr. Copeland was dragged a short distance but was not seriously hurt.

—An important assembly has been called by the Bishop of Huron to meet in the Chapter House on the afternoon of April 2.
The objects of the gathering are, briefly stated, as follows: First, a more hearty cooperation on the part of the laity in the spiritual and temporal work of each parish.
Secondly, some organized and well-developed plan by which the spiritual and other gifts of the laity may be nurtured and matured for the promotion of God's glory and the welfare of his church.

Court Stella's Anniversary.
The sixth anniversary of Court Stella, A. O. F., was celebrated in a fitting manner the other evening in the East End Hall.
After an excellent supper a musical and literary program was presented as follows: Piano solo by Mr. G. Shields; songs, Misses Lilywhite, Minnie Cripps and Phonix, and Messrs. E. Rosalter, E.
Gardner, G. Shields and J. Shields; recitation, Mr. T. Leach; trio, Messrs. Simpson, Turford and Gardener; dialogue, Mr. and Mrs. Perry and T. Hogg; and selections by Messrs. Corbin, Corbin, Fortner and others. The evening's programme concluded with a dance.

He Was Pleased!
"I am very glad to congratulate you," exclaimed a well-dressed individual who met Manager Kirohmer Saturday morning at the Grand Trunk station.

"Oh, thank you very much," replied the manager. "Nothing particularly interesting has happened to me lately."

"Why, I thought the McLennan Edinburgh Company was announced for Monday night?"

"Yes, well?"

"Well, I'm congratulating you on getting a very fine attraction of the kind that I've never had the pleasure of running across. It beats anything I've heard in the old country. That man McLennan is a grand country."

Honored by His Congregation.
The congregation of the Grosvenor Street Baptist Church, to the number of about 100, surprised their pastor, Rev. M. E. Siple, the other evening by inviting and taking possession of his residence. When they had made themselves quite at home, a short supper program was presented, to the enjoyment of all. The concluding number was a pleasant little colloquy, which was opened by Miss Eva Clayton by reading a kindly word of welcome to the congregation to the pastor, Miss Mabel Clayton on behalf of the church, added a few congratulatory words and handed Mr.
Siple a well-aimed attack word is and the congregation for the well fortified with substantial remembrance and commended them to the care of the Heavenly Father during his absence. Much regret is felt by the congregation over the approaching removal of their pastor.

At the Night School.
The annual tea furnished by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. to the boys of the school at the night school was held Friday night in the Colborne street school. The boys had prepared an admirable programme, which was carried out to the satisfaction of all present. School Inspector W. J. Carson presided, and delivered a brief opening address. Short speeches were also made by teachers V. H. Liddell and R. M.
Graham and Rev. G. Trotter Carr, in addition to the following programme, a special feature of which was the hearty singing of the hymns and choruses by the entire school:

Dedication in the West.

Mr. John S. Pearce, of J. S. Pearce & Co., seedsmen and dairy supply dealers, in this city, has been on a trip to the Western States, visiting Chicago, Ill., Port Atkinson, Wis., and other points. The latter, a flourishing town, is best known as the home of ex-Governor Hoard, one of the fathers of the dairy industry, and a fountainhead of dairy literature, also as being the seat of an immense industry in the manufacture of various supplies used in dairying.

That part of Wisconsin adjacent to Port Atkinson very much resembles this section of Ontario, more especially parts of Huron county. Agricultural prosperity appears to follow in the wake of dairying, the contrast between localities where fine cheese and butter are made and others being decidedly marked. While Mr. Pearce is heartily interested in the dairy industry, he expresses a word of caution against any relaxation of attention to great dairymen, who in the past. As a summer business it is especially desirable. Where cheese factories are established and doing well, it will be a great mistake to give up cheese-making and convert them into creameries.

The Educational Guardians.

W. S. BRYCES BARKWELL

IMPORTER.
SUCCESSOR TO HARKNESS & CO

The only place you can get these bargains.
Special price to the trade by the case.

R. H. Craig for 50 cords of softwood at $4 25, and the cedar required at $4. S.
Barkwell also received a contract for 50 cords of hardwood at $4 25. Owing to the large nature of the hauling tenders, that matter was laid over for a week. It was decided to deduct $25 from the amount due to Contractor Bryan, his work on the Ashin street school suffering slightly from the specifications.
The chairman of the Board and Trustee Cook were instructed to cancel the present insurance policies and renew them to include the Smead-Dowd additions. The over-crowded state of Waterloo north school was brought up, but was not dealt with. Black-boards will be furnished there, and these rooms requiring thermometers.
Endeavors will also be made to get some desks and benches asked for by the Protestant Orphan Home. A motion was made to sell the old seats, stoves, etc., stored in the Waterloo south school house. Trustee Cook suggested that the seats be painted and placed in the parks. Trustee Childs thought the Board could make use of them all, and no action was taken. Trustee Turner informed the committee that there were 35 stoves, 400 lengths of pipe and a large quantity of castings lying in the place. Mr. W. L. Lucas was awarded the contract for 24 seats and a desk. Lorne avenue school will get its much-needed in-walls.

The H. Y. M. S. Concert.

The Helping Young Men's Society, better known as the H. Y. M. S., is an organization of active, young Baptists, who band together as a helping factor in the church to assist in its maintenance or associate work. Last year they managed to get up a splendid concert, and Friday evening they had another of surpassing excellence. The members of the society, in evening dress and wearing button-hole bouquets, unher-saldly appeared at 8 o'clock in the Talbot Street Baptist Church, the platform of which had been very prettily draped and curtained for the occasion, while the several footlights enhanced its appearance. The programme was very choice, nearly every selection being encored. Miss H. Gertrude Hart, Gertrude Brantford Y. L. C., confirmed the favorable impression made at her former appearance here, and she was enthusiastically re-called for every one of her four selections. Miss Bella Gordon was to have rendered a couple of violin solos, but being indisposed was unable to do more than play the oblique for "The Angel's Serenade," by Miss Anabel Sage. Master George Angus was substituted, and executed his numbers in a praiseworthy manner. Miss Maud Baxter had a soprano and a very sweet expression; her solo was encored. Mr. J. S. Ashplant and Mr. Fred Super were also in good voice, and were warmly applauded for their efforts. As accompanist, Miss Grigg acquitted herself very creditably. The members of the H. Y. M. S. have reason to congratulate themselves on the merit of their concert, and its success, both in attendance and from a financial point of view.

Erpe's Cocoa—GRATEFUL AND COMFORT-ING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws governing the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr.
Erpe has provided our breakfast tables with a deliciously-flavored beverage which may save us many hours of sickness and suffering. It is a judicious use of such articles of diet that a distinction may be gradually built up, strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle poisons are floating around ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal attack by the use of Erpe's Cocoa, which is pure blood and a properly-nourished frame.
