public confidence in me, and that is the reason why I have been compelled to pullinh the etery of ony life, in which it will be pereecised, that throughout my whole earecer all my mishans lanve arisen, but from sury fault of mine, but frum the inenpacity of others. The errors of the past have been perecived anid frankly athnitted liy the clairman, aml with the determination expressed by the right honmmable genteman, to use every cmedeavour to grand against them in future, the blarehuldera may look to a more prosperons result in thei: next undertaking. I myself have no heritation in predicting, that if the croos of omission and commission of the past lec avoided in the future-if, insteal of conatructing me in secret, and trusting to the orerwecning confitience of self-sufficiency, nnd lannching me when completed under such superintendence, " with all ny impeifectionn miny hand," withont cren sulijecting me to the neeessary to: -if, instead of doing thin, the diseto., will invite the co.operatime of the acientific rorld, will eall to their assistance men neppuninted with the imtispensabic requirements for my construction, and reck the aid and ndriec of those poseersing a practical hnowlellye of the clement to which I nun destined, and of the mode of placing me there -if they will do this, and collect, collate, and cull from sudi sonices all that may be deemed raluable, and reject all that in problomaticalif they will conduct this searel in a spirit of humility, nul not of self-suflicicuey, and phace their reliance upoa an All wise Providenes for their guidanec-if this be done. I repent that I have no lienitation in predicting, that their next attempt to estanlish we acruss the Allantic will be as succersfal ns their recent ones hate been disastrune.

Ihet it in not in the Allantic alone where my neroices are at prenent to be placed in immediate requitition. The kehime, whict: I have already mentioned in the eanlier part of my histery, my projectur propesed so far back an thirtecn yenis ago, to the Directors of the Liast India Comprny, is now being carricd unt-lint of comectiug this counlry with the linat Indics. That pertion of me intendel for the lied Sea is now a-tially being depanited there, hetween haten and Sucz; mul although the Baruge:an route ofected ip nut in accordance with the one my projecter then propuand.at, there is voly
