Police Magistrate Dugas Must Be His Duty—The City Council Boycotting the Herald—Edwards of Fifty New Cases.

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—The official returns for this morning show 41 deaths from smallpox in the city yesterday, 5 in Ste. Catherine, 5 in St. Henri, 5 in St. Jean Baptiste, 5 in St. Gabriel and 2 in Hochelaga.

Judge Isaacbean gave judgment today in the practice court on the petition of Mr. A. W. Atwater, acting on behalf of the citizens' committee, asking for a writ of mandamus against Police Magistrate Dugas to compel him to punish offenders under the act constituting the central board of health, which was yesterday declared by the court to be legal and constitutional.

The petition was well founded, maintaining all the conclusions and ordering that a peremptory writ be issued ordering Mr. Dugas to comply therewith. As Mr. Dugas, however, showed that his only object was to facilitate the ends of justice and to do so as speedily as possible, the effect of the judgment will be that the case under the act will be actively proceeded with.

A VERY OLD BATH.

His Expressions Discussed—Court of Sessions Decided.

The executive committee met yesterday afternoon, those present being Chairman DeLoe, Ald. Steiner, Elliott, Adanson, Crocker, Walker, Irwin, Saunders, Pepler and Sheppard.

In response to a letter from Mr. Namsith on behalf of the city tax collectors, a subcommittee was appointed to confer with those gentlemen on certain matters in connection with the collection of taxes.

The committee passed without dissent the reports of all the standing committees, but certain items of expense in the report of the local board of health gave rise to some discussion.

The item objected to was one for $20 for medical attendance due to a doctor whose name was not given.

With reference to this account it was stated that it was for professional attendance at the smallpox hospital and that it was not for a doctor's visit to a patient.

The name of the doctor should be made public. The name, however, will be made public if the committee is satisfied that the doctor's name is not to be made public.

Mr. Crocker and Pepler wished to have the doctor's name made public to the public, and the committee decided to do so.

Chairman Allan of the board of health attended the meeting and stated that the doctor in question had attended the smallpox patient because the latter had been one of his patients.

He had only visited the patient four times. The report was then passed.

The report of the court of revision recommended an appropriation of $75 to defray the cost of lunch during the day of sittings for hearing appeals against the assessment for 1886.

This report created a discussion as to the economic power of an alderman. Ald. Irwin said he was ready to pay his share, but Ald. Crocker said that if he was not worth his dinner he did not want to sit at the court.

The report was passed.

On account of the absence of the report of the water committee, Ald. Walker asked the executive to arrange for another meeting before the council met again.

At a meeting of the executive committee yesterday it was decided to allow the Hamilton Ward Oil company the use of one of the stables on the grounds for five months at $18 monthly.

Chairman Allan held a meeting with the directors of the exhibition association with regard to enlarging the present grounds, and it had been decided that it would be advisable to ask the Ontario government for a strip of land to the north of the railway track.

A subcommittee, consisting of Ald. M. J. Wood, Gallely, McMillan and the chairman was appointed to confer with the government.

It was decided to recommend to the council the setting apart of $200 for the purpose of enlarging the green-house on the grounds.

A Most Wise Judge. His worship of Collingwood, says the Hamilton Spectator, is a police magistrate and a gentleman.

He was brought before him charged with the crime of selling liquid ammonia in defiance of the solemn prohibition of the Canada temperance act. A bottle was produced, and the magistrate asked the name of the stuff sold. The bottle was labeled "Red Ribbon." His worship did not know the name of the stuff, and he was asked to give an expert evidence to decide the question whether "Red Ribbon" was intoxicating or not.

He just reached for the bottle, took a sip, and wiped his mouth, and reached into his vest pocket for a clove, and fixed the gentleman on the spot.

THE MIDS FALL TO DRIVE THE JAMES STREET QUACKS OUT.

A Quiet March to the West of Water and a Quiet March Home—The Police Turn out in Ample Numbers and Maintain Order.

There was excitement in two places last night. Early in the evening considerable activity was on foot at police headquarters.

The rumor had gone abroad that the medical students of the city would assemble on mass opposite the James street lot where the quacks and their followers were holding their meetings.

To meet the emergency Deputy Chief of Police Stuart detailed twenty men, a number of them in plain clothes, to cope with the quacks, but the police were not permitted to repeat the semi-riots and street disturbances of other years.

There was not a drop of blood shed, and the whole thing ended in a quiet march.

The students did gather in James street to the number of a couple of hundred or so. But the quacks proceeded with their show, the colored band played their familiar air, and the students behaved themselves as perfect gentlemen.

They did not even make an apology to clean out the performance, and they took water in the most approved fashion. As they left the street and proceeded northward, the deputy chief of police called out to the quacks.

"Oh, the medicals marched to the James street lot. And then they marched home again."

Every lady in Toronto should clean and examine the goods and prices in the Bond Warehouse. The stock must be sold at once as Farley & Co. are going out of business.
