

DISCOUNTS—Continued.

	PAGE
Letter VI.—The currency on bills—Bills at long dates objectionable on financial grounds—Recapitulation	41
Letter VII.—Of the country bill, or loan-note, as distinguished from the commercial bill of exchange—Renewals—Over-due bills	48
Letter VIII.—Of the various descriptions of accommodation bills—And the bill system exposed by the commercial failures of 1847.....	58

SECURITIES.

Letter IX.—The grounds upon which a banker is entitled to require security for advances	72
Letter X.—Personal guarantees—Deposit of title-deeds—Ineligibility thereof as a banking security in the present state of the laws affecting real property	81
Letter XI.—Deposit of mortgage—Deposit of bonds—Assignment of stock—Judgments, &c.—Policy of insurance—Bill of lading—Mortgage of vessel.	93
Letter XII.—Transfers and deposits of railway shares—Shares in companies—Mining securities—Summary	101

CIRCULATION.

Letter XIII.—A banker's liabilities generally—Circulation of drafts at various dates, and at sight—Circulation of notes.....	109
--	-----