

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

Company had right and justice on their side, that the Hudson Bay Company never committed a fraud, but were too honorable to do so, and he would uphold their honor. It was useless to talk about a commission; the thing was settled forever, and it was needless spending money over it. Only yesterday he received a letter from Mr. Dallas, stating how annoyed and disgusted he was to learn that the Park lines had been run in a wrong place, but he was determined to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith. The hon. gentleman alluded to the Albert Head saw mill, stating how anxious even now every hon. member was to encourage saw mills, and as the Albert Head saw mill was the first in the colony, he thought it would be best to determine to hold on to what he had done in justice and good faith.

THE WEEKLY COLONIST.
 VOL. 5.
 PUBLISHED BY EVERY MORNING
 (Sundays Excepted)
 AT TROTTMAN'S,
 100, QUEEN STREET, WEST,
 SYDNEY.
 TERMS:—Six Months, £2 5s; Three Months, £1 5s; Single Copies, 6d.
 All Advertisements inserted on the usual conditions.
 THE WEEKLY COLONIST is published for the Proprietor by TROTTMAN & CO., at 100, Queen Street, West, Sydney.

MORE INDIAN MURDERS.
 McDonald and Two of his Party Several others Severely Wounded on the Track of the Marines from the Butcher.
 By the arrival of Her Majesty's steamer Beaver, we are enabled to report the melancholy news of a murder committed by a party of Indians, who had been sent to the track of the Marines from the Butcher. The party consisted of McDonald and two of his party, several others severely wounded. The murder was committed on the track of the Marines from the Butcher.

ACTORS COMING TO CALIFORNIA.
 We have seen private correspondence which informs us that Mr. Maguire has formed an engagement with the famous players, Charles Kean and his wife, who are now on a professional tour in Australia. They have been engaged to play in San Francisco for five weeks, and may be expected here about the middle or end of August next. From here they will return to England via the Atlantic States. George Coppin, widely known in the Australian colonies, is coming to California on an entertaining theatrical manager will accompany the Kean's. Mr. Coppin is expected to play an engagement with Maguire after the Kean's leave. There are also expected to come to Australia at the same time, the comedians James P. Calcutt, George Everett and Miss Chapman, who will support both the Kean's and Mr. Coppin during their respective engagements here.

STAGE ROBBERY.
 The stage from Mariposa to Stockton was robbed lately and Wells, Fargo & Co's. treasure, about $4000, stolen. Three Chinamen and an American were inside passengers, and the latter was asked to "fork over" the cash about the robbery. The Chinamen contributed $500, and the American about the same sum; but he had no money, and was very promptly, the robbers thought they had got all he had. He asked for enough to pay expenses with, and received back $50. Wells, Fargo & Co. offer $1000 for the apprehension of the robbers.

SANDWICH ISLANDS.
 We have dates from Honolulu per Constitution, to May 28th. The proposition of the King to hold a convention for the revision of the national constitution, is attracting great attention and exciting some opposition. Queen Victoria's birthday was celebrated in great style at Honolulu. Mr. Sygne, H. B. M. Commissioner received the visits of the Government officials, foreign Consuls, &c., and in the evening gave a grand ball, which went off with great éclat. Queen Emma, wife of the late King, has received an invitation to visit Lady Franklin in London, and contemplates accepting.

INDIAN OUTRAGE.
 On Thursday night about 10 o'clock, Rev. A. C. Garrett while sitting in his house on the Reserre, heard a shot fired, to which, however, he paid no attention, it being a circumstance of very frequent occurrence. In a few moments a rattling at the gate was heard, and on going out he found one of his cows endeavoring to get in. On opening the gate he found the poor animal streaming with blood, a closer examination showing that she had been fired at by some miscreant, and completely mangled from stem to stern by shot. Next morning Mr. Garrett found that another of his cows had been served in the same manner. He at once informed the police, who spent the most of the yesterday evening in ferreting out the offenders, but without avail, the Hyak Indians, some of whom are believed to be the perpetrators, denying any knowledge of the offence. The authorities are determined to discover the miscreants, and will probably take the chiefs in custody till they deliver the scoundrels up to justice. One of the gunboats will come round this morning and bring up in front of the Hyak camp in order to awe the rascals into submission, as they seem inclined to be rather saucy.

INDIAN OUTRAGE.
 On Thursday night about 10 o'clock, Rev. A. C. Garrett while sitting in his house on the Reserre, heard a shot fired, to which, however, he paid no attention, it being a circumstance of very frequent occurrence. In a few moments a rattling at the gate was heard, and on going out he found one of his cows endeavoring to get in. On opening the gate he found the poor animal streaming with blood, a closer examination showing that she had been fired at by some miscreant, and completely mangled from stem to stern by shot. Next morning Mr. Garrett found that another of his cows had been served in the same manner. He at once informed the police, who spent the most of the yesterday evening in ferreting out the offenders, but without avail, the Hyak Indians, some of whom are believed to be the perpetrators, denying any knowledge of the offence. The authorities are determined to discover the miscreants, and will probably take the chiefs in custody till they deliver the scoundrels up to justice. One of the gunboats will come round this morning and bring up in front of the Hyak camp in order to awe the rascals into submission, as they seem inclined to be rather saucy.

THE KOOTANAI MINES.
 Their Richness Confirmed.
 We have received from the most undoubted authority, the fullest confirmation of the account published a few days since by us of the great richness of the Kootanai mines. The government of British Columbia has obtained official information of the most startling nature as to the extent and richness of the gold mines, so much so that we understand it has actually appointed a gold commissioner for the new district; and so satisfied is it of the almost certainty of a great rush to that country that it is even contemplating to appoint a county court judge to be in readiness for duty. We are informed that our accounts received from Mr. Finlayson, and published in our day before yesterday's COLONIST, are far below the truth, and that the diggings through a much more accessible country. Boise or Cariboo, besides being much more accessible. A great deal of speculation is going on among the few persons who are aware of the richness of the new mines, and they are buying up mules and provisions in every direction in order to anticipate the rush which will come from the country. As we stated before, the Hudson Bay Company intend at once to send through a large quantity of goods, and with the assistance of the British Columbia Government, a trail will be speedily constructed, which will be comparatively an easy matter, owing to the dry and level nature of the country. The route to the diggings will be from the new Fort Colville, on the Columbia river, just north of the boundary line, a distance of about 200 miles, from which point the new trail will be made to the mines. The whole distance is only about half that from the head of navigation on the Columbia, and through a much more accessible country. The Kootanai or Flat Bow river, on which the mines are found, rises in the Rocky Mountains, close to the source of the south branch of the Saskatchewan, and flows south, parallel to the mountains, for nearly 150 miles, when it crosses the boundary line; it then takes a great bend upwards of 100 miles into the American territory, re-crossing the boundary northwards, about 50 miles east of new Fort Colville, and joining the Columbia about 20 miles north of the 49th parallel. The diggings at present are entirely in British territory, and are believed to extend over the whole country between the mouth and source of the river, a distance of nearly 100 miles, over a fine grassy tract, known as the Tobacco Plains. We understand that the British Columbia government are determined to take the most energetic steps to open out the new mining districts, and we confidently expect ere long to see a stream of hardy miners such as passed through our city in 1852, flowing towards the new and promising gold fields.