Mr. Smith, who was the first witness, stated that he had killed the animale early the same evening and had left them in the siaughterhouse without locking the door. But he had marked the lambs in a distinctive manner that they could be identified. Then after discovering his loss in the morning, he prepared to come to London in the morning where, later in the day, he had found two of the lambs at the Metropole Cafe on Richmond street. He knew that they were the right ones, is said, because of the marks upon them. So he went out and found Constable Alex. Shaver, who ascertained from the owner of the cafe the name of the man who had sold the two lambs.

So Carl Rossoni who is part owner of a combined meat and grocery store upon the corner of King and Ridout streets, was arrested and placed in the county jail.

Bought From Farmer.

Through the evidence given by several witnesses Rossoni's innocence in connection with the theft was confirmed, it was proved that the accused had purchased the four lambs from a farmer who came to Rossoni's store with the animals in a wagon the morning to officused, it was proved that the accused had purchased the four lambs from a farmer who came to Rossoni's store at 7:30 that morning to officused, it was proved that the accused had purchased the four lambs for $30, Rosson's store at 7:30 that morning to officused, it was proved that the accused had purchased the four lambs for $30, Rosson's store at 7:30 that morning to officused, it was proved that the accused had purchased the four lambs for $30, Rosson's store at 7:30 that morning to officused, it was proved that the accused had purchased the mark to the Apples, per bu. 100 to Califlower, per doz. 100 to Califlower, per bu. 100 to Califlower,

Chicago, Dec. 1.—Corn made a sharp ascent in price today, owing chiefly to the fact that offerings were light and that receipts were of comparatively small volume. The coal shortage and a decided jump in hog values counted likewise toward strengthening the corn market. Besides there were continued complaints of car scarcity.
