Church, in the Old Bethnal-green-road, being the seventh of the ten, for the erection and endowment of which the liberal subscription of £100,000 was made a few years since, was consecrated on Monday by the Lord Bishop of London. His Lordship was attended by the Rev. Mr. King, the Rector, and a large body of the district and parochial clergy, and from thence went to consecrate a burial ground two acres in extent, which has just been attached to the Church of St. James the Less, in Bonner's fields, adjacent to the chief entrance in Victoria-park.— On Thursday morning a new Church, in Charlotte-st., Fitzroy-square, dedicated to St. John, the evangelist, was ed with the usual formalities by the same Right Rev. Prelate, assisted by many of the neighbouring as much as the Cathedral itself. The East India Company has given £15,000 to the Church, the Begum of proo £12,000, the Bishop himself the munificent sum of £20,000. It is gratifying to learn that his Lordship of d hopes to consecrate and open the Cathedral for divine worship in November next. He returns at the end state that his Lordship's appeal on Sunday, at St. Mary's was answered by a collection of £85 6s. 6., and £15 10s in subsequent donations-together £100 16s. 6d.-Brigh-

The speeches, generally, were exceedingly well delivered, and elicited the discriminating applause of a critical audience. Amongst the most effective speakers may be mentioned Vance, K.S.; Coleridge, ma.; K. S. Reynolds, and Mr. Hanbury.

in the cloisters and quadrangle.

ternoon in the College Hall by the authorities of Eton to silver plate, were also displayed on sideboards on either impulse and another direction of enquiry and contemargest number ever entered at Eton College, since its

Two vacancies at King's College, Cambridge, were religious absurdity as that of the Plymouth brethren. announced this morning, in consequence of the resigna-tions of the Rev. Mr. Maturin and the Rev. Mr. Thackeray, who have been presented to valuable livings. The vacancies will be filled up by the nomination of Simonds, which there were 26 candidates, concluded on Thursday The prize was awarded by Mr. Blackall, of St. John's College, and the lecturer in mathematics at King's (who was appointed examiner,) to Mr. Ferrers. Blore (son of the architect) was adjudged the second in point of merit, and Coleridge the third.

THE CHURCH.

First Page.

Poetry.—The two Marys at the Compassion of Christ Ecclesiastical Intellige Fourth Page

The History of the Prayer-Boo	ok. Original Poetry Thirteenth	his suc
The Vow of Renunciation.	Sunday after Trinity.	than the Common Swearing.	A word about Rechabiteism.	an unde
Zeal in the Service of God. Rites and Ceremonies.	The Horn of the Alps.	difficult titles and Ceremonies.	The state of the s	200
A TOWN THE PARTY OF THE PARTY O	CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY OF THE	consum
THE LORD BISHOP OF TORONTO has authorized		sustaine
the publication of the fo	the publication of the following list of appointments
for Confirmation, East of Toronto:-		guardia
Sunday " 6 Ba	th11, A. M.	most un
AI	mherst Island O. I. M.	Lord G
Monday " 7Fr	edericksburgh11, A. M.
A	lolphustown	tative i
Tuesday 8 8Pic	eton11, A. M.	afforded
Ma	arysburgh 3, P. M.	and ma
Wednesday " 9 Pr	oceed to Kingston.	to atte
CONTINUATION APPOIN	NTMENTS BELOW KINGSTON.	But eve
	indsdown12, Noon.	fluences
MondaySept. 14L8	ockville11, A. M.
Tuesday 15bi	mb's Pond 3, P. M.	is some ilson's Corners12, Noon.	Commo
	rth11, A. M.	riority.
	nith's Falls11, A. M.	protecti
	anktown 3, P. M.	from ot
	arleton Place11, A. M.	these b
Sunday " 20Pa	kenham11, A. M.
Monday " 21Hi	untley11, A. M.	was at
M	arch, 2d Church 3, P. M.	very ma
Tuesday " 22Ma	arch, 1st Church, 11, A. M. Ir. Pinkey's Church)	parties
	Ir. Pinkey's Church)	relative
	ytown	that an chmond 2, P. M.	The
	errickville 2, P. M.	A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR
	emptville11, A. M.	quoted
Sunday " 27Pr	rescott11, A. M.	tisfactio

We observe in a late New York Churchman the or to celebrate it with immoderate rejoicing.

Friday Oct. 2... Hawksbury

Matilda

Osnabruck

Wednesday... " 30...Cornwall11, A. M.

following paragraph:-"After the correspondence which has been published between Bishop Hopkins and the Rev. Mr. Hoyt, the deprevail a general agreement, undisturbed by any other fection of the latter to the Romanists can be no matter of surprise to our readers. Having renounced the ministry of the Church, Mr. Hoyt was displaced from the same on the 23d of July. On the seventh Sunday after Trinity, he was re-baptized and received the communion in the human constitutions must defer. The extreme and Roman Cathedral at Montreal."

the absence of our surprise should be owing to the in- in the school of faction, nothing that promises emoludications given in Mr. Hoyt's correspondence of a ment and promotion can give offence. Politicians of tendency towards the step he has so unhappily and this character will see in the present state of the Sugar sinfully taken, or whether the action of his Diocesan in Duties question only the elevation of a party, or the the matter, and the general temper with which the further development of the commercial policy which discussion was pursued, might be expected to urge has been ushered in with the scheme for doing away him to this apostacy.

upon the documents themselves, -there was not a lit- ascendancy, the good fortune of the Cabinet in this tle, amongst the many acts and declarations of Mr. particular, as in every other, is welcomed by all who Hoyt which were reprehensible, that appeared wholly profess without reservation, the whole of their political to disclaim any leaning or tendency towards the here- creed: the man who acts from mere secular motives, sies of Rome. There was, of course, every effort at may become reconciled to the innovation by regardself-justification; and, as it appeared to us, on the ing it as the necessary progress of a movement against ground that the accusations or suspicions of the Bishop all kinds of protection which it is no longer in our of Vermont were not correctly founded.

lication of this correspondence, and the severity mani- join in condemning the manœuvre as virtually, though fested towards Mr. Hoyt in the progress of the dis- not professedly, a direct patronage and remuneration cussion, had wearied his mind or soured his feelings, of slavery; and will discountenance it, as such, on and therefore, - with some predisposition that way the high and sacred ground of Christian responsinotwithstanding all his protestations,-impelled him bility. To assert the rights of humanity; to redress to the bosom of that corrupt Church, we are just as the grievances of the defenceless and afflicted; to enmuch unprepared not to feel surprise at the step he force, by every lawful expedient, the gracious purpohas taken. It would be incredible to us that a cler- ses of our Creator, who hath "made of one blood all gyman of pure intention and honest heart, with a be- nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth;"

manfully and cheerfully under every reproach; while set the noble example of discarding all sectarian passion and irritation, evil things in themselves and feeling, and denounced the proposition of his own porequiring to be subdued rather than fostered, should litical friends as a scandal to the honest and humane reliction of plighted duty. that a similar excitement of warm and sinful feeling "I blush to read the peddling illustration," are his

The company on retiring from the upper school proceeded to the new buildings, and afterwards promenaded ception, as to the constitution and claims of the A grand entertainment was given at 3 o'clock this af- Church; and consequently when enquiry was entered upon, and the thoughts were diverted into a new chanthose named above.

The splendid silver model of the College Chapel, presented by his late Majesty William IV., was placed in a pedestal in the centre of the hall. Various ancient drinking cups, salvers, and other valuable articles of gold and impulse and another direction of enquiry and contemplate to the special contemplate of the special co plation, the lapse would have been to another quarter. ing the value of the captives he enslaves, and enlarging Upon the party breaking up, the election of scholars upon the foundation of Eton College was then proceeded with. The result will be made known about Wednesday or Thurday next. There are but seven vacancies (the or Thurday next. There are but seven vacancies (the number now on the foundation being 63,) and there are braced: the choice of error was an accident or continuous this change in our commercial affairs. No provision the unusual number of 51 candidates.

The number of scholars upon the "Election List" is

The number of scholars upon the "Election List" is 777, being an increase of 17 since last election, and the its corruptions had not been adopted, there would in all probability have been an acceptance of some such

K.S., the two senior scholars at Eton.

The first examination for the mathematical prize of the duties of a member of the Church of England, tent, to diminish the amount of suffering, and to limit value of 30L, recently founded by Mr. Tomlin, and for would commit the spiritual suicide of an apostacy to the destruction of human life. Rome, or an aberration into the perils of Dissent.

> ligence that the sense of the House of Commons had raised by the labour of the slave. To create a new been declared by the large majority of 130, in favor evil, from free-will and choice, and to prolong, from of the Ministerial measure for the abolition of duties partial, if not absolute necessity, an evil which already upon slave-grown sugar. The final success of the prevails are two distinct actions, and imply a very difcomiccis and the temporary depression of the Conservative opposition; the advantageous situa- advanced now, could not have been accounted contion in which the policy of the late Premier has placed successors, - exacting from them very little more y of which has been already mastered by his own mate skill and management; the bereavement ed by the cause of "Protection" in the secession who were once esteemed its firm friends and the the Lower House of the British Parliament, tations. d a flattering prospect to the new Government, de it no very venturous enterprise on their part what surprising that the vote in the House of successful opposition could have been formed.

the result of this division with great sa-But if we set aside the political associations of their late success, and examine it in a moral 3, P. M. sons even of the party who have been crowned with its equivocal honours, whose conscientious estimate them to speak of the victory with much complacency, and it would be a sad thing to neutralize their labours, and from the specious and dangerous teaching of Dissent

It is much to be desiredthat amongst the statesmen alliance or connexion, to weigh in the balance of the sanctuary, and to compare with the Word of God, thorough-paced partizan is rarely, if ever, discomposed We confess ourselves at some loss rightly to under- by inward misgivings; for to the mind which has with the Corn Laws. As an evidence that the au-If we recollect aright, -for we cannot lay our hands thors of this measure are, for the time being, in the power to arrest or control; but, besides these two And if, on the other hand, it is meant that the pub- classes, there are many, of differing opinious, who will have been amongst the last motives to so fearful a de- heart. The opinions expressed, and the fearless lanave been amongst the last motives to so fearful a deeliction of plighted duty.

We are more concerned to notice this, as we believe

We are more concerned to notice this, as we believe

All such desertions of our Apostolic communion, we high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice of England.—
high an authority as the Chief Justice

tive to many even under adverse circumstances,-a commerce which is considered profitable, though only We believe that no person of sound intellect, and one out of every five slaves should escape the usual capable of correct reflection, would take away his own mortality of their frightful voyage; which selfishness, life; and we feel just as sure that no individual of a __the only check on covetous minds—does not soften; healthful mental temperament, and duly instructed in in which interest itself interposes, to a very small ex-

It is idle to say, as some have alleged, that it is nconsistent to exclude sugar, and (amongst other ar-The arrival of the Caledonia brought us the intel- ticles produced in the same way) to admit cotton, nistry upon this question could hardly have been a ferent degree of moral delinquency and are effecting any good at all. Besides, this plea, however confidently clusive by the champion of the injured negro, or Wilberforce would never have proposed Emancipation; for small amount of exertion necessary to carry on if the argument be sound and valid now, it was equalrtaking, and to prosecute an experiment, all the ly so then; and if it can be fairly and suitably insisted upon, at the present time, to justify the removal of restriction from territories which are tilled by compulsory and unrecompenced toil; it would have been a sufficient reason, at a time when every excuse, howns of ancient rights,—all these circumstances, ever shallow was pressed into the service of the hospropitious as they were to the interests of which tile party, for resisting the manumission of those who eo. Bentinck is now the acknowledged represen- were languishing in bondage upon West Indian plan-

It may be that the apprehensions entertained by others as well as ourselves, are not warranted by the mpt this extension of the free-trade system. real tendency of the measure we have been diccussing. en with a full view of all these concurrent in- We believe, however, that it will entail upon England which have been at work in their behalf; it all the mischievous consequences we have described, that it will expose our rulers to the charge of conns should have given them so decided a supe- tending against the slave-trade in one way, and fos-It appears that many of the advocates of tering it in another, than which no inconsistency can on, wearied with the length of the session, and be more notorious or more discreditable; and, with her motives, had returned to their homes: had these impressions on his mind, it is natural,—it is in een in attendance when this great question fact a part of his profession and his duty,—that every issue, their presence would have diminished Christian man should regard with jealousy and dislike sterially the Ministerial majority, although as and fear any policy, although indirect and undesigned, are at present constitued in regard to their which is likely to renew the blood-guiltiness from strength, there is no reason for believing which our country has been happily relieved. That stain upon our national character has been done away. friends of Lord John Russell's Cabinet have God put it into the hearts of good men to attack a public iniquity which sooner or later, would have eaten like a canker into our honour and our fortunes. In the Spirit of the Most High they fought against it and prevailed. The holy war was undertaken by re- lic Church and all that separate from her communion ligious men, and conducted in a religious temper .-We doubt not that a blessing has been drawn down from heaven upon the nation through their exertions; and to forfeit the Divine favour, by building up what on the they have destroyed.

The doctrine we have propounded in our leading Editorial article with respect to the moving cause of apostacy from the Church, is borne out by the following statement of facts, which we gather from that elegant and instructive periodical the Evergreen:-"PERVERTS TO ROMANISM .- Among the perverts from We contess ourselves at some loss rightly to under-stand these words of our contemporary; as to whether been duly exercised in political artifice, and educated have not been educated, in early life, either amidst schism, or, at least, in very low-Church, or no-Church principles We were acquainted with two persons who have left the ministry of the Church and entered that of the papal communion. One of them was, at the early period of his ministry, far more of a Puritan than a Churchman,—re-fusing to wear either the surplice or the gown, omitting parts of the baptismal and communion services, excessively fond of 'night-meetings,' in which the Prayer Book was never used, an active friend to 'revival' mea sures and extravagances, frequently joining his 'clerical brethren of the sects,' in their fanatical proceedings. Suddenly, by some presto operation, he became a most ntolerably high-Churchman: and once set-a-going, h did not stop till he found himself at Rome. He does not appear to have stopped long even there; for a relation of his lately informed us that, though still a Romish priest, he has become quite sceptical, and is much inclined to doubt the whole account of revealed religion. Such is the brief history of one pervert to Romanism.

allude to another. "A few weeks ago, we were pained to learn the fact that a Church-elergyman—formerly a school-mate of ours-had left the Church and become a Romanist. In hi case, too, we were acquainted with some of the facts. In early life he was a Methodist, and was even permitted to exercise his gifts as an 'exhorter' among his sect. Presbyterians, knowing his intention to devote himself to the ministry, fixed their eyes upon him, and generously offered to furnish him the means for a collegiate educa tion, if he would promise to let them have the benefit of it, by renouncing Wesleyanism and embracing Calvinism. He listened to this proposal for a time, until he met with some other friends, who offered to assist him in his theo-

NEW CHURCHES IN THE METROPOLIS.—St. Jude's Church, in the Old Bethnal-green-road, being the seventh the ten, for the erection and endowment of which the beral subscription of £100,000 was made a few years ince, was consecrated on Monday by the Lord Bishop of the detrines and principles of the north carried by the Rev. Mr.

The again the condern of mankind at large. The again the said to be of it. A year or two ago, we began to the along time, could hardly be said to be of it. A year or two ago, we began to confirm his father's gift: the son indeed came to the Bishop with a copy of the will, and has since given a deed in trust for the property. The land, though of small extent, has, from forming the corner of two great thorough as Lord Denman, one of the fathers of the Whigs, has as Lord Denman, one of the fathers of the we do not believe that he, or any other pervert, was ever the noble example of discarding all sectarian set the noble example of discarding all sectarian to conscientious in entering the precincts of Popery; but set the noble example of discarding all sectarian set the noble example of discarding all sectarian to confirm his father's gift: the son indeed came to the Bishop with a copy of the will, and has since given a deed in trust for the property. The land, though of small extent, has, from forming the corner of two great thorough in trust for the property. The land, though of small extent, has, from forming the corner of two great thorough in trust for the property. The land, though of small extent, has, from forming the corner of two great thorough in trust for the property. The land, though of small extent, has, from forming the corner of two ago, we began to eat two ago, we began to extend the action of the will, and has since given a deed in trust for the property. The land, though of small extent, has, from forming the corner of two great thorough in trust for the property.

The land the trust has a long time, could hardly be said to be of it. A year or two ago, we began to eat on the c fully grounded in the doctrines and principles of the Church. And nothing but a sense of duty to the Church Bishop of the fact, and to give a conveyance in accordance Church. And nothing but a sense of duty to the would induce us to give these facts concerning our quonwould induce us to give these facts concerning our quonwell with his father's intention.

We arrived at the beautiful village of Delaware, fifteen the Rebellion Claims.—Ibid.

that a similar excitement of warm and sinful feeling is at the root of more than half the instances of religious apostacy and schism with which we are presented for confirmation, or in the absence of that temper and frame of the strong and reproachful words, "from receivers of stosics at the root of more than half the instances of religious apostacy and schism with which we are presented for Confirmation, or in the absence of that temper and frame of the strong and reproachful words, "from receivers of stosics, either in the want of a sound religious education, or in the absence of that temper and frame of the strong and reproachful words, "from receivers of stosics, either in the want of a sound religious education, or in the absence of that temper and frame of the strong and reproachful words, "from receivers of stosics, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education, or less, either in the want of a sound religious education. After taking some refreshment at Mr. Flood's, we drove to Muncey town. The Bishop, fearing that his ward at the property of the strong that the property of the strong that the property of the strong taken at the property of the strong t ment, whether constitutionally or by habitual abuse, ment, whether constitutionally or by habitual abuse, rowed Mr. Flood's; and in this we were terribly shaken. sident gentry. His Lordship preached the manguration seems. The appointed incumbent of this Church is the seems. The appointed incumbent of this Church is the seems. The appointed incumbent of this Church is the seems. The appointed incumbent of this Church is the seems. The providing an individual,—has as often an influence in provoking an influence in provoking an influence in provoking an individual,—has as often an influence in provoking an influence in provoking an influence in provoking an influence in provoking an influen reany, we believe, the cause of more than the exception of two, are now and parties which prevail in the world at the present England should become the principal fomenter of it, to be taught, no willingness to submit to authorized converted through the indefatigable exertions of our extension of the same Calcutta, which was begun seven years ago ander instance of the control of the co besides the endowment rund, which is designed to main-tain six missionaries for the city of Calcutta; they are to have stalls in the Cathedral, and an income of £350 per have stalls in the Cathedra, and an income of 2550 per it is a divine institution they are adopting; the only alluman device that they are adopting; human device that they are adopting; the only and sion seems to be to wounded pride or rooted dislike, sion seems to be to wounded pride or rooted dislike, and these bad feelings are made the arbiters in a choice and these bad feelings are made the arbiters in a choice of doctrine or the preference of an ecclesiastical positive leaves of some generations. political economy at the expense of some generations sound Church principles, in all their fulness and compositions and the work of conversion and the keeping pleteness, are infused betimes, and fall upon a genial on pretences, too, which really are an aggravation of Thoughts like these could have flowed only from a soil, then there is every security that the affections soil, then there is every security that the affections meagre and corrupt teaching of the surrounding sects. his enormous diocese of North India, having already presided over it for 15 years, the longest Episcopate that our Church in India has yet known, and marked by many and clear tokens of the Divine blessing. We are glad to and clear tokens of the Divine blessing. We are glad to and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation of the surrounding sects, will be stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the surrounding sects, will be stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the sin,—is so common a one in the present day, that sighted policy of the Government, in lessening as much as possible the expense of the Indian Department, even however, shares with him the credit of this noble test and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of and clearly the foundation of the surrounding sects, will be stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the surrounding sects, will be stationary,—in an accustomed to think with freedom, and to act the surrounding sects, will be stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the surrounding sects, will be stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the surrounding sects, will be stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the surrounding sects, will be stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the surrounding sects, will be stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the surrounding sects, will be stationary.—In a surrounding sects, will be stationary,—pledged and devoted entirely to the surrounding sects, will be stationary.—In a and clearly the foundation, the order and polity, of the Church as our Lord hath constituted it, that men may thus more clearly see the evil of departing from it, and the sin and peril of creating a schism in His body. We are not in the cast rear mat, in the cast of a person rightly instructed in the principles of the constituted of the produce, what the Christian most requires, a firm have been proud. The occasion of his admirable of a person rightly instructed in the principles of the constituted of the soundation of the Red men, operates against building Churches and the chief controversy, but it will be the chief controversy, but it will be chief controversy and controversy are controversy. The controversy are controversy and co Early this morning the numerous and distinguished visitors who had been from the British visitors who had been to accusate the College, and "election speeches" began to arrive at the College, and shortly after 10 o'cleck the puper school was filled with world perhaps might be challenged for an example of by the venerable Thomas Clarkson, who, with his estrained, perhaps, to disputation; but able, neverthe-"election speeches" began to arrive at the College, and shortly after 10 o'clock the upper school was filled with a highly fashionable company.

The speeches commenced immediately upon the entry of the Provost of Eton and Formation in the danger of a separation from It. And the world and Formation in the danger of a separation from It. And the world and Formation in the danger of a separation from It. And the world and Formation in the Italiae and Formation in the principles of the Church laid deep in childhood, the sweet-smelling savour of a well-spent life, may hope are called in question. This is what we regard -who, in maturer years, has ever forsaken her. It well be called by Wilberforce's name, -"the new as wholesome tuition, and the best preservative against nas been demonstrated, we believe, that, in every case of a lapse heretofore from the Church of Christ in England to the Boman schism, there had been antecedently a looseness of opinion, or a crudeness of conon a level with an ordinary commercial speculation, fearless communication and enforcement of all. A -to let it pass by almost unheeded, amongst the reti- mind so tutored, unless it be afflicted with some radical nue which, it is conceived, must follow in the train of disease, will-with God's blessing-continue settled the free trade movement. The moral principle which in its profession; and, whilst its belief is enlightened, it involves takes it altogether, we imagine, oat of the its principles will be sincere, "not lisping (as an old

To the Editor of The Church. Mr. Editor,-During a recent visit at Cobourg I had the privilege of being present at a part of the Annual Examination of the Theological Institution of the Diocese, which has of late years been established in that thriving town. It is not, I believe, generally known that this valuable acquisition to our Church owes its existence in a great measure to the munificence of the venerable the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, and is only an additional proof, to the many already on record, of the fostering care, which that excellent Society has long extended to the Church of our Fathers Next to sending out to this cour in this Colony. Next to sending out to this country an adequate number of well educated and devoted Missionaries, which, from the great demand at home, was scarcely to be expected, I know of no way in which the Society could have conferred a greater benefit upon us, than by the endowment which she has so generously granted to this long-desired Institution.

Since its establishment, about four years ago, about twenty young men have been prepared for the office of twenty young men have been prepared for the once of the sacred ministry, and are now most usefully and labo-riously employed in the discharge of the duties of their high and holy vocation; and it is, I believe, to this nur-sery of the Church we must in a great measure look, under the blessing of God, to supply the earnest calls which are constantly made for Missionaries from every partof this vast Diogestay annued to at the close of the 12th, and 13th inst. I had not the pleasure of being present at its commencement, but was gratified to learn from some of my reverend brethren, who witnessed the first proficiency which the students had attained in the various studies which came under their notice.

The examinations in Divinity, Ecclesiastical History, and the Classics, together with several essays which were read, occupied the two days on which I was present; and not only gave evident proof of intelligence and learning, but were highly creditable to the talented Professor, whose labours for the improvement of his charge have been most assiduous, and honourable to the young gentlement themselves. The great for the findents release the proof of the release of the students release the studen men themselves. The essays of two of the students, who have been a little more than a twelvemonth under instruc-tion, to which I listened with very great gratification, (and these, I was informed, were but specimens of several others), manifested a knowledge of Scripture, a depth of thought, and a neatness of style, which would have done credit to persons of more advanced years. Indeed, the knowledge exhibited by the candidates generally, was of a very satisfactory character; and I have great pleasure in being able to add, that, during their examinations, their deportment was quiet, courteous, and Christian, and such, in every respect, as became those who were pre-paring for so "weighty an office, that is to say, to be messengers, watchmen, and stewards of the Lord."

Before closing these brief remarks, I might notice the groundless and uncharitable assertions which have lately been made at a distance, relative to the religious instruction imparted at this Institution; but here, upon the spot such notice cannot be necessary. Suffice it to say, that every pains is taken to inculcate strictly the principles of our branch of the Church of Christ, and none others. course of study, which is in exact accordance with the Holy Scriptures, the Homilies, Liturgy, Articles, and Catechism of the Established Church of England and Ireland, is approved of by our revered Diocesan, who has been appointed to his high office for his wisdom, learning and vigilance; than whom no individual in the land is more capable of distinguishing between truth and error, between the teaching of our truly Scriptural and Apostonone more jealous of her principles; none more ready to detect and expose the slightest deviation from them; and none more desirous of shielding her from the blighting the other.

And as to the Reverend Professor himself, to whose hands has been committed, and most safely committed, the chief charge of this Institution, it is surely quite suffi-cient for every reasonable person to say, that his standing is deservedly high, and his orthodoxy undoubted, in the Church. What more is required? Is this Institution of our Church then likely to suffer in such hands as these? Surely not. They are far too jealous for her welfare to allow even one single doctrine to be infringed upon, without being the first to raise their voices in her defence, as faithful watchmen on the walls of our beloved Zion.

I, for my part, rejoice that we have such an Institution, and one, too, so ably and judiciously conducted. It can-not fail, by the blessing of God, to confer upon the Church throughout this Diocese incalculable and lasting benefits, by means of the number of young men who are here instructed in sound Church principles, and then scattered through the length and breadth of the land, to exercise the functions of the ministry, namely, "to teach and pre monish, to feed and provide for the Lord's family; t seek for Christ's sheep that are dispersed abroad, and for his children who are in the midst of this naughty world, that they may be saved through Christ for ever." If you of a place in your columns, they are at your disposal.
A PRESENTER.

Ecclesiastical Intelligence.

CANADA.

DIOCESE OF TORONTO.

PASTORAL VISITATIONS OF THE LORD BISHOP OF TORONTO DURING THE SUMMER OF 1845.

Monday, July 28.—This morning, after breakfast, we proceeded towards the mission of Delaware. At the junction of the London and Delaware roads, we stopped to look at an acre of land, of some value and in a very eligible position, which had been left many years ago by Mr. Schramn for the site of a Church and Burial-ground. coming sense of his vast accountability, should be induced to forsake a pure branch of the Church of Christ of the Church of Christ of the Church of Church

Flood's heart is so completely in the work, that he finds mies about 80. A few, and only a very few, still remain Pagans. One of these remarked that their own religion seemed to be getting old and unfit for the times, and that, offer what opposition they may, they must at length

Mission, without expressing the greatest satisfaction with Mr. Flood: he seems particularly qualified to make an effective Indian Missionary: his kind and affectionate manners, commanding deportment, and untiring labours win their hearts; and with this combination of advantages, his success, under the Divine guidance and blessing, is

It has been frequently asked why the Bishop has not yet ordained any of the Indians to act as Missionaries.— The answer is, that, whatever be the cause, the few instances of such ordinations in the United States, both beore and since the Revolution, have not been very encou raging. Until lately, we had not the means in this Diocese of giving them the necessary education; and now that this is within our reach, a provision for their support during the term of study is wanting. Some attempts are, however, now being made; but great care and circumspection are necessary. It will be found hazardous to admit them without long training, and a more than ordinary assurance that they will continue temperate. There is no deficiency of natural talent and ability, for the Indian is often found precocious, acute, and discerning; but there appears to be an indolence in his constitution, which looks wistfully for excitement; and to guard against the causes of improper excitement, virtuous habits must be well formed, and till each great and circumstantial and that nobleman with as little delay as possible.

I avail myself of this occasion to express a hope, that you will find the health of Lord Metealic much improved; and will find the health of Lord Metealic much improved; and will find the health of Lord Metealic much improved; and will find the health of Lord Metealic much improved; and will find the health of Lord Metealic much improved; and that, by the blessing of providence his lordship's life may years be prolonged.

Embracing the present opportunity of tendering to yourself, individually, my best wishes for your future health and happing the property of the content of the con causes of improper excitement, virtuous habits must be well formed, and till such habits become as it were part of the man, they cannot be safely entrusted with the in struction of their countrymen, or allowed to have unrestrained intercourse with the careless and dissolute por tion of the whole population,—and, unfortunately, few others are to be met with living among the Indians. It To His Excellency the Right Honourable Charles Theorif may, indeed, be admitted that the Indians have seldom had a fair opportunity of maturing their good qualities: their knowledge of the Whites has been for the most part the sake of sain and whose tracers, and rob them. The M. Higginson, Esq., to convey the assurance of the sin the sake of sand the more easily overreach and rob them. The principal commodity they bring among them is ardent spirits, called by the Iudians "fire-water," and the habitual indulgence of this necessarily produces the most valuable results.

M. nigguison, and the we entertain towards your lord and of the obligation which we are under for the valuable produces the most valuable results.

deplorable results.

The Indian, in order to give him the best opportunity Missionary, ought to be removed in early infancy from of the Colony; yet it is but an act of justice to your lord is parents, and carefully nurtured in a Seminary or is parents, and carefully nurtured in a Seminary or and gratification to ourselves, to express our warmest ad amily where he would seldom or ever see bad examples, tion of your lordship's talent and ability as displayed r see them only to abhor them. The result, in most were up at 5 o'clock; but it was no easy matter to get away from the hospitable kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Flood, who gave us an excellent breakfast before we were permitted to depart. It had rained all night, and the road was heavy; but as we approached Wardsville, twenty-three miles distant, it began to clear up, and we found the people assembling. The Church, yet a mere skeleton, stands upon high ground overlooking the village, and, when finished, it will be its greatest ornament. A temporary floor of rough boards had been laid down, and the ople were seated on planks so close up to the small low able at which the prayers were to be read as to make it rather inconvenient. Mr. McMurray, however, got through the service very well, but when the Bishop stood up to preach and approached the table, it was so low and the people so close that he found it impossible to use his manuscript, and was compelled to preach extempor This is a manner of addressing a congregation to which, as a general rule, the Bishop is by no means partial; but on occasions like the present, especially where it can be effected with the facility and success manifested by his Lordship, the free and familiar style of exposition which this allows is often attended with great benefit. The effect of extemporaneous addresses, in this occasion is very striking in the case of the candidates for Confir-mation to whom his Lordship always appeals at the close the service in this affectionate and familiar manner.

Wardsville is one of the Rev. Mr. Gunn's occasional stations, and has not been long established; and this being the first visit from the Bishop, the candidates for Confirnation were only seven in number. The congregation to wever, was much larger than we had anticipated; and bearing in mind that the village itself is only a few years old, the Church may be reckoned to have made great progress: the building, though plain, will when finished be neat and commodious; and, what is not unworthy of remark, all denominations are contributing to its erection, and are content that it be exclusively for the Church of England, in which they confess that they discern more regularity, order and edification, than amongst the pre-vailing sects. After the service, the leading people were introduced to the Bishop, who conversed with them for They appeared very earnest in their desire to finish their Church; but they will require some time, as the decided members of our communion are, in that uarter, few in number.

It continued showery, but we proceeded to Freeman's tavern, fifteen miles distant, which we reached, somewhat fatigued, about 5 o'clock. The house, though old, we found very clean and comfortable, and Mr. Freeman, our host, very intelligent, well acquainted with the surrounding country, and exceedingly civil and accommodating.

(To be continued.)

THE CHURCH SOCIETY OF THE DIOCESE OF TORONTO. TRINITY SUNDAY COLLECTIONS

cese of Toronto:-

Previously announced, in No. 111, amount... 243 11 Trinity Church, Barrie, per J. M. Sanford, Donation from St. John's Church, Prescott, per C. W. ... Smith's Falls... lls.....£0 15 0 ... 0 15 0 per Rev. Rev. Jas. Fadfield

115 Collections......£247 0 2 T. W. BIRCHALL, 3rd Sept., 1846.

Colonial.

As the subject has been freely alluded to by several of our contemporaries, we are perhaps not premature in stating that His Excellency the Earl of Catheart retires, at an early period, from the government of this Province. We are unable to Ministers have decided that Sir Allan Macnab has vacated his seat in Parliament. If there should be no legal obstruction it is most probable that a writ will not be issued until the re" turn of Sir Allan from England .- Brantford Courier.

WAI calfe wasible un

istratio

try the system

and he

out a of the office ical p person parall Sir J John M accid to a f tion :

The Inspector General is now in England, for the purpose of raising the new loan; and, notwithstanding the tightness of the money market, there is little doubt but that he will succeed. The public exchequer being empty, it is stated that upon the success of this negociation depends the early settlement of

Major-General, Sir Richard Armstrong, accompanied by his Aide-de-camp, Captain Moore, (82nd Regt.,) was in town on Wednesday last, on a tour of inspection; and on Thursday proceeded to Niagara. The Hon. Mr. Packenham, H M. Minister at Washington has been paying a visit to the Falls, and in the early part of week His Excellency passed through this city en route for nal has been formed, and into it the surface water from the surrounding lands, of course finds its way, and there settles in stagnant pools. These destroy the vegetation which has sprung up since the canal has been dug, and also hasten the decomposition of the stumps and logs which may be found in the channel, which in dry weather have sent up an unwhole some effluvium, to the great injury of the health of the whole town. Sincerely do we hope that the managers of the Grand River Company may see the propriety and necessity of placing this great improvement in that state of forwardness as she enable them to turn a current of water into this executation, which is all that is required to continue Brantford, what it has always been considered, one of the most healthy places in Western Canada.—Brantford Courier. The Deputy Postmaster General has been authorised to ex tend the northern mail route in Upper Canada from its present termination, Penetanguishene, to the Sault Ste. Marie, and Post Offices are to be established at the following places:

Owen's Sound, Manitowaning, La Cloche, St. Joseph's and Sault Ste. Marie. The communication is for the present to be monthly; in June, July, August and September, of next rest.

IMPORTANT DECISION-TOLL DUES .- From a judge lately delivered by his Lordship the Chief Justice of Uppel Canada, in regard to the question of levying tolls under the General Road Act, it is clear that toll can only be exacted one a-day, and that the one payment entitles the party paying, to whole day, without any further payment .- British Colonist.

The Canadien says that a run took place on the City Bank of Quebec the day previous, from an odd cause. Some simple minded person presented a checque for a small sum, to white offer what opposition they may, they must at length become Christians.

It is impossible to leave this extensive and laborious payment at 5s. 6d. each, no doubt laying the odd sixpence to the complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of small accessioned a complete most of the notes of or three times over on the profit. The bank was kept open hour and a-half beyond the usual time of closing, by time the folly was pretty well exhausted .- Montreal Gazette

The subjoined correspondence, which we have a melancho atisfaction in publishing, was received by the last Englismail. The same extensive feeling of benevolence and good-water and mankind, which has characterized the whole career a Lord Metcalfe, pervades his Lordship's brief but impressive ply. It is painful to think, that the carthly career of this properties of the pr great and good man is drawing so near its close .- Herald Toronto, 20th June 1846.

Sir, -I have the honour herewith to transmit to you an A dress from the Members of the ST. GEORGE'S SOCIETY of De City, to the late Governor-General of Canada; and in doing to request that you will be kind enough to have the same presented to that nobleman with as little delay as possible.

GEO. PERCIVAL RIDOUT, President. J. M. Higginson, Esq., &c., &c., &c.,

LUS, BARON, LORD METCALFE, K. G. C., Se., Se., Se.

May it please Your Excellency, onfined to the selfish traders, who go amongst them for he sake of only and the selfish traders, who go amongst them for he sake of only and the selfish traders, who go amongst them for he sake of only and the selfish traders, and the selfish traders, that the return to England of your Excellency's late Secretary the more easily overreach and rob them. The

It would be obviously improper, on an occasion like the present, to enter upon matters connected with the political or see them only to abhor them. The result, in most cases, would no doubt reward the labour and expense of the experiment, and we trust that some such experiments will now be made.

Tuesday, July 29.—Having a long drive before us, we were up at 5 o'clock; but it was no easy matter to get the experiment of this Province, as well as our profound regard for your lordship's personal character; and we feel equally bound, when addressing a nodleman into whose hands "The sword hath been committed by our Sovereign Lady the Queen were up at 5 o'clock; but it was no easy matter to get.

ment to British institutions. The extensive benevolence which has distinguished you lordship throughout a laborious and honoured public life, as which has been especially conspicuous during your lordship to be gratitude of all classes, but particularly of Englishmen.

Deeply and most sincerely sympathizing with your lordship in the heavy affliction with which it hath pleased Providence to visit you it is with pleasure that we hear, by the last mail from our "Father Land," that the means which have been used for the restration of your land of the restration of your land. used for the restoration of your lordship's health have been in some measure, successful; and, in humble submission to the Divine will, we commend your lordship to the protection Him by whom "Kings rule and Princes decree jus Signed by authority and on behalf of the Members,

G. P. RIDOUT, President. WM. ROWSELL, Secretary.

REPLY. To the Members of the St. George's Society, Toronto. I beg your acceptance of my warmest thanks for your kind farewell communication. The state of my health pred me from saying more, as every exertion is distressing to 1 Every day produces new symptoms which indicate my rapid approach to the grave. As long as I live, I shall be happy to bear testimony to the loyalty and public spirit of your Society.

I bid you farewell, with an earnest hope, that prosperity and happiness provide the day. happiness may attend you.

Malshanger, Basingstoke, 21st July, 1846.

(To the Editor of the Berean.)

Dear Sir, - Some time since I availed myself of the columns of the Berean, to draw attention to the sad descration of Lord's Day which would be the necessary consequence of pedestrian feat which is now, I am sorry to say in progress the Caladonia Springs; and it is satisfactory to know that, all though your remarks did not prevent the attempted accom plishment of this most foolish display of vanity on the part of the pedestrian, they had the good effect of opening the eyes of some persons to the real character of the performance; and caused them at least not to encourage it by their presence and countenance. Permit me, Mr. Editor, to bring under your notice, another "sporting event likely to conseque the which notice, another "sporting event likely to come off" soon, which is of a different and more atrocious character.

An advertisement in a late number of the Montreal Herald, announcing the arrival of some persons in that city, who are teachers of the "art of self defence," mentioned that one of them was under an engagement to fight a man named "Yanket Sullivan" for a wager in November next; and that the fight was to take place in Canada. It is to be hoped that our addition will be active will be a supported by the support of the suppo thorities will be on the alert, to prevent and punish any such outrage as the entrance of strangers within the Province for the purpose of having a prize-fight. The brutal exhibition is hibited in the United States, and is illegal in England, al though sometimes occurring unknown to the police. magistrates act with decision, should such an outrage be at-tempted; so that this first endeavour to introduce into Canada Made in the several Churches, Chapels, and Missionary Stations throughout the Diocese, to be applied to the support of Missions by the Church Society of the Diomay also be the last.

THE LEONARD INQUEST .- Yesterday, the Jury who have been so long engaged in conducting the inquiry into the circumstances which led to the death of the late Mr. Leonard, cumstances which led to the death of the late Mr. Leonald closed the inquest by returning a verdict of wilful murder against Jas. O'Donnel, Bernard Corrigan, Michael Palmer, Bernard Rafter, Daniel Brennan, and divers other persons unknown. They also made the following presentment:—"We, the Jury assembled on the Inquest holden on the body of the late O. C. Leonard, deem it incumbent on us to express our regret, that those to whom the conservation of the peace is confided, did not adopt some more efficient means for the mainter nance of peace and good order on the first day of the late races on the St. Pierre Race Course. We are further of opinion, that a heavy responsibility attaches to these parties in connection with the violent death of the late O. C. Leonard, being strongly convinced that a judicious disposition of the same force of mounted police officers, as that present on the last day