Soon after landing they boarded the steamship Nigeria, where Joseph Chamberlain, the colonial secretary; Lord Roberts, and Gen. Lord Kitchener greeted them. They were also introduced to Mrs. Chamberlain and Lady Roberts, with whom they chatted for some time.

BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE NOBLE. In an article quoted by the Paris correspondent of the London Times a number of British and foreign nava the Figaro discussed the future relations between the British and the Boers. The paper says Great Britain's attitude towards the burghers possesses a certain nobleness. Her admiration for heroism is sufficiently strong to cause her to open her arms and heart to the superb, vanquished Boers, who do right to accept the outstretched hand. The Boers and the British, having the same religious faith and sentiment, in duty bound to understand one another. If. says the Figaro, Boers agree to be received as brothers, it is because they think the war been loyally fought, and feel there is no question of crushing them, reach Holland as speedily as possible. but that the intention is to cultivate The generals will go to Holland to passible.

It has been transmitted from Mother to Daughter for three generations. It likely occupies a place in your home at the present moment, if not—then you are minus the right arm of cleanliness. HUDSON'S DRY SOAP has lived up to its promise. Its age has proved that abundantly, and the number of its users well, we think "you realize what a MILLION means" now. It is quite different from any other soap in existence, being the original and perfect DRY SOAP. It will clean your clothes, your house, your kitchen utensils, dishes, silver and glassware and it economizes time and
