

Sister Catherine of The Angels. - The crowning act of Sister Bourgeoys' life. - Her last illness. - Instructions given to the members of the Congregation before leaving them forever. - The supreme moment. - Sister Catherine is restored to life. - Mr. LeBer paints the portrait of the pious foundress..... 217

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIRST.

Sentiments of public esteem and veneration, paid to Sister Bourgeoys' remains. - The heart is embalmed and placed in a niche at the Congregation. - The month's mind. - Extract from the Eulogium pronounced on this occasion by Mr. de Belmont, of Saint Sulpice. - Letters of condolence offered to the Sisters, by many distinguished persons, both in France and Canada. - Words of sympathy from Troyes. - Sister LeBer, the recluse of Ville-Marie..... 227

CHAPTER TWENTY-SECOND.

Recapitulation. - State of the Congregation of Notre-Dame in 1700. - How the Sister missionaries lived at this time, 1704 and 1705. - Bishop de Saint Vallier leaves France, is taken prisoner, brought to London and presented to Queen Anne. - The five years captivity. - He returns to France. - Thirteen years later. The first manufactory set up at the Congregation. - Mr. Leschassier of Saint Sulpice. - Testimonials of the Sister's zeal and energy..... 247

CHAPTER TWENTY-THIRD.

A picture of the past, or Canada in 1711. - Confidence of the people in Miss LeBer's intercession. - Sister Bourgeoys' external Congregation. - Sister LeBer's banner. - The Baron of Longueuil and his expedition. - The English fleet before Quebec. Disasters incident to this event. - The Governor General of Canada. - Our Lady of Victory..... 258

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOURTH.

An echo of 1700. - Sister Charly now Sister of the Blessed Sacrament. - Marie du Mesnil. - Four Sisters of the Congregation. - Marie Charly's mission. - Sister Catherine Charly's early days. - She consecrates her youth to the service of God, in Sister Bourgeoys' Congregation. - The rule of the Congregation. - Death of the pious Sister..... 265

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIFTH.

Miss LeBer's last year on earth. - Perpetual adoration before the Blessed Sacrament, commences at the Congregation. - How the holy Angels assisted the pious recluse at all times. - Wisdom and prudence evinced, in the plans that she formed for the ins-