ment who had fooled the English in the dominion as to the attitude of the people of Quebec on the war, Henri Bourassa again dealt with the conscription issue and its cause in a speech at St. Zotique Hall last night.

Mr. Bourassa said the French-Canadian chiefs at Ottawa who protested always that their compatriots were ready to die for England, the same as the other races here, knew it was not true. Continuing, Mr. Bourassa says: "It was a lack of loyalty towards the King a lack of loyalty to our English fellow-citizens, for our deputies to fool them that way, to make them think that we thought in English, that we loved in English, that we rejoice in English; that will never bring harmony. Be frank, tell the truth, how many of you were in favor of taking part in this war, how many of you here? And all your deputies at Ottawa, Liberal and Conservative, say that you were in favor of taking part in the English provinces they say that you are cowards? When time showed these statements to be lies, what was the feeling? Instead of simply discussing the 1 atter with you have two cents worth of logic make of simply discussing the 1 atter with you have two cents worth of logic make of the people of the United States.

Taken Over To Permit British To Work Nearer Front.

British Headquarters in France, June 22-(By the Associated Press).-Amer ican doctors, nurses and enlisted menhave within the last fortnight taken over six of the British great general field hospitals, releasing the English staffs for duty near their front. The Americans have been much impressed by the cordiality of their welcome as well as by the thoroughness and effectiveness of the British hospital system. So smoothly have the transfers been made that the Americans have taken up their new work without even a moment's upset in the routine of the various hospitals. The Stars and Stripes fly with the British Union Jack from each hospital flagstaff, the two ensigns fluttering side by side in the cool breezes that sweep in from the sea.

The British selected their hospital sites with the greatest care, and have developed them with a completeness that has come from nearly three years' experience. Some of the general hospitals are made up of tented wards, accommodating forty to sixty bedg each. Others are constructed of a series of huts. Both styles are models of field comfort and convenience. The operating theatres are splendidly built, and seem to lack nothing in the way of modern surgical equipment.

Originally planned for 1,040 beds, and ican doctors, nurses and enlisted men ne general hospitals have been prically all enlarged to 1,400 beds.
