FARMERS CLUBS.

Instructions for the organisation and management of Farmers' Clubs.

OEJECT.—The clubs shall have all the powers of the agricultural societies. They are intended to encourage the improvement of agriculture, of borticalture, and of forestry.

1. By holding meetings for discussion and for the hearing of lectures on anbjects relating to the theory and practice of improved farming;

2 By encouraging the circulation
the "Journals of Agriculture."

3. By offering prizes for essays on guestions concerning theoretical and practical agriculture;

4. By importing or otherwise promring cattle of the best breeds, new

6. By holding exhibitions;

7. By obtaining for the use of the members books, reviews, and papers relating to agriculture;

8. By inciting people to write essays on cultivation and manures.

Article 1675h allows every club to cause to be sold, by auction or otherwise, by a person not holding a licence, and without payment of the dues demanded by the law, animals of improved breeds, provided that the purchasers bind themselves to keep them within the territorial bounds of the club, during the period and in accordance with the conditions to be fixed by the club. The conditions of sale to be laid down in writing. By buying and selling improved stock in this way, the clubs can greatly encourage the improvement of cattle.

The club cannot be too careful in the purchase of breeding stock, even if they are of pure breed. When it buys a bull, it should not only attend once and elect a president, a viceto the shape of the beast, but investigate especially the qualities of its dam and its ancestors.

The use of a bad bull, or other male, is likely to do great damage to the herds and flocks.

Incorporation.—In order to form a club, there must be at least 25 persons, subscribing at least $30.00. They must sign the declaration mentioned in the annexed law, and send it at once to the Commissioner of Agriculture, who, if he approve of the forma tion of the club, shall give notice of his approval in the Official Gazette.

incorporated municipalities in each canton. Any one may become a mem ber on payment of an annual subscription of one dollar, 1175 a. b. c.

NAME.—If the club is organised in a parish erected into a municipality, that is, having a municipal council (whether it make part of a canton or not), i' shall bear the name of "The Farmers' Club of the parish of In an incorporated municipality tother than parish making part of a carton), $65%. it shall bear the name of "The As in the case of the clubs, Farmers' Club of the municipality of each agricultural society has a right the legal name of the municipality') In a canton forming a municipality, it shall bear the name of "The Farmers' Club of the municipality of the canton of".....

It is of the greatest importance that the name of the club be correctly entered in the declation; otherwise, the proceedings will have to be begun over agein 1675d.

ELECTION OF THE DIRECTORS .- AS soon as the Commissioner shall have approved of the creation of the club, the department will send a notice to that effect, and also blank notices con voking a general meeting of the memboard of directors.

The board shall be composed of soven directors to be elected at a meeting called together by a notice, pu blished a week in advance, by the Mayor by or a councillor of the muni cipality in which the club is formed.

This notice may be in the following form:
