He carried the two boys several times round the village; and it was impossible to stop him, except by placing some obstacle in his way. This sight pleased the French gentleman so much, that he wished it to be repeated. So, to try the strength of the birds, he directed a full grown negro to mount the back of the smaller ostrich, and two others the larger one. This burden did not seem at all to trouble the birds. At first, after they had received their load, they went off at a pretty brisk trot; but soon they expanded their wings, as if to catch the wind, and moved so swiftly that they hardly seemed to touch the ground.—Stories about Birds.
