Bransby Williams Pleads to the Kiwanians For British-Controlled Theatres.

TALKS PROHIBITION

Prohibition and the percentage of Prohibition and the percentage of American control over Canadian theatres were two subjects which came in for some measure of brisk comment at the hands of Bransby Williams, the noted English actor, who addressed the regular luncheon of the Kiwanis Club today.

"I have been in Canada only three weeks," Mr. Williams said, "and so perhaps I am not in a position to speak with much authority on the issue of prohibition. It does seem to me a peculiar thing, however, to find that at Ottawa, your seat of govern-that at Ottawa, your seat of govern-ment, men can look over the river to Hull and says 'There's where the whiskey is.' I should consider it de-grading that a man has to sneak over there on the quiet to get addict. there on the quiet to get a drink— and if he can bring it back in his pocket. "What they should have done was force the men who were making mil-lions out of it to give us pure whiskey and 'not 'muck!' Young boys and girls now are trying to imitate their elders in getting it, and in some provinces your girls are carrying little flasks of whiskey in their pockets."

Boosts Beef and Beer. "Even in Dickens' works, -books which were written solely for purpose of reform and to remedy existing evils in the England of that time, we find little David Copperfield up drinking his blass of beer. But it was real beer, made of genuine beer and beef that made English brawn. But the men who made money out weren't forced always to sell that beer. We don't allow milk to be diluted, but the whiskey that was sold for whiskey wasn't always pure and neither was the beer that was sold for beer. If some man with plenty of money had opened all the bars for a night and a day and given en everybody all the whiskey they wanted to drink, there perhaps would-n't have been all this bother, but as soon as you tell a man he can't have a thing, then's when he wants Yankeeized Theatres. Mr. Williams, as he indicated in is address to the Rotary Club yesterday, is a firm advocate of a British theatrical profession in Can-

da. "At Toronto, I find the theatres are "At Toronto, I find the theatres are controlled by mericans, and when I get out to Vancouver, I shall find the same thing there. I am a bulldog Britisher, and I object to this Yankee control. Why should there be American actors and English actors and yet the Canadian actors. When a good no Canadian actors. When a good Canadian actor does rise in the profession, the United States offers him more money, and so he is lost to Can-ada. If I had my way, I would establish a whole string of real British theatres, with British actors and with British plays. I would make them clean, beautiful theatres, back stage and in front. I would see whether you liked it or not, that for so many L. WOLF. CREDIT CLOTHIER. 372 Dundas St. Phone 6112W. months you had your Shakespeare and your Dickens, for your children.

And I'd make them British at heart, to teach British ideals and British inspiration.

All the talk you hear is of Broadway.
Now and again let us have a Britisher Now and again let us have a Britisher here. And let us have real British humor, and not all this talk about Broadway, and New York being the finest town that ever was."

Associated Press Despatch. Athens, Sept. 21 .- The Italian govrnment officially ordered formal evacuation of the Island of Corfu to tart today.

Previously aerodromes had been dismantled and munitions turned back from the island, which was seized by Italy as punitive measures against Greece after the slaying of the Italian commissioner at Janina. It is under-stood here that the order for evacua-tion of Corfu is a result of the Greek applogles for the incident, made when Greek warships saluted the Italian flag and the allies in the Bay of Phaleron and Greek ministers at bazaar and a banquet for members of the church choir in their fall pro sale of stock to Wilkinson, who is described as a man of 85 years of age, Conley stated: "There is no use asking me about Wilkinson's stock, for I don't know the particulars. The sale was handled by an outside firm, who contracted to sell a block of the stock. No entry concerning the victory bond appears on the books, and I don't think it was ever intended to be cashed by this firm. More than this I don't know, as my connection with the transaction was merely to drive Lewis to the Wilkinson home. As to the injunction proceedings that had been instituted by Wilkinson's son, Mr. Conley said he was ignorant of this phase of the quesaffair, and, apart from the fact that I was there on the first visit, I am not in a position to discuss it," he
