SINCE this narrative was prepared for publication, a letter has been received from the agent at Fort-Wayne, dated the 5th of the Tenth Month, 1805, in which he says,

“ Agreeably to the directions of the committee, I have employed a man to assist the Indians in cultivating the field on the Wabash, which was cleared and cultivated by Philip Dennis last year. The Indians with this man’s assistance have raised, it is supposed, at least six hundred bushels of good corn from this one field, exclusive of what they have raised from ground of their own clearing.

“ Many of the oldest of the Eel-River and Weas Indians have removed and settled at that place, where they will be followed by the younger branches of their tribes in the ensuing spring.”

He adds, “ Believing as I do, that the Society of Friends are desirous of a meliorating the situation of their Red Brethren in this country, I will
