All-Star Vaudeville Bill Prove Hit.

Those who sought refuge in the sweltering city streets were delighted with the new ventilation system and decorations of the theatre, and the spleadid program, consisting of Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long Lees," and an all-star five-act vaudeville bill. Yesterday was the opening of the Grand Summer Garden, and the theatre was very cool and comfortable. In "Daddy Long Lees," Miss Pickford appears in this city in the first of her own productions, and this new picture will be shown exclusively at the Grand all week. Adapted from the story and play of the same title, this feature film is a treat for movie fans, and Miss Pickford displays her comedy ability in a light-hearted girlish vein, which in mediately won the hearts of the audience. The adventures of Judy Abbott in the orphanage are well-known to readers of current fiction, but the pranks of Mary Pickford as youthful Judy, along with a small freckle-faced boy companion, provide some comedy that is filled with laughs. Miss Pickford has had very few vehicles which suit her talent so well, and in the romance of Judy, she has ample scope to demonstrate her ability, which she uses to good advantage. Lovers of good comedy are urged to see Miss Pickford at her best in "Daddy Long Bicknell, as "The Model Baker," Sticknell, a presents a clever clay-modelling act, in the guise of an eccentric baker, and his popular character sculpting of celebrities both past and present, goes over with a punch. Frank Morrell, "The California Boy," in a comedy talking and singing number, assisted "The California Boy," in a comedy talking and singing number, assisted by a lady partner, presents an act which drives away the blues, and is in keeping with the remainder of the program. keeping with the remainder of keeping program.

Bicknell, as "The Model Baker,"

The headline vaudeville attraction. "Resista," thoroughly mystified all present, a young lady weighing only 98 pounds, and travelling under the above name, defies the strongest man to lift her. This haffling sensation has mystified the public at all performances throughout the United States and Canada, and any member of the audience is at liberty to step up onto the stage and test his lifting powers. No one has as yet succeeded in raising Resista in a straight lift. This scientific novelty pleases all who have seen attempts to lift Resista from her feet at the Grand.

Harry and Etta Conley, breeze onto the stage in a clever skit entitled "At the Old Cross Roads," and their comedy is refreshing to say the least. The singing numbers are delightfully rendered, and pretty scenic displays throughout this act are splendidly arranged. Olive Brisco and Al Rauth present a clever act which fairly scintillates with wit, the male member of the cast being a star comedian who is outdone in this line by his pretty partner. Their clever demonstration of talent, causes ripples of laughter to glide through the house, and their act so one of the best in its line.

The vaudeville program continues to-ay and townsow with the control of the cast being a star comedian who is outdone in this line by his pretty partner. Their clever demonstration of talent, causes ripples of laughter to goes to Dr. Meade and he eventually cures and adopts the child. Meanwhile Burton had been beautiful.

WILLIAM FARNUM AT HIS BEST IN "THE MAN-HUNTER"

Sextet De Luxe Presenting a Classy Vaudeville Act at the Patricia.

William Farnum, in "The Man Hunter," one of his most powerful photoplays attracted capacity audiences to the Patricia Theatre yesterday. This stirring production will be repeated today and Wednesday.

Farnum begins in this story as a wealthy clubman in London. Through wealthy clubman in London. Through the purchase of a huge block of sup-posedly worthless stock he is left pen-

Addressing 150 members of the Federal Labor Union in the trades and labor council chambers last night. Sergt. Fred Young expressed the opinion that in the organization of a brotherhood of workers, the meeting was furthering the spirit of true Christianity to a greater extent than are most of the ministers in church pulpits. The speaker's address was in the form of a short sermon on the advantages to be gained for workers in every line of endeavor by organization and coperation for better conditions.

Eighty members have been admitted o the federation since the last meeting, ringing the total number of members pto 350. In the opinion of officers of the union, the organization evinces the kelihood of becoming the strongest nion of labor in the city. Members are affitted as representatives of all lines 'unskilled labor and from trades and icupations not organized in labor. The meeting last night decided to did future meetings on the second and another terrific fight ensues, the result of which is that the man falls from the sale of unstinted applause.
