Writer Followed Own Trail for Miles Without Recognizing It.

Seon I came upon the fresh tracks of a deer, and, hoping to catch sight of the animal, I began to follow them. "At the end of an hour I decided to return to camp. Convinced that I know the right direction, I abandoned the tothough trail by the deer, and stru-the tortuous trail of the deer, and stru-ek of through the woods. I tramped on and on, and, seeing no signs of civi-lization, began to feel uneasy. Sudd-enly I noticed the tracks of a man headed in the direction in which I was until I began to feel uneasy. Per-haps the stranger was heading away from the camp! Perhaps he was lost; perhaps I was lost! I looked down and permaps I was lost! I looked down and to my astonishment that a second man had joined the fellow whose trail I was following. I plucked up courage and tramped on.

-Deficit Cut in Two. .

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—Operations of the Canadian National Railways for the first six months of the present year, compared with the corresponding period of last year, show considerable improvement. There is still a deficit on operation, but it has been cut almost in half in comparison with operating deficit for the period January to the end of June, 1921. In the six months of 1921, the operating deficit was $16,169,450; this year it is $8, was $16,169,450; this year it is $8,-938,998, a reduction in the operating deficit of $7,230,452.

RECENTLY we met several experienced printers from Ontario, and in talking "shop" showed them a line of samples of general printing turned out by the GRAPHIC plant. They were unanimous in the opinion that the workmanship was equal to any turned out in their shops, or in the large city offices.

SOME OF OUR TWO-COLOR WORK, they claimed, could only be duplicated in the large city

SAMPLES OF OUR TWO-COLOR LETTER HEADS, sent to the Inland Printer of Chicago, the leading printers' technical journal in the United States, were highly spoken of and one of them reproduced as an example of good printing.
