ALEX. CAMERON'S WILL

nen Alexander Cameron made his will he evidently intended that his estate should be divided according to his wishes. In one clause he states that should any of the legatees contest the will his or her share is to be forfeited.

Mr. Cameron, who was a prominent share is to be forfeited.

Mr. Cameron, who was a prominent barrister in this city, died at his residence, Church and Carlton streets, on May 15 last. He made his will, which disposes of property worth $669,508.20, three days before his death. Yesterday the executors, Alfred Buell Cameron, John Curry of Windsor and E. Douglas Armour, applied for probate of the document.

las Armour, applied for probate of the document.

The daughters of the testator, Mary Adeline Torrance and Catharine Medora Cartwright, receive $2500 yearly. Alfred B. Cameron is to have $3000 every year and his wife, should she outlive him, $1000 per year. Kate Torrance, granddaughter, will get $15,000 when she comes of age and $2000 when she is married. A number of employes of the banking firm of Cameron & Curry at Windsor are left small yearly legacies. At the end of 21 years all the property is to be divided into three parts, called the Cameron, Cartwright and Torrance shares, and distributed among the three children of the testator or their legal heirs. Should Mrs. Cameron, the widow, at any time lose her estate, she is to be provided for by the trustees.

The estate comprises $536,444.53 in real property and $133,062.91 in personalty.

Good News for World's Fair Visitors. The final decision of the World's Fair lirectors is that the gates of the "White City" ball be closed to sight-seers on Oct. 31. It is apportant that intending visitors should important that intending visitors should quickly decide upon date and route, the former being specially important, as many of the C.P.R. berths have already been secured for some time ahead. In considering the latter it is by far the wisest plan to look, not only at the direct expense, but the comfort, speed and most important of all safety experienced on such a long journey. The Canadian Pacific Railway can bear the most searching scrutiny in these all-important details. Therefore, their route should be favorably considered. Every Friday and Saturday during the next month the round trip can be taken for single first-class fare, the tickets being good for ten days, and as this company run their own palatial sleeping cars direct to Chicago a cheap and enjoyable ride can be insured.

New York, Sept. 29.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: In Nova Scotia the wea-ther continues favorable to agricultural interests, and indications are that the fall catch of fish will be a fair one. General trade is of only moderate propor-tions at Toronto, although grain is begin-ning to move more freely.

Montreal reports a general inquiry from the Maritime Provinces for staple provisions, which tends to steady prices. General trade for September throughout the Province of Quebec is said not to have equalled expectations.
