

from the Ministry in September 1973. Delegations from the Council of Ministers of Education in Canada will visit the USSR in September 1972 and in October 1973. Each delegation will consist of three to five people for a period of up to two weeks, depending on mutual agreement.

- (10) To exchange annually on the basis of reciprocity on agreed subjects, one delegation from each side of up to five university professors, instructors and other appropriate persons to familiarize themselves with the various aspects of academic life and research in the institutions of higher learning in the host country for a period of up to two weeks each.
- (11) To exchange language teachers to improve their knowledge of the host country's languages at summer courses; annually up to ten persons from each side for a term of up to ten weeks.
- (12) To exchange students of philological faculties and translators and interpreters to improve their competence in the host country's languages at higher educational establishments; annually up to six persons for a term of up to six months each.
- (13) To study the question of mutual recognition of diplomas, degrees and certificates.
- (14) To exchange textbooks and pedagogical material on the basis of reciprocity subject to their respective legislations.
- (15) Each side may send on the basis of reciprocity its representatives to the host country so that these representatives may become familiarized with the living and study conditions of exchange participants, up to two representatives a year at the expense of the sending side.