WHEAT CROP POLICY UPHELD BY FOSTER

ditions been known, it would not have been opened at all. The minister of trade and commerce said that the price of $2.15 per bushel has been fixed by the government at a certain basic point. The idea that the farmer would receive this price no matter how distant from this point was erroneous. Freight and other charges for carrying the grain to the basic point would, of course, have to be deducted. Reviewing the work of the Canadian wheat board, Sir George said that every particle of the grain trade today was functioning the same as under the open market. The present system was not to be permanent. It was probable that the present would be the last during which the system of government control would be carried out.

McKenzie's Criticism. Mr. McKenzie remarked that a very clever speech had been substituted for a satisfactory trade. This, he thought, would be regarded by the western farmers as a very poor deal. The method for disposing of Canada's wheat crop appeared almost absurd. We took our good Canadian money, which we had, by the way, to borrow from the United States, sent it across to a mission in London which loaned it to various European powers who wanted wheat. In return we accepted the bonds of these countries which might or might not be redeemed.

Crear for Reciprocity. Mr. Crear made passing reference to reciprocity. He thought that through Canada the feeling was in favor of reciprocity with the United States. With regard to the sale of Canadian wheat in the United States, he felt there had been some confusion of thought. Canadian wheat was not going into the United States, because the United States would not permit it to go in.

The bill was read a second time, and the house went into committee.

Replying to a question by Mr. McKenzie, the minister said it would not be possible to say what the ultimate

WITH FINGERS! CORNS LIFT OUT

Freezone is magic! Corns and calluses lift right off—Doesn't hurt a bit

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting; then shortly you'll lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humbug!

SAY VOCATIONAL TRAINING SUCCEEDS

Federal Soldiers' Committee Hears Testimony of Several Toronto Employers.

Canadian Press Despatch. Ottawa, Oct. 9.—Vocationally-trained soldiers are giving splendid satisfaction to their employers in Canada, it is the opinion of several employers heard by the special committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment today. There were eight witnesses who had employed disabled men in various lines of work and all of them were delighted with the industry of the men. Many of these employers had trained the men and then kept them right on as employees of their industries. There had been failures, but they were the exception. Men were not always proficient when their six or eight months' term was complete and some of the witnesses favored extending the term, but they said a man was well grounded in his trade and would soon improve in his new work. Organized labor is sympathetic to the returned men, the witnesses stated.

In the evening, Mr. T. A. Stevenson, labor representative on the D.S.C.R., voiced the idea that Canada had the best vocational training system of any of the allied countries. He thought also that labor conditions here were not such as to justify pessimism. He suggested that Canada should have an employment bureau under a centralized control, and that every private employment office should be abolished.

Praises G.W.V.A. Plan. Another witness during the evening was the wife of a returned soldier, who made a plea for the development of the G.W.V.A. plan, and declared "the government ought to do something to help the returned soldiers," as they really need it.

R. W. Breadner, commissioner of taxation, giving evidence in the evening, said that the idea of increasing the income tax to boost the revenue would be a serious mistake. He thought it would be better if the income tax rates were made lower in Canada than in the United States. Mr. Breadner stated that a wrong impression exists as to the number of really wealthy men in Canada, there being fewer than most people supposed.

Table Flynn Petition. When the meeting of the special committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment opened this afternoon a petition in regard to dependent British soldiers in the C.E.F. was tabled. The 15,000 names on the petition from Toronto demanding recognition of J. Harry Flynn and the withdrawal of Mr. McNell as counsel was read and tabled.

A communication was read from Great Britain's Heroes' Association, Vancouver, endorsing the request of the G.W.V.A. but urgently requested the payment of $500 to widows and dependents. This was tabled for future reference.

Statements in regard to regulations governing the return of medical students to Canada, from Gen. Fotheringham, were tabled.

A telegram from S. J. Gotthard and comrades of the great war protested against C. G. MacNeil, representing the war veterans, and said Mr. Flynn of Toronto was much more competent to speak for the returned men.

Riverdale Branch, G.W.V.A., Toronto, sent a telegram "strongly claiming G.W.V.A. plan altogether unfair."

Several witnesses from firms employing vocational students were then called to give evidence in regard to results of training. W. G. Ellis, general manager S. W. Ellis & Co., Limited, manufacturing jewelers, Toronto, said his firm was training several men. One had finished his course and was given employment at 40 an hour. During training the firm paid the man $5 bonus weekly. In six months' time this man would probably be getting 500 an hour. The prospects for work were good.

At Massey-Harris Company. R. W. Gifford, superintendent of the Toronto Works of the Massey-Harris Company, Limited, stated 57 men had been taken on to date.

Very few complaints had come from the vocational students. Six men were withdrawn by the department. The lowest earnings of a vocational student now employed are 40 an hour. This was earned by a man who did not complete his course. The average wage now actually earned is 520 an hour.

F. T. Downs, assistant to the general superintendent of the Toronto Carpet Company, Limited, said 125 men were employed and 14 men were now being vocationally trained.

W. R. Smith, manager, Mabo, Tod & Co., Limited, Toronto, has 14 men taking vocational training, and all were being trained at gold pen grinders.

ONE ARM PROVES AS GOOD AS TWO

Christie Street Amputation Cases Stoke Furnaces With Ease.

If any employer doubts the efficiency of returned one-armed men any such doubt will be speedily dispelled after a trip thru the workshops of Christie Street Military Hospital.

A tour through the World round the various training departments of the hospital to witness amputation cases making use of their mechanical arms was presided over by the director, Mr. W. G. Dobbs, and to watch Sgt. M. Salter, using his Canadian government artificial arm with the Bowler appliance, load a barrel with coal, with ease and accuracy.

In the woodworking department thirty-one men were busy planing, sawing, hammering, measuring, etc., all using the mechanical arm and doing the work quite as well as if they had had the use of their natural arms.

A demonstration of coal-shoveling took place and five men with their right arms amputated but otherwise shovelled 100 pounds of coal into a large bucket in 55 seconds, handling the shovel with their left arms.

W. G. Dobbs, adviser to the director of vocational training, explained that before discharge every amputation case is given two weeks' training in the use of his artificial limb.

Any amputation case, regardless of date of discharge, who has not had the work quite as well as if they had had the use of their natural arms, is called at Christie Street Hospital and he will be given training.

Some very creditable work turned out by men with two weeks' training was shown. Mr. Dobbs invites the public to drop in to the hospital at any time during the day to view the men in training.

BREAD DRIVERS BEHIND STRIKERS

The bread drivers, by a vote of 51 to 49, decided at last night's specially convened meeting at Occident Hall to back up any action the striking bakers might decide to take relative to their strike. It is understood that the drivers may be called upon to strike with the bakers within the next few days. Bread drivers with day-work firms may be asked to remain at their posts, as well as bakers working with these firms.

"NO DEAD CATS ON MY PLATFORM"

Gooderham Describes Dewart's Conduct as Slanderous—Replies to Liquor Charge.

H. Hartley Dewart, the Liberal leader, has got under George H. Gooderham's skin. The Conservative M.L.A. showed plainly at the meeting in Parkdale assembly hall last night that his indignation was at boiling point over Mr. Dewart's speech at the Liberal nomination meeting. He declared that the opposition leader's conduct was one of abuse and slander, saying among other hard things, that his idea seemed to be to start something so that the hon. member or Southwest Toronto would forget who the real Dewart was, this being a reference to the Liberal leader's anti-conscription attitude. With reference to what he described as the charge by Mr. Dewart that "we were instrumental in having all kinds of liquor handed out to the Jews," Mr. Gooderham read from the statement made by the chairman of the Liberal board, which appears in this morning's papers.

Near the end of his remarks the speaker said Mr. Dewart had made the statement that he (Mr. Gooderham) had said he had spent $100,000 in Southwest Toronto to win the election. "When he said it he was lying," replied Mr. Gooderham, and applause. "It was Lieut. Ramsden who said that," ex-Ald. James McCausland was heard to say at the back of the hall.

Continuing Mr. Gooderham said Mr. Dewart's remarks were "an insult to the good, plain, honest and decent people of Southwest Toronto and to the Liberal party." His whole platform from start to finish is one of slander. His whole conduct in the legislature has been that of a dead cat on my platform. (Laughter and applause.)

The Homer-St. Catharines case was next mentioned, and the speaker said when invited by the prime minister to make a charge on his responsibility as a member of the legislature against any of the government or against any member of the Conservative side, Mr. Dewart was afraid to do so, because he knew he would lose his seat in the house.

With reference to what had been said about Hon. Howard Ferguson and his department, Mr. Gooderham said the Liberal leader had access to the books for three years, but he (Mr. Dewart) didn't think people were educated to know that "is that the kind of man you want to represent you in the legislature? If so, then don't vote for me. I went to school with him. His voice: 'Am sorry for you, George.'" I had sense enough to keep away from him. As long back as that that did we remember? The debating societies he always took the case for Canadian independence.

Ex-Alderman McCausland, who is "gone yester," said he would like to see the Liberal leader's record. Well, it wouldn't get it today. (Laughter.)

Keeping Bad Company. Mr. George Brown, Mr. Dewart for touring among the Austrians and Germans of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, preaching anti-conscription, and also for his frequent interruptions in the house. As for Lieut. Ramsden, "I believe he is a decent young fellow," said the speaker. "The only thing I am surprised at is the conduct of the Liberal leader and indications are that the country today to support Sir William Hearst and his government and policy.

Mr. Gooderham, who seemed happy and contented with a pipe in his mouth, and who seemed to be the individual who caused a titter at the back of the hall when he remarked in an undertone he would just as soon listen to Dr. Caroline Brown. He then speaking, as George H. Gooderham, supplied frequent interruption and some of his comments were really good. W. H. Price, M. L. A., was the first to bring the disconcerting element into the hall, and his friend, seated on steps at the back of the hall, showing no liking for the prohibition sentiments expressed.

Ex-Alderman McCausland to Mr. Price: You have got a temperance riding. Mr. Price: It makes no difference whether I represent a temperance riding or not. I want you to understand that so far as I am concerned on the question I am quite positive that I think it is in the best interests of the country today to support Sir William Hearst and his government and policy.

Mr. McCausland (loudly): No! No! This was quite a noisy interruption here, and also Mr. Gooderham, ex-Alderman David Spence, who does not share Mr. Price's views on prohibition, but otherwise is with the party, appealed for order.

When the chairman described Dr. Coyle as "the brains of the government" there were cries of "What about Hearst?" and Mr. McCausland's voice was heard above the others, "Now you're talking, Dave."

RUMANIA FRAMING PACT WITH HUNGARY?

Paris, Oct. 8.—Insistent rumors of a treaty which Rumania is endeavoring to negotiate with Hungary, in order to reach peace conference circles, continue to be a general disposition to believe that a certain Rumanian official is striving to bring about a treaty, regardless of the frequent denials which have been issued from Bucharest.

Rumania is alleged to be seeking to gain far more territory than granted to that country in the treaty the peace conference is framing with Hungary on behalf of the allied and associated powers.

Brantford, Ont., Oct. 9.—In an incendiary fire, which destroyed the parks board stable in Agricultural Park, the horse formerly used on the police patrol was burned to death. The parks board has offered a reward of two hundred dollars for the conviction of the incendiary.

TORIES MAKE DEWART TARGET

Question of Sacramental Wine Interests Meeting in Southwest Toronto.

Full of pep and decidedly primed with events was last night's meeting of Liberal-Conservatives of Southwest Toronto held at Occident Hall, Bathurst and Queen streets. At half past eight there were 40 present, at nine o'clock more than 140 were present, at half past nine there were 80, but at a quarter past ten there were 400 present, while at eleven o'clock there were only 25, the remaining 375 trooping out on other business. Those who supplied these frequent surpluses were striking bakers who for the moment had no hall large enough to hold them. The meeting was convoked by an order of Major McBrien, Tory candidate for the riding, and John MacDonald, laborer. Mr. MacDonald asked the major why the government offered amendments to the workmen's compensation act giving power to employers to appeal from awards of compensation boards, these amendments being withdrawn only at the instance of labor representatives.

"You are that Jimmy Simpson, aren't you?" fired back the major. "I am not Jimmy Simpson," returned Mr. MacDonald, "well, you're one of his gang, anyway," replied the other, following repeated questions from the labor man, "you tell your people what you like. You rent a hall for your gang, and reserve your remarks for them."

Another feature of the meeting was a fire of questions from Joseph Singer to George H. Gooderham, one of which was why the wine offered for sacramental purposes for Jews during the recent celebrations was only $2.50 proof spirits. Mr. Gooderham stated he knew nothing about that phase of the matter. Aside from these interludes the meeting was enthusiastic in favor of the government, although primed with personalities in which H. Hartley Dewart was the central target. Hon. Thomas Crawford in a well received address recalled the many accomplishments of the Hearst government and also reminded his hearers that he was responsible for placing the workmen's compensation act upon the laws of the land. Other speakers were Captain Joe Thompson, W. H. Young and many well known citizens of the riding.
