

JOHN NEWTON, M.D.

The late Dr. John Newton, a well-known resident of Deseronto, Ont., passed away on 14th February. He was born in Kingston in 1842 and was graduated from Queen's University in 1866. He moved to Deseronto in 1870. In 1873 he was appointed physician to the Mohawk Indians on the reserve. He was Mayor of Deseronto in 1903 and 1904, and from 1907 to 1912. He was also president of the Conservative Association for some time. In 1860 he took an active part in the volunteer movement.

CAPT. JOHN FERGUSON PALLING, M.D.

Dr. J. F. Palling died in London, Eng., on 1st February. He went overseas some time ago with the rank of captain, and was engaged in military hospital duties. He graduated from Trinity University in 1888, and located in Barrie, where he soon built up a large practice. A few years ago he was appointed registrar, and then retired from much of his general practice. He was a most highly esteemed gentleman.

A. E. HANNA, M.D.

Death came with startling suddenness to Dr. A. E. Hanna, M.P., at his home in Perth, Wednesday morning, 27th February, as a result of heart failure. Tuesday evening he came home from visiting with his mother at Soperton, and complained of not feeling well. When Mrs. Hanna went to his room at 11.30 in the morning she found him lying in bed with life extinct. Twenty minutes before his wife had heard him moving about the room, but evidently he had returned to bed.

Deceased was a son of the late James Hanna, and was born on his father's farm near Harlem, Leeds county. He graduated in medicine and surgery from McGill University in 1885, and had practised his profession in Perth since then, establishing one of the largest practices in the county of Lanark.

In December, 1913, he was elected to the Federal House to represent South Lanark in the Government, and at the last Dominion election carried the amalgamated ridings of North and South Lanark by a large majority. He had been for a number of years one of Eastern Ontario's prominent men, and was in his 56th year, and a Methodist in religion. He is survived by his mother, widow and two sons, Stewart, with the R.F.C. at Fort Worth, Texas, and Robert, at home. Dr. Frank Hanna, of Brantford, and Mrs. H. W. Lockwood, of Westport, Ont., are brother and sister of deceased.
