SPECIAL NOTICES.

An extensive and well-equipped establishment well worthy a visit, is that of the Massey Manufacturing Company of Toronto, Mr. H. A. Massey, President. The Company's offices and departments, for neatness and system, have, it is claimed, few, if any, equals in the Dominion. The names of visitors are entered in a register on the hotel principle, and their wants are promptly supplied. About 1000 persons are said to be employed. The business was started at Newcastle in 1847.

The enterprising house of Frank Robertson & Co., importers of Berlin wools and fancy goods, 10 Colborne street, Toronto, shows a full and complete assortment of Berlin Wools in all varieties, English, Andalusian, Shetland and other wools, Embroidery, Silks, Chenille, Silk Arrasene, for Art Embroidery, Filoselles, Silk Plushes, etc., etc. In materials for art needle work the house claims to stand unrivalled. The English establishment is at 35 Milk street, Cheapside.

Light system, and wonderful developments have been the result. The Ball system of Electric arc and incandescent lighting, manufactured by the Ball Electric Light Company of Toronto, possesses peculiar merits, and the company deserves to succeed. Mr. Johnstone, general manager of the Toronto Bridge Co., is President, and a brother of his is managing director. Under such auspices success is almost guaranteed.

Corporations, steam-hoat owners and others, should pay attention to the announcement made by Mr. John Perkins, proprietor of the Toronto Engine and Boiler works. Mr. Perkins undertakes to manufacture high-speed engines for all purposes, especially adapted for Electric light for steam-hoat and street lighting. They are said to be taking the lead throughout Canada, and are running in Montreal, Toronto, Quebec, St. John, N.B., Halifax, N.S., and elsewhere. The following are also on hand:—Marine engines, cylinders from 15x15 to 8 x 10; Up-rights from 3 to 12 h. p. and Stationary from 15 to 50 h. p.; also Water-works supplies, hydrants, valves, pumps, etc.

William Polson & Co., Engine and Boiler makers and Machinery Brokers, 81 Esplanade street East, Toronto, have established a high reputation for thoroughness of workmanship. The firm devote their energies to the manufacture of Boilers and Engines of all kinds, making the manufacture of Steam Yacht Machinery a specialty. In addition to the above the house also deals in Iron Tools, Wood Working Machinery, Saw and Shingle Mill Machinery, Shafting, Pulleys, &c. Messrs. Wm., F. B. and Joseph Polson are practical mechanics, exercising their close personal supervision over all details of the factory. This firm has just purchased the Gearing Properly, valued at $30,000, and purposes establishing its works there.

THE NEW CLOSETS.—From a sanitary point of view earth closets are generally said to be preferable to water closets, which are very liable to get out of repair; they get frozen up in winter, and when a thaw takes place, pipes frequently burst and flood the house. As the Dry Earth system is in its infancy in Canada, few people are fully acquainted with its many advantages. The use of dry earth or ashes as an absorbent or deodorant, is no new discovery. Although little known in this country, they have been in extensive use in England and other countries for the past 15 years. "Heaps" invention is with good reason claimed to be the best, as the patentees have been awarded 13 prize medals in Great Britain, Holland and other countries. The apparatus is suited to the cottage, villa or mansion and is arranged in much the same style as the ordinary water closet. Prices are $12.50 to $40 and estimates are furnished for fitting up public buildings, hotels and large institutions.

Parties desirous of becoming acquainted with this important subject should address Heaps Dry Earth and Ashes Closet Co., Toronto, for illustrated catalogue.
